KILL PLAN TO TAX BUSINESS

CONGRESS RACES TO FINISH; ACTS ON 4 MUST BILLS

Roosevelt's Rail Aid Plans Shelved.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.] — Determined to adjourn congress not later than Wednesday night, senate and house leaders told President Roosevelt today that there was not a chance of passing any legislation at this session to expedite the reorganization of railroads.

With the railway reorganization legislation out the window, four must bills await final action before adjournment.

The first of the four is the $3,723,000,000 spending and lending pump priming bill, on which conferees reached an agreement today. The house of representatives will vote separately on senate amendments increasing the lending limit of the United States Housing authority from $500,000,000 to $800,000,000 and adding $212,000,000 for price adjustment subsidies for farmers.

WPA and PWA Sums Included.

The bill carries $1,425,000,000 for the Works Progress administration, for a period of eight months beginning July 1, and $965,000,000 for the Public Works administration, to be distributed to political subdivisions on a 55 per cent loan and 45 per cent grant basis for pump priming. It also authorizes the PWA to lend up to $400,000,000 from the proceeds of securities hypothecated under previous PWA loans.

The second must measure is the minimum wage and maximum hour bill, on which a conference agreement will be taken up in both the senate and the house tomorrow.

The bill establishes a nation-wide minimum wage of 25 cents the first year and 30 cents the second year for industries engaged in or affecting interstate commerce. It provides for industry boards, like the code authorities of the old NRA, which will have authority to recommend minimum wages in excess of 25 cents the first year and in excess of 30 cents thereafter toward a goal of 40 cents after seven years.

Provision Made for Exceptions.

An administrator in the department of labor may make exceptions to the 40 cent rate at the end of seven years if the evidence shows that it would not be economically feasible. A provision for the classification of industries would permit geographical differentials favoring the low wage paying south after seven years, but during the intermediate period minimum wages must apply to entire industries. Maximum hours will be 44 a week the first year, 42 the second, and 40 thereafter, subject to certain exceptions.

The third measure is the resolution creating a joint legislative and executive committee to study monopolies, with an appropriation of $500,000.

The fourth is the $279,414,000 second deficiency appropriation bill, which has been passed by the house and was reported by the senate appropriations committee today. This measure carries $35,000,000 to begin construction on two battleships and miscellaneous naval auxiliaries authorized by the new $1,156,000,000 naval expansion act.

Pass Civil Aeronautics Bill.

In a final burst of speed the senate today approved and sent to the White House conference agreements on a bill to establish a civil aeronautics authority, the $1,089,000,000 agriculture department appropriation bill, and a bill amending the merchant marine act of 1936.

The civil aeronautics bill establishes an independent five man authority to regulate all nonmilitary aviation just as the railroads are regulated by the interstate commerce commission. As passed by the senate, the bill would have permitted the President to remove a member of the authority at will, but the conference agreement, following the house provision, provides for definite six year terms, and the President may remove only for inefficiency, neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office.

The conference agreement, however, provides for an administrator, to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the senate, and there are no restrictions on the President's removal power with respect to this office.

The authority will regulate all

C. I. O. LEWIS SITS AS DICTATOR IN SPEAKER'S ROOM

Demands Passage of Contract Bill.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and several of his associates usurped the office of the speaker of the house of representatives today and during an amazing 75 minutes put the heat on members of congress in behalf of a C. I. O. sponsored bill.

Congressmen, summoned to the speaker's private office, were startled to see the C. I. O. czar instead of Speaker William B. Bankhead of Alabama. Members of the rules committee, which has the power to give any bill right of way, particularly were the subject of pressure. They were told firmly by Lewis that the Walsh-Healey government contract bill must be acted upon by congress before adjournment.

Sidetracked by Committee.

The bill was sidetracked by the house judiciary committee this morning by a vote of 12 to 11. In a fury, Lewis, who had been awaiting the outcome of the vote, hastened to Speaker Bankhead's office. He was accompanied by Lee Pressman, general counsel for the C. I. O., and Gardner Jackson, an executive of Labor's Nonpartisan league, dominated by Lewis.

Lewis told Speaker Bankhead that the action of the judiciary committee would have to be overruled. He insisted that the rules committee give the measure a special rule which would permit a vote upon it before congress quit Wednesday night. The bill passed the senate last week.

Rules Chairman Summoned.

The speaker summoned Chairman John J. O'Connor [D., N. Y.] of the rules committee, and to O'Connor the C. I. O. boss repeated his commands, intimating in unmistakable terms, according to reports, that his organization would avenge itself on any congressman who stood in the way of action.

The house meanwhile had opened its session at noon without the speaker in the chair for the first time in many months. Soon, however, Speaker Bankhead slipped away from his office, leaving Lewis in possession.

Thereupon Lewis coolly made the speaker's office his headquarters for an hour and a quarter of intensive lobbying. Members of the rules committee were told that they were wanted in the speaker's office. Hastening to obey this summons, they were brought before Lewis, who told them the Walsh-Healey measure must be passed.

Aids Lobby in Corridors.

Meanwhile, in the corridors outside, a dozen or more members of the executive board of the C. I. O., led by Richard Frankensteen, vice president of the United Automobile Workers, lobbied for the bill. Congressmen were seized by the lapels, pushed into corners, told about the action of the judiciary committee, and warned that something must be done to go over the heads of the committee.

Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.] of the rules committee was hurried into the speaker's office by Pressman. He came out a few minutes later, his face red with anger.

"Did you join up with the C. I. O.?" he was asked. Dies hurried away without replying.

Another Dragged Into Room.

Representative Lawrence Lewis [D., Colo.], another member of the rules committee, was almost literally dragged to the door of the speaker's office by C. I. O. Counsel Jackson.

"What's this all about?" he kept repeating, hanging back as Jackson pulled him along by the sleeve.

He also reappeared a few minutes later after the interview with Lewis.

"Nobody can put the heat on me," he sputtered.

Apparently satisfied with his campaign, Lewis slipped out a private door, evading reporters.

Another distinguished lobbyist for the bill appeared in the house lounge late in the afternoon. He was Attorney General Homer S. Cummings and he talked with Chairman Hatton W. Sumners [D., Tex.] of the judiciary

These Matches Shed Light on Tallapoosa

Until the 2,500 booklets of paper matches, ordered from a Chicago firm, reached him on March 23, G. L. Evers was a respected community pillar in Dadeville, Tallapoosa county, Ala. But now . . .

Mr. Evers feels that those matches made a bonfire of his reputation, and he is demanding $125,000 damages from the makers. The suit was filed in the Federal court yesterday by Attorney Irving Breakstone.

Mr. Evers' chances of being elected county tax collector looked good. He kept the general store and belonged to the Baptist church. He was a Democrat. Most important of all he was, like most of the Tallapoosa folk, an ardent prohibitionist.

What He Wanted.

It was to forward his candidacy that he purchased the matches through Owen E. Blair, agent for the Advance Match and Printing corporation, 814 North Sacramento boulevard. He specified [his petition said so] that the outside of the cover should bear his name and his recommendation of himself as "honest and able"; the inside was to have the simple notation that he had paid for the advertising matter.

The day the matches arrived there was a great political rally in Dadeville. Having swiftly examined the outside of one packet, Mr. Evers hied himself to the meeting and started passing out the booklets, which were gratefully accepted.

A wave of good feeling rose about him. Then it receded. He expressed the tragedy thus: "Gradually those staunch voters of Tallapoosa county had occasion to open their booklets to light their cheroots. But as each did so the booklet was indignantly closed and concealed from the eyes of womenfolk or younger persons, that they might not see what was printed on the inside."

The Belated Discovery.

Already a thousand booklets were in circulation when Mr. Evers looked inside one. His message wasn't there. Instead he beheld a "ribald and obscene cartoon" of a small boy by a stream. And, to make things worse, under it was the printed advice:

"DON'T DRINK WATER DRINK BEER!"

The other candidates condemned him for the cartoon and church groups met to protest against his urging dry Tallapoosans to swill beer. The result, so he claims, was that he ran a bad third in the race for county collector.

ROGERS ALTERS ADVICE TO GRADS; SAYS 'GET ON PUBLIC PAY ROLL'

Kingston, R. I., June 13.—[Special.]—Prof. Robert E. Rogers of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who once advised college men to solve their economic difficulties by marrying the boss' daughter, today told 218 graduates and other students at Rhode Island college: "Your most secure and profitable career in the future will be on the public pay roll, supported by the rest of the population. It is only another kind of a dole, but you won't mind that."

MR. PICKLE'S IN A PICKLE AND A HERO NO MORE

Lloyd George Pickle, 29 years old, had almost convinced his landlord, E. Freelander, operator of a rooming house at 5448 Lakewood avenue, and Policeman Thomas McGreevey and Thomas Cleary. Then they noticed that the back of his shirt was bloody.

On Sunday night Pickle said he was struck on the nose and knocked unconscious when he tried to stop a burglar who took $75 from Freelander and looted other rooms of jewelry. Last night Mr. Pickle admitted that he and a pal had been the burglars, but his accomplice, whose name he did not know, doublecrossed him.

The accomplice gave Mr. Pickle a bloody nose, took the loot, and fled. Lloyd George wanted to add more realism. In splashing blood on his shirt, however, he forgot that the evidence of a wounded nose would appear on the front of the shirt.

London Hears Kennedy Will Quit as Envoy

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 13.—Joseph P. Kennedy is going to quit as United States ambassador to London, a post he has held only three months, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express will say tomorrow morning.

Ambassador Kennedy wants to quit his job with a blaze of glory and for that reason he is arranging a settlement of the British debt to the United States, the Express says.

His visits today with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, were to put the finishing touches to the scheme, it was said. He is expected to see Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, tomorrow.

Will Report to Roosevelt.

Kennedy has been working on a plan to settle the British war debt since he came to London, the Express says, and adds that he will report to President Roosevelt on his plan as soon as he arrives in Washington, D. C. The ambassador will leave London Wednesday for the United States.

The Express revelations came as news to American circles in London. It was known that Kennedy was reporting on the various European problems to President Roosevelt, but no inkling had been given that the main purpose of his return home was to recommend the debt settlement plan.

This activity comes at a time when negotiations for a new trade treaty have all but broken down over tarif disagreements.

Just at Paying Time.

The report that Kennedy is rushing home to arrange the debt settlement comes two days before the June 15 installment on the debts is due. Great Britain as well as France and other European countries, with the exception of Finland, will send the usual notes to Washington that day, saying they are unable to pay.

To date Great Britain has paid only $2,080,000,000 of the war debt out of an originally agreed total of $4,600,000,000. In 1932 Britain suspended the half yearly payments and made "token" payments of about $17,500,000 until June, 1933. She has paid nothing since then.

Jurors Order Surety to Pay Huge Shortage

After listening to more than three weeks of testimony and arguments, it required less than five hours yesterday for a jury in Judge Daniel P. Trude's court to grant the county's demands for $269,126 from the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, surety for the late Robert M. Sweitzer.

The shortages that the jury held the bonding company must repay are those that occurred in the last three of Sweitzer's six terms as county clerk. It awarded the county $100,000 for Sweitzer's fourth term, from 1922 to 1926; $76,328.82 for his fifth term, and $92,802.73 for his sixth term.

Company's Liability Limited.

The county, represented by Assistant State's Attorney Jacob Shamberg, had claimed a shortage of $217,905 in the fourth term, but had not sued for that amount since the company's liability is limited to the amount of its bond, $100,000 in any one term.

The total Sweitzer shortage over his six terms was placed by the auditors at $533,817, but the statute of limitations and other technical considerations had cut the amount sought from the bonding company.

Attorney Shamberg, during the weeks of the trial, introduced thousands of records and presented testimony of many manipulations of county funds by Sweitzer, in some of which county money was traced into Sweitzer's own bank accounts. County Clerk Michael Flynn testified to three items totaling $341,000 included in a statement of finances handed to him by Sweitzer when he took over the office, none of which could be linked up with any existing bank accounts.

Denies Mishandling of Funds.

Attorney Egbert Robertson for the guaranty company, although he called no witnesses to refute the county's claims, denied in his closing statement that Sweitzer had mishandled the moneys entrusted to him during his 24 years in office. County testimony about a $200,000 check, part of the $341,000 referred to by County Clerk Flynn, came in especially for his criticism. The check could not be found to offer as evidence.

The county's counsel had contended that the $200,000 was taken from the county treasurer's fund, transferred to the county clerk's fund, and then converted by Sweitzer to his own use.

276 Claimants Against Fund.

The present total liability of the tax redemption fund, from which Sweitzer diverted most of the money, is $596,155. There are 276 claimants.

Claimants who seek more than $5,000 from the fund include the city of Chicago, $320,264; the town of Des Plaines, $26,228; village of Niles Center, $25,290; Berwyn, $23,800; Calumet City, $19,994; Chicago Park district, $17,000; Stickney, $10,057; Melrose Park, $9,796; Cicero, $8,924, and Forest Park, $6,600.

Clerk Flynn now has $254,840 in the fund. When the bonding company pays in the $269,126 awarded yesterday, there will be $523,966 in the fund to meet the $596,155 of claims.

PROTESTS OVER BURDEN OF DOLE SIDETRACK BILL

Leaders Confer, Find Votes Lacking.

BY PARKE BROWN.

The bill pending before the Illinois legislature which would authorize cities, villages, and incorporated towns to license or tax businesses and occupations for relief financing is to be killed today.

This was decided yesterday at a conference between Mayor Kelly and Democratic leaders of both houses of the general assembly and attorneys who have worked on the bill. The bill will be withdrawn from the house committee on revenue where it has been slumbering a week. It will be placed on file.

Horner Action Kills Measure.

It was said to be the unanimous opinion of the conferees that any chance the bill had for passage was killed when Gov. Horner announced in a typewritten statement that he was not fostering the measure. Until that statement was issued last Tuesday the impression was general in Springfield that the bill would receive the support of both Gov. Horner and Mayor Kelly and that Gov. Horner had aided in outlining its provisions.

Representatives of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, Chicago Association of Commerce, Illinois Chamber of Commerce, and other organizations whose members might have been affected by the passage of the bill and subsequent city and village ordinances had planned to be in Springfield this afternoon to protest against this form of relief legislation.

Conference Is Gloomy.

The conference in the mayor's office was a gloomy one if impressions gathered through a doorway from the outer office were correct.

Mayor Kelly's comments after the conference was brief. "When the bill was introduced," he said, "it was with the understanding that it would receive united Democratic support. It was an agreed bill. Developments, however, have shown that it would not receive the support required for passage. Therefore it will be withdrawn."

Mayor Kelly said he did not know of any substitute bill.

"We have exhausted every proposal and suggestion that has been made to us," he said. "Now the problem is just where it was before this bill was introduced."

He was asked whether the conference had taken any positior in reference to the bill introduced by Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski, Horner floor leader, to permit cities to double their township pauper tax.

Opposed to Pauper Tax.

"So far as I'm concerned," the mayor answered, "I am opposed to it. It would raise the tax to 60 cents and the old rate for all state purposes when it was at its highest was only 56 cents. Real estate just can't stand any increased tax burden."

The legislators who sat in with the mayor were Senator George M. Maypole, president pro tempore of the upper house; Senator Harold G. Ward, who is considered the Kelly spokesman in Springfield; Representative James P. Boyle, chairman of the house appropriations committee, and Representative Richard J. Daley, one of the younger leaders in the house. The lawyers who took part were Joseph F. Grossman, first assistant corporation counsel, who drafted the bill, and William H. Sexton, former corporation counsel, who has been acting as the administration's legal representative at Springfield.

STATE CAN PAY RELIEF

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—[Special.]—Tying together several hitherto isolated suggestions for a solution of the relief problems, John C. Martin, state treasurer and chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, today presented a four point program for the legislature's consideration.

Martin, who is one of the Democratic nominees for congressman at large, sponsored:

1. Immediate appropriation of an additional $500,000 monthly, which would bring the state's contribution to $3,900,000.

2. Legislative permission to all governmental units responsible for relief to spread an additional three mill tax for the next two years, to meet unpaid relief indebtedness or for additional relief.

3. Power to Chicago to allocate to relief the unhypothecated part of the regular motor fuel allotments from the state and Cook county, which amounts, the treasurer said, to about $650,000 monthly.

4. Legislation to continue the township supervisor setup of relief administration and also vest the IERC with supervisory powers over the disbursement of all state and federal funds.

Point two already is covered by a bill introduced in the current special session last week by Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski [D., Chicago], house majority leader, who said it appealed to him as the only sure method of raising the necessary funds. Mayor Edward J. Kelly opposed the proposal prior to introduction of the Adamowski bill, insisting that real estate should not bear more tax load than it is carrying.

Point four has been the subject of discussion since the session began and bills to accomplish its aims are expected to be presented this week. Point three has also been suggested.

Expect Horner's Refusal.

Should all of the Martin plan materialize in bills the section proposing increased contribution by the state will, it is expected, be opposed by Gov. Henry Horner. The executive recommended an increase of $500,000 a month for relief from general revenue, which the legislature adopted last month, and his fiscal advisers since have maintained that that is as far as the state can go. Martin has come to an opposite conclusion.

Tomorrow Finance Director Sam Nudelman will appear before the house to give a reply to the contention of Elmer J. Schnackenberg of Chicago, Republican minority leader, that there is about 11 million dollars available that could be appropriated for relief.

The senate is scheduled to consider the state school board bill.

MORE JOBS, LESS SPENDING KEY TO RECOVERY: GREEN

Some means must be found for private industry to absorb the unemployed and bring a halt to federal spending if prosperity in this country is to be restored, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said yesterday.

He spoke before the 18th annual convention of the pattern makers' union in the Stevens hotel. After the speech he had several conferences with labor leaders and then boarded an evening train for Washington.

"The buying power of this country is frozen," Green said. "No country in the world has such trained and skilled workmen. Crops are good. We have markets capable of handling all the goods industry produces, and yet eleven or twelve million men and women are idle.

"A remedy must be found and applied so that the idle will be absorbed be high, so that the workers can buy in private industry. Wages must freely."

WEST POINTERS TO TELL SCHOOL FAREWELL TODAY

West Point, N. Y., June 13.—[Special.]—The 301 members of the graduating class at the United States Military academy were engaging in a last round of activity today as they made ready to bid farewell to the school at commencement exercises tomorrow morning. The day started with a communion service in the chapel, followed by exercises at the monument that honors Gen. Sylvanus Thayer, who was superintendent of the academy from 1817 to 1833. Then followed the alumni review and luncheon and meeting of the association of graduates. In the afternoon the annual graduation parade and "recognition" of the plebe class was held, with the graduation ball tonight. June week will close tomorrow with commencement.

MEDICAL SOCIETY ASKS CHICAGOAN FOR HOSPITAL JOB

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, received a letter yesterday from the Chicago Medical society, asking that a Chicago man be considered for the vacant wardenship of the County hospital.

Mr. Smith forwarded the letter to D. F. Kelly, chairman of the citizens' advisory committee which has been engaged for six months in seeking a candidate for the vacancy, with the suggestion that the committee give a hearing to members of the society. Mr. Kelly said this would be done.

Through the committee, President Smith and Commissioner Frank Bobrytzke, chairman of the board's hospital committee, have already reached a tentative understanding with Dr. Benjamin W. Black of Oakland, Cal., regarding the position.

Government Silver Vault at West Point Completed

West Point, N. Y., June 13.—(AP)—The $529,000 concrete box on the United States military academy reservation that is the government's new silver depository was completed today when Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, made a two hour inspection tour. She affixed a plaque at the entrance. The vault is 252 feet long, 166 feet wide and 22 feet high. A shipment of 70,000 tons of silver is to be started for the depository this month from government vaults in San Francisco, Denver, and Philadelphia.

C. I. O. LEWIS SITS AS DICTATOR IN SPEAKER'S ROOM

Demands Congress Pass Contract Bill.

committee for an hour, apparently striving to have the committee reconsider its action. Sumners would not say whether the talk had had any effect.

The measure in dispute has become familiarly known as the "blacklist" bill. It would permit the blacklisting of employers who refuse to obey the orders of the National Labor Relations board. Every employer who appealed from a labor board ruling to the courts would be eligible for the blacklist.

The measure also extends the law regarding government contracts to shipbuilding, thereby strengthening the C. I. O. It also permits the check-off system of paying union dues which is favored by Lewis. It gives governmental sanction to the system by which union dues are deducted from wages of workers by employers and turned over to the union.

It provides that deductions cannot be made from the minimum wages imposed upon government contractors by the secretary of labor except deductions authorized by collective bargaining. Thus, an employer could agree to the check-off system without paying more than the minimum wage.

The bill imposes minimum wages and maximum hours upon industries supplying government contracts in excess of $2,000. At present only employers with contracts in excess of $10,000 are affected. Sponsors of the legislation estimate that it would touch 80 per cent of all American industry. At present, according to estimates, it covers only about 3 per cent of the number of supply contracts and only 15 per cent of their total value.

Judiciary Committee Report.

The position of the members of the judiciary committee opposing the bill was made clear in a strong report.

"We doubt the propriety of this legislative repeal of the fifth amendment," the report stated. "As old fashioned as it may be, we have not yet come to approve double jeopardy. This bill would legalize double jeopardy. Two punishments are prescribed for one alleged offense.

"The procurement division of the treasury department is required to distribute a 'blacklist' containing the names of all persons heretofore or hereafter disagreeing with any order directed to them by the National Labor Relations board, and no blacklisted contractor shall be awarded any federal government supply contracts for three years. The National Labor Relations act carries its own enforcement provisions and any offender is punishable for contempt in refusing to obey court orders.

Merits of Dispute Ignored.

"Under the pending bill no government contract can be awarded to any person, firm, or corporation daring to disagree with an order of the National Labor Relations board unless the secretary of labor, who is given plenary power, recommends such clemency.

"It is immaterial that an employer may honestly differ from the National Labor Relations board in a pending case involving a bona fide controversy and is unwilling to abide by an order before he has had the semblance of his day in court as provided by the National Labor Relations act. No matter how honest and sincere he may be in believing the order wrong, he must obey or be blacklisted.

"Such disobedience may have occurred before this bill was ever introduced, yet, by its mandate, he must go on the blacklist. His business and personal reputation may be destroyed, and certainly his employés will suffer.

"The obvious purpose of the 'blacklist' provision is to compel immediate and unquestioning compliance with the orders of the National Labor Relations board. That board itself should condemn such coercion.

Board's Mistakes Acknowledged.

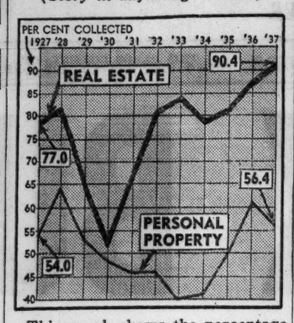
"Is that board infallible? That it has made mistakes is evident from the fact that applications have been made by its representatives in pending cases to reopen and review previous findings. Are the provisions of the National Labor Relations act ineffective? We think not; but, if so, that act should be amended, and the pending bill should not be used as a subterfuge nor a bludgeon.

"It is flagrant departure from democratic principles to give any single public official, much less one not responsible to the people, the right to blacklist citizens.

"Blacklisting has no fears for the unfair and dishonest employer, but the threat of it will drive away reputable employers and reduce the competition so essential to fair prices in government purchases."

Tax Payments

(Story in adjoining column.)



This graph shows the percentage of Chicago real estate and personal property taxes paid on the first instalment penalty date since 1927. Beginning with the 1931 levy, general but not personal property taxes have been payable in two equal instalments. The graph indicates the percentage of the first instalment paid. Collections on the whole levy are always somewhat lower than first instalment payments because many small property owners pay both instalments at that time.

C. I. O. AUTO CHIEF OUSTS FIVE AIDS, THEN 6 WALK OUT

Union Board Is Split Wide Open.

Washington, D. C., June 13.—(AP)—The international board of the United Automobile Workers split wide open tonight after President Homer Martin suspended five board members on the ground they were disturbing union harmony.

Richard Frankensteen. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Six other members walked out of a board meeting when the action was announced, and Martin warned them that they also were laying themselves open to suspension.

Since the board consists of 24 members it apparently was divided about in half. Today's developments were the culmination of a long factional dispute in the union, one of the biggest affiliates of the C. I. O.

Says Harmony Program Rejected.

Martin charged that the suspended officers had repudiated a 20-point program for harmony which the board approved unanimously less than a month ago.

The suspended unionists immediately replied that Martin's action amounted to a declaration of war and predicted that it would divide the rank and file badly.

The board members suspended and ordered to face trial before the board, probably within a week, were Vice Presidents Richard T. Frankensteen, Wyndham Mortimer, Ed Hall, and Walter N. Wells, and Secretary-Treasurer George Addess. Martin appointed Delmont Garst acting secretary-treasurer.

Hits Alien Dictatorships.

The six who walked out were Ellsworth Cramer, Tracy M. Doll, Paul Miley, Richard Reisinger, Leo Lamotte, and Walter Reuther.

Martin told reporters that nobody was being kicked out because of any political affiliation but that he did not intend to see the auto union used as a tool to assist or comfort any alien dictatorships.

The communist element in the union, he said, was an insignificant group, but added that its members have influenced some unthinking people.

Martin declared there would be no more wild cat sit down strikes in the auto industry.

NO PEDIGREE, SO DOG'S VALUE IS LIMITED TO $100

Buddy, a Hungarian shepherd dog, had an almost human faculty of sensing danger and doing all within his canine power to protect his owner, Mrs. Laura Rice, from harm, Judge Edward B. Casey admitted yesterday. But because she could not produce a pedigree for Buddy the court ruled that his cash value was $100 instead of the $250 she claimed.

He entered a judgment for his cash value against the Rock Island railroad. Mrs. Rice, who lives at 4426 Sheridan road, had testified that when she was returning by railway from Ottawa last July 5 Buddy leaped from the baggage car. He was found dead the next day on a highway, apparently killed by an automobile.

CHICAGO REALTY TAX PAYMENTS SET HIGH RECORD

90.4% of 1st Instalment Received by Deadline.

County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer announced yesterday that 90.4 per cent of the first instalment of 1937 realty taxes had been paid by Chicago railroads and real estate owners. This was the best record in a dozen years.

The treasurer's staf completed tabulation yesterday on all except 26,000 of the mail payments received before the June 1 penalty date. Tabulation is expected to be completed tomorrow.

$58,002,000 Estimated Payment.

Payments within the city of Chicago, from real estate and railroads, will total $58,002,000, it was estimated. Taxes extended against these properties are $128,200,795, but only half that amount was due June 1. The second instalment is payable Nov. 1. Last year 87.8 per cent of the first instalment of 1936 taxes was paid on the first penalty date. That was the best payment record since the double instalment system was instituted with the 1931 tax levy.

Personal property tax payments, it was apparent yesterday, will not equal the record payment last year on the penalty date for 1936 taxes. Last year 61.5 per cent of the personalty taxes, which fell due in a single instalment, were paid at the penalty date. That was the best record since the 1928 levy, collected in 1930.

Payments of 1937 personalty taxes within the city will total $29,784,000, it is estimated. This is 56.4 per cent of the extension of $52,864,524.

Includes Intangibles Bills.

The 1937 bills are the first including valuations on stocks and bonds which Assessor John S. Clark put on the assessment rolls through information gained from federal income tax returns.

These assessments on intangibles produced a large number of objections before the board of tax appeals, particularly from utility holding companies with headquarters in Chicago, which objected that their securities were not taxable. It is expected that such of these objections as were not allowed by the board of tax appeals will be carried into the courts, for the purpose of testing the new assessment procedure.

The intent of large taxpayers to object to personal property taxes in the County court would account for the slump in payments on this class of property. Real estate owners who intend to object usually pay the major part of their tax and protest the remainder, but protested personal property taxes are, as a rule, withheld in full.

Number of Payments Larger.

The number of individual tax bills paid also increased this year over the 1936 payments last year. Including payment still to be tabulated, it is estimated that 487,500 real estate bills were paid, as against 469,630 up to the first penalty date last year, and 42,500 personal property bills, as against 39,007 last year.

Information is now available only on tax collections within the city of Chicago, made by the county treasurer. In the country towns, township collectors have two weeks after the penalty date in which to complete their collections before turning the money into the treasurer.

It is unlikely that the high percentage of real estate tax payments will be maintained when the second instalment collections are completed this fall, because a number of small property owners still pay both instalments at the first deadline. Last year 87.8 per cent of the first instalment of real estate and railroad taxes was paid at the first penalty date, but due to smaller payments on the second instalment date, only 83 per cent of the total has been paid to date.

charges for air transportation and will fix rates of compensation for the transportation of mail over routes determined by the postmaster general.

Cotton Subsidies Made Available.

The agriculture appropriation bill makes immediately available $130,000,000 in subsidies to cotton farmers on their 1937 crop. The senate and house also passed a bill directing the secretary of agriculture, who administers the new farm dictatorship act, to fix the 1939 national wheat acreage allotment at not less than 55,000,000 acres.

The merchant marine bill liberalizes the ship subsidy provisions of the 1936 act. It authorizes the federal maritime commission to pay operating subsidies equivalent to the difference between the domestic and foreign cost of labor and supplies and to pay construction subsidies up to 50 per cent of the construction cost. It creates a federal maritime labor board to conciliate disputes, but there is no requirement for compulsory mediation or arbitration.

The bill also establishes a federal ship mortgage insurance system, under which the government will insure mortgages for the construction or rehabilitation of vessels, just as the Federal Housing administration insures mortgages on homes.

Food and Drug Bill Passed.

The house today passed and sent to the White House a conference agreement on the Copeland food and drug bill, which makes it unlawful to adulterate or misbrand any food, drug, cosmetic, or therapeutic device. It provides penalties of not more than one year in jail and a $1,000 fine for violations, and if the adulteration or misbranding is done with intent to defraud or mislead, the penalties may be as high as three years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

The bill permits the secretary of agriculture to proceed against, by libel action, any food, drug, cosmetic, or device that is adulterated or misbranded. The secretary or any officer or employé under him may make wholesale seizures, without a hearing, if he has probable cause to believe that any misbranded article is dangerous to health or that the labeling is fraudulent. All orders of the secretary are reviewable by the Circuit Courts of Appeals.

Roosevelt Decision Too Late.

Congressional leaders told Mr. Roosevelt at the regular Monday White House conference today that it would be impossible to pass legislation amending section 77 of the bankruptcy act to facilitate and expedite the reorganization of railroads, for the purpose of reducing their fixed charges, without postponing the adjournment date indefinitly.

Mr. Roosevelt last Friday suddenly decided that he wanted congress to stay in session long enough to pass such legislation. But he was told at the White House conference, attended by Vice President Garner, Speaker of the House William B. Bankhead, House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn, and Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, that his decision came too late.

Agree on Two Measures.

The leaders agreed, however, to put through two noncontroversial railroad measures before adjournment. One of these will permit the Reconstruction Finance corporation to make loans to railroads for equipment and improvements without certification from the interstate commerce commission as to whether they should go through reorganization.

The other bill, passed by the house and reported by the senate interstate commerce committee today, would establish a special unemployment insurance system for railroad workers. The railway brotherhoods withdrew their objections to the RFC loan bill in return for an agreement to pass the unemployment compensation bill.

As a matter of fact, only a few of the railroads have any interest in the RFC loan bill, but it is being actively pushed by RFC Chairman Jesse H. Jones. The measure would increase Jones' power by giving him, as chairman of the RFC, a voice in the reorganization of any railroad borrowing money from that organization. For that reason, there have been objections to the legislation from some railroad security holders, who fear their interests would be subordinated to that of the RFC.

Twofold Levies Provided.

The Crosser bill, passed by the house today, provides for a system of unemployment insurance for the same railroad employés covered by the railroad retirement act of 1937. At present these employés are coverad by the various state unemployment compensation laws, passed in pursuance of the federal social security act. The federal government allows a credit of 90 per cent for taxes paid under state unemployment insurance acts, and with the remaining 10 per cent pays for the state administration costs.

The Crosser bill levies upon both employers and employés a tax of 3 per cent of the first $300 of the monthly compensation payable to any employé.

Proponents of the legislation say it is necessary because railroad workers are not susceptible of treatment by the various state plans, since a large proportion of the workers perform services in more than one state.

WALLACE DENIES ANY FARM LAW DISCUSSION WITH GOMER SMITH

Washington, D. C., June 13.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace said in a formal statement today that he "never had met" nor discussed the 1938 farm law with Representative Gomer Smith, rival of Senator Elmer Thomas for Oklahoma's Democrati csenatorial nomination.

This statement, handed newsmen by one of President Roosevelt's official family, was interpreted by politicians as new evidence of administration interest in the outcome of state senatorial primaries.

Capitol hill generally has understood that the White House favored Thomas' candidacy for renomination and reëlection. President Roosevelt himself will go through Oklahoma on a cross-country trip beginning July 7.

Wallace said Smith had made statements in Oklahoma "to the effect that he had conferred with me about the agricultural bill of 1938."

"I have had no discussions with him about this bill or any other matter," the secretary added.

LYON & HEALY WILL RECOVER $18,000 VIOLIN

Jacob I. Grossman, federal master in chancery, yesterday recommended that a Stradivarius violin 200 years old and once used by L. Ernest Walker Jr., member of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, be sold to the former owners, Lyon & Healy, for $7,800. The price represents the company's original bid on the instrument, which was ordered sold after Walker's mother, Mrs. L. E. Walker, failed to keep up payments. The original price was $18,000 and Mrs. Walker had paid $14,000.

ROOSEVELT PLAN FOR DEVIL HUNT STIRS CONGRESS

Political Ballyhoo Aim of Business Quiz.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Reports that President Roosevelt is planning a new devil hunt among big business men to make Democratic political capital for the approaching congressional elections are at the bottom of the current dissension in congress over the monopoly investigation.

The measure as passed by the senate would give the President $400,000 without strings for pursuit of the inquiry in any direction he sees fit. With the resolution scheduled for consideration in the house tomorrow the smoldering fires of protest burst into flame today. Representative Bruce Barton [R., N. Y.] denounced it as a dishonest measure that should be called a bill for increasing unemployment.

"The facts," said Mr. Barton, "which it proposes to uncover already are well known by the Federal Trade commission and the securities and exchange commission. They are well known to all business men. The investigation is purely political and designed to influence the fall campaign.

Sinister Interpretation.

"Prominent business men will be dragged before a drum-head court; headlines will be filled with well known names; situations and practices that are entirely legal and fully understood will be given a sinister interpretation. The whole purpose is to divert the attention of the people from the mistakes of government and try to make them believe that business is the 'Ol' Devil' responsible for the depression and the loss of jobs.

"This would not be so serious if it affected the big men of business alone. Abuse has made their hides tough. But the effect will be to cause more upheaval and uncertainty and throw more people out of work.

"There are signs that the show will not go so well this time. The customers are growing tired. Ballyhoo is fun for a while, but you can't eat ballyhoo. The middle classes are ready for revolt. The little business man wants business. The unemployed want jobs."

Asks for $500,000 Fund.

The President originally in a special message proposed an investigation of monopolies and concentration of economic power and suggested an appropriation of not less than $500,000 for the purpose. He wanted the investigation conducted not by congress but by the department of justice, the securities and exchange commission and the trade commission.

At once it was objected that to commit the investigation to these agencies would place it in the control of the President and beyond the control of congress and would deprive it of any aspect of a congressional approach to remedial legislation. From such objection a compromise evolved.

The resolution introduced in the senate by Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] provided for a committee composed of three senators, three representatives, and representatives of five executive departments and commissions.

Try to Limit Spending.

To this limit on executive control of the investigation the senate judiciary committee added a string on the expenditure of the fund authorized for the expenses. The committee proposed to allot $100,000 outright to the investigating body and to make available an additional $400,000 to be expended by the executive agencies at the direction of the President, but only upon application by the investigating committee. This was proposed to prevent the committee from indulging in a fishing expedition where it had no facts.

This proposed amendment was wholly unsatisfactory to the administration and the administration senators rallied against it in such numbers that it was defeated. As the resolution was passed by the senate it authorized expenditure of the $400,000 by the President without any strings.

Senator Warren E. Austen [R., Vt.], a member of the judiciary committee, argued that removal of the purse string would enable the President to carry into effect the sort of investigation he originally proposed.

"He recommended," said the senator, "an investigation by the departments which have a predilection; departments which already are biased and prejudiced; departments whose men come before us in the committees considering such bills as the O'Mahoney-Borah bill and take an extreme position, one that is well calculated to frighten business and to deter recovery.

Afraid of Jackson.

"The President wanted an investigation by such men as Jackson [Robert H. Jackson, solicitor general], whose position on the stump of the country was enough to alarm anybody who had any money to invest.

"We are not trying to create an inquisitorial body to be effective through the prosecutory powers of our government. We are trying to create an inquiry that is legislative in character and objective."

House to Act Next.

As thus modified to suit the administration the resolution was passed by the senate. The issues will be threshed out again in the house tomorrow when a similar resolution for investigation of monopolies will be considered under a special rule voted by the rules committee today.

The suspicions of political use of the monopoly investigation fund are being aired by the Republicans concurrently with their denunciation of the prostitution of relief to political purposes.

WISCONSIN GIRL MISSING FROM VASSAR FOUND

Wausau, Wis., June 13.—[Special.]—Jane Grant Ford, 19 years old, who disappeared from Vassar college at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., six days ago, has been found at Allentown, Pa., her father, Grant Ford, Wausau utilities engineer, disclosed today.

The girl was recognized when she went to the police station in Allentown, 100 miles from Poughkeepsie, to apply for lodging last night, according to Police Chief Walter English of Wausau.

After talking with his daughter by telephone, Mr. Ford announced she will return to Wausau. He said she told him she started on a bicycle trip to St. Louis.

LONDON, June 13.—The duchess of Norfolk and her baby daughter, born yesterday at a London hospital, were both reported in excellent condition today by attending physicians. The duchess, who is 22 years old, is the wife of the duke of Norfolk, premier duke and earl of England, who managed the coronation of King George and Queen Elizabeth.

HUNT SKIPPER OF GHOST SHIP IN LAKE MYSTERY

Find Sloop Deserted Far from Shore.

Like the Flying Dutchman—Hendrik Hudson's full rigged ship which many an old tar thought he saw sailing before a ghostly moon—the Scot Dot gave Chicago policemen and coast guardsmen a baffling lake mystery yesterday. And solution of the mystery may disclose details of a tragedy.

At 8 o'clock Sunday night, Earl Grover, 6929 Stewart avenue, a Commonwealth Edison company official, and his two sons were setting a course for home in their cabin cruiser Loveta.

A mile northeast of Belmont harbor, they saw etched against the rays of the setting sun a little 20 foot sloop, her sails set and her auxiliary engine running. But what attracted their attention was the lumbering movement of the boat.

Runs Erratic Course.

As they drew near, they saw the ship was careening crazily in the light breeze, her sails flapping. As the tiller swung to and fro the engine drove the tiny craft in circles. Drawing closer, the Grovers saw that no one was aboard.

One of Grover's sons boarded the craft. Her deck was painted a fresh green. Paint brushes lay in the cockpit, but no paint pot was visible. In a corner of the cockpit was a brown and gray sport jacket and in the cabin was a pair of swimming trunks.

Capt. Henry Michiels, the harbor master, and Park Policeman Robert J. Gaupp learned that the boat, called the Scot Dot, belonged to J. Scott Sheffer, 24 years old, a commercial artist living in Canterbury House, 61 Cedar street, son of Glen C. Sheffer, an art teacher.

Wife Visiting in Iowa.

Sheffer, who had named the boat for himself and his wife, Dorothy, could not be found. Mrs. Sheffer and their son, 3 months old, were at her parents' home in Dubuque, Ia.

On Sunday Sheffer had joined two friends, Sebastian Messcher, a food broker, of the De Witt hotel, 244 East Pearson street, and J. G. Dewey, 5715 Kenmore avenue. Messcher planned to buy the sloop, and the three were going to redecorate it.

About 4 o'clock Messcher went home. Dewey left later, about 6:30. At that time Sheffer said he would finish the paint job in about half an hour.

Messcher and Dewey identified the sport jacket as Sheffer's. Both said he was a strong, husky man, and an excellent swimmer.

GIRL, 11, INVITES MRS. ROOSEVELT FOR THE SUMMER

A letter postmarked from the White House arrived yesterday morning at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Rissinger, 427 East Deerpath road, Lake Forest. It caused some speculation on the part of the Rissingers because it was addressed to Soleta Mae, their daughter, who is 11 years old.

When Soleta Mae came home from school she was given the letter and took it into her room to read.

In a moment there was a sob from the child's room. The mystified parents went in, to be greeted with the wail:

"She can't come! She can't come."

The parents asked who couldn't come.

"Why, Mrs. Roosevelt," answered Soleta Mae solemnly. "She can't come. I asked her to spend the summer, and now her secretary says she's made other plans."

How to Display Flag

(Story in adjoining column.)

These drawings show the correct way to display the American flag.

When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall the union should be uppermost and to the observer's left.

When displayed over the middle of the street the flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north or east.

When projecting horizontally from a staf the union should go clear to the peak of the staf (unless the flag is to be displayed at half-staf).

$20,000 AWARDED UNDER DRAM SHOP ACT FOR INJURIES

Mrs. Frances W. Pingrey, who obtained an award of $25,000 damages a year ago last May from Mrs. Marion Howland, 6431 North California avenue, for injuries in an automobile accident, yesterday was awarded $20,000 under the dram shop act from four other persons for the same accident.

The verdict, against Jacob Smith and Sam Drell, who formerly operated a tavern at 3401 Church street, Niles Center; John Burzick, bartender there, and Eugene Swenson, who owned the property, was given by a jury before Judge Roman Posanski of Calumet City, sitting in Circuit court here. Mrs. Pingrey is 55 years old and lives at 4524 Malden street.

NATION HONORS 161ST BIRTHDAY OF FLAG TODAY

Mark Anniversary of Emblem's Adoption.

"Show your Colors!"

In response to this rallying cry, Chicago and the rest of the nation today will blossom out in a display of millions upon millions of American flags. For today is Flag day, the 61st anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the symbol of a young republic.

More than 10,000 school children will gather in Stanton park at 2:30 p. m. for ceremonies sponsored by the Chicago Park district. Speakers will include Mayor Kelly, State Senator William J. Connors and Guy B. Woodson, commander of the Harold A. Taylor post, American Legion.

Armstrong to Speak.

Paul G. Armstrong, national executive committeeman of the American Legion, will speak at Flag day services to be held at 8:30 p. m. tonight in the hall of Chicago lodge No. 4, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Other lodges, American Legion posts, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, United Spanish War Veterans, and Disabled American Veterans of the world war also will hold ceremonies.

A monument to Abraham Lincoln will be dedicated and presented to the state of Illinois at 2 p. m. in Lawrence county, at the Illinois end of the Lincoln Memorial bridge, by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Flag Society Plans Program.

The American Flag society program will be held at 2 p. m. in Lincoln park. A radio program dealing with the American flag and the Chicago city flag will be broadcast at 4 p. m. over WENR under auspices of the Chicago Historical society.

War department rules for properly displaying the American flag follow:

The flag should be displayed from 8 a. m. to sunset, or to 8 p. m. if sunset is later.

When displayed with other flags, except those of other nations, it should be in the center and higher than any other. It should also be the largest.

Relative Positions of Flags.

When displayed against a wall with flags of other nations the American flag should be to the observer's left or, when being carried, as in a parade, it may be in the center and in front. All the flags should be the same size.

When displayed from a pole extending from a building the union, or blue field, should be at the end of the pole away from the building. When displayed over the middle of a street the union should be to the north in an east-west street; to the east in a north-south street.

When displayed other than by being flown from a staf, the flag should be flat, whether indoors or out. The union should always be uppermost and to the observer's left.

OPEN EIGHTH AIR LINE SERVICE TO AND FROM CHICAGO TOMORROW

The eighth commercial air transport corporation to offer service to Chicagoans will commence flying regular schedules from this city to Grand Rapids, Mich., tomorrow morning when Pennsylvania-Central Airlines begins operations under a new contract recently granted by the post-office department.

The new service will be an extension of the company's route from Milwaukee to Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington, and Norfolk, W. Va. Two daily round trips will be made, with arrivals and departures in both morning and afternoon. These four new trips will bring to 67 the daily scheduled landings and take-offs from Chicago field, making it the world's busiest airport.

The company will fly ten passenger Boeing 247D airplanes with 550 horse power Wasp engines. These planes will cruise the 200 miles between Chicago and Grand Rapids in one hour and five minutes. The same ships then will fly on to Lansing, Flint, and Detroit, Mich.

Pennsylvania-Central Airlines boasts today of one of the finest safety records ever made by any transportation company. The parent companies of the present organization began carrying passengers in 1930. Not a single passenger or any member of a crew has been injured during 11,528,841 miles of flying over some of the most difficult terrain in the United States.

PCA's blue Boeings have been droning into and out of Chicago airport for more than a week making the preliminary flights over all routes as required by the air commerce bureau.

REBELS CAPTURE CASTELLON; PUSH VALENCIA DRIVE

Franco Gains Good Port on Eastern Coast.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish frontier], June 13.—(AP)—Spanish rebels announced officially tonight the occupation of Castellon de la Plana and its port of Grao, opening a broad coastal plain for an offensive against Valencia.

Military dispatches said a majority of its civilian population remained despite reports they had fled.

Valencia, next major objective of the onrushing rebels, is 40 miles down the Mediterranean coast from Castellon.

The capture of Grao gave the rebels their first good seaport on the eastern Spanish coast.

They drove a wedge through government Spain last April 15 at Vinaroz, between Barcelona and Castellon, but failed to obtain an adequate port in the 40 mile stretch of coast line won then. Heretofore they have been forced to unload supplies onto barges from vessels anchored some distance off shore.

A military communique from the eastern front said the rebels entered Castellon in mid-afternoon and completed occupation of the city shortly after nightfall.

Move on Southward.

Gen. Francisco Franco's hard driving fighters encountered some resistance from stubborn government defenders blazing away from street barricades and fortified houses.

Meanwhile, rebel troops on the outer ring of the rebel lines around Castellon continued on southward. Rebel advices said they pushed past Castellon, pursuing retreating government troops toward Valencia.

Gen. José Miaja, who is in full civil and military control of all government-held territory except Catalonia, personally directed the stand of his front-line troops.

The rebel entry into Castellon was made by troops under command of Gen. Miguel Aranda. The quick advance was made after the capture yesterday of Oropesa, Villafames, Alcora, and Borriol, towns in a semicircle north and northwest of Castellon.

Bombs Cut Rail Line.

Downhill routes favored the rebel advance, which was supported by fleets of warplanes bombing and machine-gunning government lines along the valley of La Rambla de la Viuda to Castellon.

Grao de Castellon, the city's port, was bombed by rebel planes backing the besieging land forces.

The railroad between Castellon and Valencia, rebel dispatches said, was cut by air bombardment near Nules, about 10 miles south of Castellon.

The rebel sweep in less than three days has doubled the area of Franco's wedge between Catalonia and central Spain. Franco now holds about seventy miles of Mediterranean seaboard from the Ebro river delta south to Castellon.

The city of 40,000 population is on a plain surrounded by orange groves. The city was founded by James the Conqueror in 1251.

Refugees Jam Valencia.

VALENCIA, Spain, June 13.—(AP)—Grim lines of refugees poured into Valencia today in a seemingly endless stream.

By mule cart, trucks, and afoot they came, bringing what meager effects they could salvage in their hasty retreat from Gen. Franco's advancing rebels.

Among them were the entire populations of villages abandoned Sunday in the face of the rebel march on Castellon. Here they were greeted with a taste of the warfare left behind when the rebels made three air raids on the port section of the city. There were no casualties, however, as the civilians, well versed by now in the art of dodging bombs, ducked for cover.

REDS 'LIQUIDATE' 49 CHURCHMEN AS SOVIET ENEMIES

MOSCOW, June 13.—(AP)—The anti-religious magazine Bezbozhnik reported today that a monarchist church organization including forty-nine members had been "liquidated" in Kuibyshev province for anti-soviet electoral activity.

The magazine said the leader of the group was a priest named Tarnopolsky who first tried to get himself nominated for election to the supreme soviet last autumn, then urged his followers to boycott the election on Dec. 12. Those reported tried included twenty priests, two deacons, seven acolytes, and twenty other persons.

The group, which had been active since 1936, the magazine said, was accused of undercover propaganda intended to creat discontent with the soviet régime.

Tarnopolsky was quoted as confessing the group expected a Fascist attack on Russia and intended to lend its aid to the attackers.

LONDON-MOSCOW PHONE SERVICE BACK TO NORMAL

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, June 13.—At 7:30 a. m. today a thin, distant English voice over the long distance wire from Moscow told London phone operators that communication had been restored. No explanation, however, was forthcoming from Moscow as to why the Russian end of the line had been "dead" since 9 o'clock last night, nor were inquiries encouraged.

"It just happens some times like that in Russia," a London phone official said today. "We assume it was mechanical trouble."

But officials here could offer no explanation of why phone lines to Moscow from London, Paris, Berlin, Warsaw, Stockholm, and Riga were simultaneously out of action during the night.

JAPANESE SEIZE 9TH PROVINCIAL CAPITAL IN CHINA

Press On Toward Hankow from Anking.

SHANGHAI, June 14.—[Tuesday]—(AP)—Japan pointed warships and troops from fallen Anking today for a 215 mile drive up the Yangtze river against the Chinese provisional capital of Hankow.

Anking, capital of Anhwei province, fell yesterday before combined Japanese naval and land forces and was the ninth Chinese provincial capital to fall to Japanese armies since the undeclared war on China started on July 7 last year. There are fifteen still unconquered.

In the order of their capture, the other conquered capitals are Kalgan, Chahar province; Paoting, Hopei; Kweisui, Suiyan; Taiyuan, Shansi; Chinkiang, Kiangsu; Hangchow, Chekiang; Tsinan, Shantung, and Kaifeng, Honan. Nanking, the national capital, was captured on Dec. 13.

Today the Japanese prepared to push on against Hukow, 64 miles up the river and facing Kiukiang. Warships shelled Chinese positions upstream and troops drove along the banks of the Yangtze for a joint attack on Hukow.

Specify 200 Mile Danger Zone.

In the path of the advance, at the upper limit of a "danger zone" charted in a Japanese warning to foreign shipping, lay American and British gunboats.

The United States government yesterday rejected the warning by informing Japan it had no intention of restricting activities of American warships on the Yangtze. British naval authorities, it was learned, took a similar stand.

The Japanese warning was delivered Saturday by Masayuki Tani, Japanese ambassador-at-large in China, who advised all foreign shipping to evacuate a 200 mile zone between Wuhu, 326 miles from Hankow, and Kiukiang.

The American reply, conveyed through Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander-in-chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, and Frank P. Lockhart, consul general in Shanghai, asserted American warships were on the Yangtze to protect American lives and property and would be sent to any point required to carry on their duties.

The United States gunboat Monocacy and one British gunboat were at Kiukiang, just outside the danger zone designated by the Japanese.

They were above a boom the Chinese constructed in the river to halt Japanese naval vessels.

Flood Menace Grows.

On the north end of the curving front aimed at Hankow, flood waters of the Yellow river and Chinese counter attacks were reported adding hourly to the handicaps against the Japanese efforts to capture Chengchow, junction of the Peking-Hankow and Lunghai railways, 300 miles north of Hankow. Waters sweeping along the Lunghai corridor were said to have surrounded Kaifeng, 43 miles east of Chengchow, and other towns.

Farther down the front, in Anhwei province, a Japanese column moving west from Chengyangkwan was reported to have crossed the Hwai river and to be nearing the border of Honan province. This report said the advance was made after a Chinese force was defeated in an engagement near Palito in which 1,000 Chinese were killed.

Another Japanese column was reported driving up the Hwai river in an effort to reach the Peking-Hankow railway at Sinyang, 137 miles north of Hankow, by way of Sanhotsien and Sihsien.

AMERICAN COLLEGES IN PEKING REFUSE TO JOIN JAP PROPAGANDA

PEKING, June 13.—(AP)—Two American universities and a French institution today defied orders of the Japanese-established North China régime to participate in political parades and mass demonstrations against the Chinese government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Foreign educators considered the defiance a last stand for academic freedom in the North China region. Involved in the crisis were the American-supported Yenching university, the American-Catholic Fujen university, and the Chinese-French university.

Heads of the three institutions last night received sweeping orders from the provisional government's education ministry. They were ordered to hoist the provisional régime's flag, make speeches against Chiang Kai-shek's government, call on Japanese army officials to render "thanks" personally, and to send circular telegrams to Chinese abroad renouncing Chiang who was designated in the instructions as "the arch-criminal of eastern Asia."

President John Leighton Stuart of Yenching declared:

"We are refusing to comply with these orders on the basis that a higher educational institution has no right nor means of compelling its students or faculty to engage in political activity."

HE FINDS A LOT IN A WOODPILE BESIDES WOOD

Sergt. Marshall Atwell of the Summerdale police station last night had a puzzle which came to him from Lloyd Vesperman, 10 years old, of 5355 North Damen avenue. Lloyd and some pals were playing in behind an animal shelter at 5446 North Damen avenue, near the Rosehill cemetery. Under a woodpile they found a large cardboard box. It contained a brand new 20 gauge single barrel shotgun, gun cleaning outfit, and a pair of expensive field glasses in a lether case. "Who could they belong to?" mused the sergeant. "Cautious gangsters? Or a duck hunting husband whose wife doesn't like his favorite sport?"

Spanish Loyalists Willing to Exchange War Captives

BARCELONA, Spain, June 13.—(AP)—The Spanish government tonight expressed willingness to exchange with the rebels certain war prisoners as requested by United States Ambassador Claude G. Bowers in an unofficial note. On the list of twenty-nine he suggested for exchange were fourteen captured American members of the international brigade and fifteen aviators held by the rebels, twelve of them Spaniards and three foreigners.

JURORS ACQUIT TWO DETECTIVES ON TRIAL IN POLICE SCANDAL

A jury in the Criminal court of Judge Rudolph Desort last night acquitted Earl Flannery and Frank McKune, suspended detectives, on charges of allowing the escape of two prisoners turned over to them by uniformed policemen for a supposed attempt to rob a handbook employé.

The trial, which was marked with insinuations and bitter clashes, arose from the arrest of Kenneth Peters and a man known as Tip, a fugitive. Assistant State's Attorney William Crawford had charged that the detectives planned the holdup and supplied the two prisoners with guns.

The prosecutor made no comment after the verdict was returned. Emil F. Kastner, 5803 South Sangamon street, foreman of the jury which deliberated six hours, said that the jurors felt that the state had not produced sufficient evidence to convict the two defendants, Flannery and McKune, through their attorney, James M. Burke, had contended there was no robbery.

ROBBED OF CASH AND JEWELRY.

Harold Cohen was robbed of $150 and jewelry valued at $200 yesterday by three bandits in his cigar store at 833 East Pershing road.

CZECH CABINET DISCUSSES NAZI AUTONOMY EDICT

President Benes Joins Talk on Minorities.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 13.—With the series of three municipal elections completed, Czechoslovakia today entered a critical week of its existence.

On all sides it is agreed that the explosive problem of minorities can no longer be dodged and that within the next few days negotiations between the government and the Sudeten German [Nazi] party of Konrad Henlein will have to give signs of leading to a settlement.

Contact between Premier Milan Hodza and Karl Frank and Ernst Kundt, Sudeten German deputies, is expected to be renewed tomorrow. Previous meetings have been purely exploratory. This week's discussions will be based on actual terms of the proposed minorities statute. They will show whether a compromise is really possible or whether the minorities of Czechoslovakia shall continue to endanger the peace of Europe.

President Returns to Prague.

President Eduard Benes returned to Prague today from his summer estate, probably to attend the opening of negotiations over Henlein's demands for self-government for 3,250,000 Germans. The cabinet met and discussed the demands.

Political observers gave the negotiations between the government and the German minority an even chance of succeeding. In favor of success is the fact that the election period, which began May 21, passed off with relatively little violence and that the police showed themselves masters of the situation.

Henlein issued a message of thanks to the Sudeten Germans for giving his party almost 90 per cent of the votes in the German inhabited area. Henlein's expression about election results encouraging the Sudeten Germans to continue their struggle for "self determination" disturbed the government.

No Plebiscite, Czechs Insist.

A government spokesman said he feared Henlein persists in his idea of holding a plebiscite in the Sudeten districts—an idea which the government will not accept.

The election results from Slovakia strengthened the government's hand since Father Andreas Hlinka's autonomists got only about one-third of the votes cast.

The government, however, is faced with new agitation in the province of Carpathian Ruthenia. There two so-called national councils, one speaking Russian, the other Ukrainian, have presented Prague with new demands for autonomy. The Russian council called on Prague to remove the Czech vice governor within 48 hours and replace him with a local man.

Both councils united in a demand that the Czech language should no longer have any official status in the the province.

'Insults' Waiter, So He Puts Wash Powder in Her Mush

San Francisco, Cal., June 13.—(AP)—Harry Karn, ship's waiter, was quoted today by federal agents as saying he put washing powder in the mush served to a woman passenger on the liner President Cleveland, because, she was "insulting." The waiter waived a preliminary hearing on a charge of intent to commit murder on the high seas and was held under $25,000 bail. He denied knowing the powder was poisonous and said he did not intend to kill the woman, who did not eat the mush.

Reno Next Stop

MARGOT GRAHAME.

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Margot Grahame, the English actress, today announced she will leave for Reno within a month to divorce Francis Lister. She said she would seek her divorce on the ground of incompatibility.

"We have been separated for two years," she said. Some months ago Miss Grahame declared there was a need for new style love. "You must plunge body and soul into love," she said. "The old fashioned type of affection must go. What man nowadays asks a girl if he may kiss her? He just kisses her, that's all."

ROBBER, BINDING VICTIMS, KILLED BY OWN PISTOL

Earl Lenox, 34 years old, of Harvey, an ex-convict, sought by police as a member of a gang of hijackers preying on trucks in the southern part of the county, accidentally shot himself to death last night while robbing a truck driver and his helper at Sacramento avenue and Addison street.

In custody as leaders of the gang are Mrs. Claribel Mandelkow, 25 years old, 15635 Lexington avenue, Harvey, a WPA stenographer, and her husband, Ray, who have confessed their part in the holdups because their combined income of $385 a month was insufficient for expenses. They are to be arraigned today for robbery in the Automobile court.

Lenox was killed when his revolver accidentally discharged while he was binding Robert Berlowe, 637 North Springfield avenue, and his helper, Norman Drell, 4537 South Lawndale avenue, in the back of their truck.

MEXICAN POLICE SLAY TWO IN BAND OF CEDILLO AIDS

MEXICO CITY, June 13.—(AP)—Policemen's bullets killed two of the rebel band of Brig. Gen. Enrique Espejel Chavarria today.

The general, his brother, and a policeman were killed when Puebla authorities raided a hillside shack near Chipilo village after they learned the suspected followers of Gen. Saturnino Cedillo, himself hunted as a rebel, were sleeping there.

Three others in the house escaped afoot in the confusion. Espejel had been attached to the garrison at Torreon, 300 miles from San Luis Potosi, where Cedillo's followers began an unsuccessfull revolt on May 20.

POLICE OF BERLIN SEIZE JEWS IN RAIDS ON HOMES

Nazis Seek to Force Them to Quit Germany.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 13.—Many Jewish homes were raided by the police in Berlin this morning. After being taken to neighborhood police stations, many of the Jews were transferred to police headquarters.

The propaganda ministry's press department and police officials first asserted they had no knowledge of the raids. Nazi Jew-baiters, when interrogated about the raids, expressed the hope they would "make the Jews leave Germany quicker than they have been getting out in recent months." Later the police said a statement may be issued tomorrow.

Promise to Quit Country.

Similar raids were conducted recently in almost all German cities. In smaller cities most of the Jews were released after they had signed statements promising to leave the country.

Hugh R. Wilson, American ambassador to Berlin, has asked Washington, D. C., for extra help to enable the consular staf to handle the tremendous crowds of Jews besieging the consulate for visas to enable them to depart for America.

In central Germany a number of Jews were summoned by the police and asked if they were ready to accept jobs as ditchdiggers. When the Jews replied they still had jobs, they were allowed to return to their homes. A few days later they were arrested on charges of "shying at work" and placed in a concentration camp.

Issue Registration Blanks.

Nazi authorities today issued registration blanks to Jews who in April were ordered to register their property before June 30.

Only Jews who own more than $2,000 worth of goods are compelled to list their holdings. Foreign Jews also must register their possessions.

The Jews are instructed to list copyrights, protected and unprotected inventions, patents, models, trademarks, secret processes and unregistered inventions, in addition to their possessions here and abroad. They must also register "jewelry and other luxury objects, art collections regardless of their value, tools and machinery which are not being used in farming, forestry work, and in factories."

Nazis Define a Jew.

The instructions define a Jew as "a person descended from at least three full Jewish grandparents; a person of the Jewish faith, or a former member of the Jewish faith if he or she has one Jewish grandparent; a person who belonged to a Jewish religious community on Sept. 16, 1936, or joined it later; a person married to a Jew or Jewess on that date or thereafter; a person born from marriage with a Jew or Jewess, which occurred after September, 1935, and an illegitimate child whose father or mother were Jews and was born after July 31, 1936.

U. S. Asks France to Jail Titled Political Chief in Dope Scandal

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 13.—Narcotic investigators of the United States, through the Paris embassy, have requested the arrest of a titled French political leader as the next step in the greatest offensive ever launched on the international drug trafic, it was disclosed today.

The man, whose name is being kept secret, is accused in a report submitted by the American investigators of being an accomplice of Louis Lion, Paris restaurant proprietor and branded by police as France's narcotics king. Lion, who was arrested recently, appeared before an examining magistrate today.

The French police have rounded up three more minor suspects in the trans-Atlantic dope conspiracy, but have not yet acted on the tip against Lion's alleged blueblooded chief accomplice.

U. S. Urges Complete Exposure.

Neither have any steps been taken against other and much bigger political figures who are alleged to have assured the Lion gang of immunity from arrest for years. Exposure of their rôle also is being urged by the United States authorities although it would inevitably subject France to another Serge Stavisky scandal which rocked the nation in 1933 following exposure of a $60,000,000 bond swindle. The little information that already has leaked out is enough to constitute a fair sized scandal.

For instance, it was revealed that Lion, like Stavisky, had been working for years as a police informer. During the world war he served in the French spy service. He built up good will for himself and is said to have secured immunity for his wholesale narcotics racket by denouncing a number of small time retailers—often his own agents—to the French police.

Not blindness nor incompetence on the part of French narcotics investigators, but powerful political influences are said to have enabled Lion to go on tranquilly for years, increasing his business and organizing chemical factories where dope was turned out in great quantities. He accumulated a fortune and purchased a feudal château near Paris.

Chiappe Is Named.

Certain left wing sources allege that Jean Chiappe, former chief of police who was dismissed during investigation of the Stavisky scandal, was one of the influential persons who protected Lion.

This is by no means just another French scandal. It is a world-wide scandal. American officials here intimated that while a few French officials and politicians are involved—doubtless more through shady political friendships than downright crookedness—there may be whole governments, as distinct from individual politicians, which are accomplices to a greater or lesser degree in the same scandal.

For example, they said, it might cause the Jugo-Slav government considerable embarrassment to have to explain just why nothing effective was done all these years to shut off the Lion gang's supply at the source—Belgrade.

The Greek dictator, Gen. John Metaxas, the one man government in his country, also is said to be in the same boat.

Urge Worldwide Drive.

What interests American authorities is that while certain governments seem more and more reluctant to act on the very detailed and complete exposes of the international dope racket which they receive periodically, the racket is increasing yearly in volume and audacity and the number of slaves to the pipe, needle or powder is keeping pace with it.

The time has come, they believe, for a concerted world-wide drive on the "merchants of death." The arrest of Lion and Carlos Fernandez Bacula, former Peruvian diplomat, is intended as the opening gun in this offensive. By luck it has led to exceptionally fruitful results.

The complicated and highly organized "needle internationale" is in the throes of a worse political crisis than the rest of the world. The world balance of power, as delicate as in the political field, has been upset and leading racketeers are fighting a war against each other for domination.

Syndicates Locked in Battle.

They are denouncing rivals to the police and rival accomplices are paying back the debt whenever possible. Two of the principal world syndicates, which the French police designate for convenience as the "blues" and the "greens" are fighting a desperate war for world markets and within each syndicate there is unrest, treason and revolution.

There is even said to be raging at present a kind of "class war" between the proletarians in the drug racket and its international capitalists.

All in all the American authorities consider now the most favorable moment for striking a deadly blow at the racket and bringing all possible pressure on the various European police to join in the drive.

SWEDEN TAKES UP A COLLECTION TO FIGHT PARALYSIS

STOCKHOLM, June 13.—(AP)—Sweden will mark the eightieth birthday of King Gustav V. next Thursday by establishing a national fund for fighting infantile paralysis.

Collections are proceeding throughout the country and it was expected today the total would exceed the $1,350,000 contributed ten years ago for the national cancer fund.

Record donations have been reported from all sections of the land. The community of Malmkoeping, with a population of 1,164, made a perfect score with 1,164 contributions. Fifty prisoners in Norrkoping subscribed 12½ cents each.

King Gustav, who succeeded to the Swedish throne Dec. 8, 1907, will observe the anniversary with a party at the royal palace.

YOUNG SNITE HAS READY LAUGH AND IT'S ON DOCTORS

Said He'd Die, but He Gives "Back Talk."

BY WILL O'NEIL.

More than two years ago doctors in China shook their heads and said Freddy Snite would die very soon. Yesterday afternoon, in the sunny back yard of his home, Freddy chuckled at the antics of a photographer trying to get an angle shot of him in what he calls his boiler.

Freddy's boiler is an iron lung—one of a succession of such devices that have kept him alive since infantile paralysis stopped his own breathing apparatus in April, 1936. All that the photographer could see of him was his ruddy face and curly brown hair—and the grin.

Frederick B. Snite Jr. was granting what he said was his first open interview at his parent's home, 909 Ashland avenue, River Forest.

Unconscious of Noise.

A soundless electric motor operates the bellows which expands Freddy's lungs fifteen times a minute. The slight swishing sound of the bellows themselves was lost in the noise of a neighbor's lawnmower.

"Of course by this time I'm not at all conscious of any mechanism," Freddy said. "I've gotten so used to it that I don't hear any noise from the machine."

Freddy, who already has traveled more than 12,000 miles in one of the boilers, said he wants to see a Notre Dame football game this fall. He hopes it will be possible for him to do this in a special trailer that will be delivered in another month. The trailer will have a glass enclosed stern and its own generating apparatus for the operation of his iron lung.

"This is the first time I've seen this yard in more than two years," Freddy said. "I'm glad to get home, although it was nice in Florida last winter.

Tells Makeup of His Day.

"My meals—well, I eat three or more a day. I get up at 7 o'clock, have breakfast at 8, and work with a secretary on my mail until 11 o'clock. Then I shift into the smaller respirator for lunch, a nap, and physical therapy treatments.

"Back in the boiler at 4 or 5 o'clock, visitors until dinner at 6:30, and then a movie, bridge, or more visitors until I begin to get sleepy around 9:30."

Freddy, who is 27 years old, issues a monthly newspaper which he calls "Back Talk." The paper is made up of items from his close personal friends and relatives and a personal letter from him.

Freddy was grinning when the interviewers arrived and he still was smiling when they left.

POSITIVE PRINTS

By CALEB

THE PICTURE is called "Bill," —simply that and nothing more.

It hangs among the three hundred or so exhibits in the Fifth Annual Marshall Field and Company Photographic Salon on our seventh floor. It has no special place of prominence; it did not win an award, but there is about it an arresting quality which must aid the cause of those who insist photography is a full-fledged art.

The picture of "Bill" is a good photograph—but it is far more. As Rembrandt drafted upon his canvas the characteristics of a nation, so the photograph of "Bill" models ours today.

The subject chosen for the study is not a distinguished personage, and yet in his good face and features are pictured the greatness, the danger and the destiny of our country.

Something of the sturdy American quality of Grant Wood's style has been translated into this photographic study of "Bill." If we accept the definition of art as that which enlists and stimulates the mind of the beholder, then the picture of "Bill" is a work of art.

Down white walls that stretch away almost endlessly hangs a fascinating line of pictures in light and shadow; people, buildings, landscapes, animals, children—all are there—and like the picture of "Bill" many of them do supremely well what every art must do: they say many things to many men.

Pathos, tragedy, humor, devotion, vigorous action, poetry of line and mass are present in thought-provoking abundance. More than 4,000 pictures were submitted and less than one in every ten of these was hung. The entry blanks showed, interestingly enough, that elaborate and expensive equipment is not the prime essential to a photographic masterpiece. Simple cameras with simple lenses were responsible for many of the best specimens—although others were the result of a concentration of the finest devices in modern photography.

But serene among them all hangs the picture of "Bill." If there were no other point of interest in the exhibit, we would still return again and again to look at his honest, rugged countenance revealed by an artist who somehow managed to capture and portray some of the great traits of a great people.

GOV. EARLE DARES FOES TO ARREST HIM AS GRAFTER

Calls Grand Jury Action a Republican 'Plot.'

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harrisburg, Pa., June 13.—[Special.]—On the eve of the Democratic state committee's harmony meeting Gov. George H. Earle tonight challenged his accusers to arrest and try him on the charges of graft which have piled up against his régime.

The governor, who admitted during the primary that he took loans of $26,500 from Matthew H. McCloskey, the contractor who received 10 million dollars in contracts from the state public works program, declared the proposed grand jury investigation into his administration is a Republican "plot."

Try to Heal Primary Wounds.

Earle's speech, delivered before 113 state committeemen who assembled here to patch up the wounds incurred during the primary, was broadcast over the radio. It shoved into the background an announcement by United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey, whose ticket lost in the primary, that he would support the nominees.

The accusations against Earle and thirteen of his associates are contained in a petition for the grand jury investigation brought by Dauphin county's district attorney, Carl B. Shelley of Harrisburg. The Supreme court, sitting in Philadelphia today, deferred action on the petition until Friday at the request of the governor.

Charges Plot to Defraud.

Gov. Earle, eight members of his official family, and five other prominent Democrats are charged with conspiring to "cheat and defraud" the commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the Shelley petition. The ring of officials and politicians, it is charged, engaged in a systematic crime to "enrich themselves, the Democratic state committee, and other political committees." The accumulated graft of the Earle administration was estimated in the charges at $8,258,000.

In his speech the governor drummed on the "Republican plot" without mentioning that the charges against his administration first were made by his own party foes during the sizzling hot primary.

In that fight Earle won the nomination for United States senator in a battle with Mayor S. Davis Wilson of Philadelphia, a Guffey contender. It was Wilson who first told the electorate of Pennsylvania about the Earle-McCloskey loans. And it was Charles J. Margiotti, ousted as attorney general by Earle, who demanded that a grand jury investigation be conducted into the graft and corruption accusations.

Guffey Makes Peace.

Guffey went into a huddle tonight with David L. Lawrence, secretary of the commonwealth and chairman of the Democratic state committee, who supported the Earle ticket against Guffey's contenders. Later the senator appeared before a banquet meeting of his primary campaign county chairmen and urged them to back the regular slate in November. The price which was paid Guffey for turning over his 5,000 postmasters and small army of federal jobholders to help elect the Democratic ticket was said to have included a pledge that the senator will share henceforth in state patronage.

Toys Too Realistic

Cap pistols taken from children, resulting in arrest of store owner.

Police in the Town Hall district yesterday began a campaign to halt the sale of toy cap pistols to children, which is a violation of the city code. Robert Richman, who operates a candy store at 3302 Broadway, was arrested for selling cap pistols to several children and will appear today in the Town Hall court. Police said there is danger of children injuring themselves and that in addition the pistols often are responsible for exciting criminal tendencies in youths.

Mrs. Fiermonte, widow of John Jacob Astor, a victim of the Titanic disaster, and Fiermonte were married in New York, Nov. 27, 1933, after she and her second husband, William K. Dick, were divorced.

FIND 300 'BLIND' PERSONS DRIVING WISCONSIN CARS

Licenses Revoked When They Seek Pensions.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 13.—[Special.]—There were 300 persons classified as blind who were licensed to drive automobiles in Wisconsin until their applications for state blind pensions caused their driving licenses to be taken up. Not all were driving, but some with exceedingly limited vision were doing so.

There is no statute forbidding a blind person to drive, but George M. Keith, state supervisor of pensions, has operated on the theory that a person who can see enough to drive is not blind enough for a pension. He forwarded the applications for blind pensions to the drivers' license division at Madison and the 300 licenses were taken up. Applicants got the pension, but they had to give up driving.

Invokes New Driving Tests.

The discovery that virtually blind persons were driving automobiles was an incidental outcome of administration of the blind pension law. Secretary of State Theodore Dammann, in charge of motor licenses, now compels applicants to prove they have no serious defect in vision.

Wisconsin enacted a pension law for the blind in 1907 and operated it at the expense of the state and counties until 1935, when the federal social security law was enacted. Since then the United States pays 50 per cent of the pension, the state 30 per cent, and the county where the pensioner lives pays the other 20 per cent. There are 1,964 persons—or more than half of the state's 3,625 blind—receiving pensions.

The average pension is $21.91 per month, although it may be as high as $30. Pensioners may receive the maximum pension and still have an outside income of $420 a year.

After the federal government joined in paying the pension, eighty-seven pensioners were dropped from the rolls. Because of the increased severity of the test. Since 1935 236 pensions have been denied.

To be eligible the applicant must be older than 18 years and have lived in Wisconsin five of the last nine years or have been a resident at the time of losing sight. They need not be citizens of the United States and receipt of the pensions creates no lien against their estates.

The cost of the blind pension system in Wisconsin in May was $43,271.

SURVIVOR TELLS INQUEST OF FIVE CROSSING DEATHS

The only survivor of an automobile-train tragedy in which five young men and women lost their lives near Zion on May 29 told his story yesterday at the inquest in Waukegan. He is John Wood, 18 years old, of 433 Fulton avenue, Waukegan.

From his story and the evidence of Witnesses who arrived after the accident, officials arrived at this theory: The party drove across one of the Chicago and North Western parallel tracks on state route 173 and struck the middle of a freight train in a dense fog. The car was hurled back upon the first tracks and was struck 15 minutes later by another train. Wood recalled wandering about, trying to get a woman victim off the tracks, but was unable to tell anything else. The verdict was accidental death.

Mrs. Mary Prietz, 77 years old, 1236 56th court, died in the County hospital yesterday from injuries received last Saturday at Roosevelt road and Hoyne avenue when she was struck by a hit and run driver's car.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 367 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 284 were killed in Chicago, where 7,967 were injured in the same period.

CITY COMPLETES $25,000 DEAL FOR N. U. CRIME LAB

Mayor Kelly announced yesterday that the city has completed negotiations with Northwestern university for the purchase of its crime detection laboratory for $25,000. The city will take over and operate the laboratory as soon as the deal is approved by the university trustees and the city council.

The city will assume the university's lease on the laboratory site at 222 East Superior street. The rental is about $200 a month and operating costs are about $15,000 a year.

Police Commissioner Allman said he would gradually work policemen into the staf of the laboratory, which has equipment that probably could not be replaced for $200,000.

Prof. Leonarde Keeler, lie detecter expert, who heads the laboratory staf, and his wife, a hand writing expert, said they had so many outside connections they would be unable to devote full time to serving the city. Others on the staf will be retained.

16 INCH COAST GUN WILL FIRE ONE TON SHELL

Watertown, Mass., June 13.—[Special.]—A force of workmen of nearly wartime proportions is speeding completion of America's answer to the Big Berthas of world war days—a sixteen inch stationary gun for coast defense.

The gun will fire a projectile weighing more than a ton at a speed of 2,400 feet a second for a distance of thirty miles. Its huge shells are expected to stop ships long before they reach American shores. Total weight of gun and mounting is 500 tons, but a man using one hand can swing the gun on a turnstile by turning a crank.

The sixteen inch gun and a new eight inch railroad gun recently described will be tried out at the army's Aberdeen proving grounds in Maryland.

Want to Know Why You're Constipated?

Would you give a million to shake off that dull, dopey, played-out feeling that often comes with common constipation? Then stop a minute and think.

What have you had to eat this week? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? Probably the reason you're constipated is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean how much you eat. It means a kind of food that isn't entirely digested, but leaves a soft, bulky mass in the intestines which helps a bowel movement.

What to do? Eat some Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. This crunchy toasted cereal is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains both the intestinal tonic vitamin B_1, and iron.

Eat All-Bran every day and drink plenty of water. See if you don't get off your heels and on your toes! Kellogg's All-Bran is sold by every grocer.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys—How To Get Happy Relief

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WHITING LOSES FIGHT TO SHARE IN TRUST FUND

Ordered to Account to His Stepdaughter.

Lawrence H. Whiting, president of the Furniture Mart, lost his fight yesterday to a share in a trust fund belonging to his wife's estate. Judge Stanley Klarkowski in Circuit court ruled that he had no claim to a dower third in the trust and ordered him to give an accounting of the trust. The suit was brought against Whiting by his stepdaughter, Miss Henrietta Countiss.

Henrietta Countiss.

Miss Countiss also had asked that Whiting, as trustee under the will of her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Robinson Countiss Whiting, pay amounts she claimed in the trust, which was established by her grandmother, Mrs. Henrietta Robinson, who died in 1930.

The trust, consisting of 1,649 shares of the Ox Fibre Brush company of West Virginia, was set up by the grandmother in 1926. It was to terminate in ten years and be distributed to her four daughters or their heirs if she died before its termination.

Contests Claim to Third.

Mrs. Whiting, one of the four daughters, died in 1931. The suit by Miss Countiss, filed in January, 1936, by Attorney Ira W. Hurley, contested her stepfather's dower claim. Judge Klarkowski's ruling yesterday, so far as the Circuit court action is concerned, bars Whiting from receiving a third of either principal or accrued interest in the trust.

In the Circuit court action, Miss Countiss was joined, through a cross complaint, by her brother, Frederick D. Countiss Jr., named by his sister as a co-defendant in her suit against Whiting.

Whiting married Mrs. Eleanor Countiss in 1925 after her divorce from Frederick D. Countiss, who died in 1926. On Mrs. Whiting's death, she left property valued at $750,000 to Whiting and her four children, Henrietta and Frederick Countiss and Lawrence Jr. and Barbara Whiting, now 10 and 7 years old, respectively.

Fails to Dispose of Share.

Mrs. Whiting's will left one-third of her estate to her husband and the rest to be divided equally among the four children. The will, however, did not dispose of the one-fourth share of the trust estate established by her mother. Whiting was named co-trustee of his wife's share of the trust estate and also executor of her own estate.

Other matters pertaining to the estate of Mrs. Whiting are still pending in Probate court, including another action by Miss Countiss against her stepfather.

500 KENT LAW COLLEGE ALUMNI AT HOMECOMING

More than 500 alumni attended the annual luncheon and homecoming of the Chicago Kent College of Law yesterday in the Hotel Sherman. Classes as far back as 1888 were represented. Guy Guernsey was toastmaster, and Dean Webster H. Burke welcomed the alumni. Graduation exercises of the college were held last night in the Goodman theater. Eighty-six graduates were awarded bachelor of law degrees; one received a master of law award, and one a juris doctor.

Postpone Trial of Moron Who Confessed 50 Rapes

Prosecution of Louis Serraille on two charges of assault to rape was postponed yesterday by Judge Joseph H. Sabath until next Monday. Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, asked the postponement so that the indictments might be amended to include a charge of assault to kill. Police say Serraille has confessed raping fifty women.

MISS BETTY SEMPER.

A girl cabaret singer and four male companions, under arrest at the Chicago avenue police station, confessed yesterday to Capt. Thomas Harrison that they had committed ten robberies. Their largest haul was $1,300, obtained last Tuesday in a holdup of the Gimbel restaurant at 32 West Randolph street.

The gang members are Miss Betty Semper, 16 years old, 606 South Western avenue; Herman and Heman Sittig, 22, twins, of 3406 Butterfield road, Bellwood; Stephen Vernie, 22, 72 West North avenue, and Montcalm Markham, 22, 1617 St. Charles road, Maywood, who said that he was a brother of Police Magistrate Edward Markham of Maywood.

Only Vernie and the Sittigs were involved in the Gimbel holdup. The young woman admitted she was a lookout in delicatessen store robberies in Oak Park. Markham confessed that he drove the others in a borrowed car on some of their forays.

REACH WRECKED PLANE AND NINE BODIES ON PEAK

Yosemite, Cal., June 13.—(AP)—A salvage crew which toiled for more than 12 hours through heavy snow on Buena Vista peak arrived late today at the wreckage of an airliner that crashed March 1 on the stormveiled mountain, killing nine persons.

Aerial observers reported the party of more than thirty persons reached the shattered Transcontinental and Western Air Line ship shortly after 3 p. m.

TWA officials expressed belief the crew would camp overnight before attempting to return with bodies of the six passengers and three crew members, and pieces of wreckage which might be used in an investigation.

EX-SISTER-IN-LAW OF WALLY FOUND DEAD IN GARAGE

Mrs. Moseley Poisoned by Motor Fumes.

Mrs. Ethel Spencer Moseley, whose brother was the duchess of Windsor's first husband, was found dead of carbon monoxide gas poisoning yesterday morning in the garage behind her home at 601 Peck road, Geneva. A coroner's jury found that she committed suicide and expressed the belief that it was because of financial worry.

Mrs. Moseley won a divorce in the Kane county Circuit court at Geneva on May 6, 1937, from George C. Moseley, Chicago investment broker. Moseley, who played end at Yale, was on Walter Camp's All-American football team in 1926 and won the navy cross as a wartime aviator.

Found Slumped Against Wall.

Mrs. Moseley, who was 44 years old, was slumped against the garage wall when she was found by a neighbor, Mrs. William D. Bangs. The garage was closed and filled with motor exhaust fumes. The radiator of the car was still warm, but the engine had stopped running when the gasoline was exhausted.

Mrs. Bangs said that Mrs. Moseley had spent the week-end in the Bangs home, but had left Sunday afternoon. Although Mrs. Moseley promised to return soon, she did not come back at midnight. Some time later she drove into her own garage.

Worried because she had not returned, Mrs. Bangs went to investigate at dawn.

Mother of Three Children.

Two of Mrs. Moseley's children were away at the Hill Preparatory school at Pottstown, Pa. They are Spencer, 18 years old, and Thomas, 16. The third, William, 8, was away visiting.

Mrs. Moseley was the sister of Commander E. Winfield Spencer of the navy, who was married in 1916 to the woman for whom the duke of Windsor gave up the British throne. Mrs. Moseley was a bridesmaid at the wedding. Her family home was in Highland Park.

Funeral services for Mrs. Moseley will be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow in Trinity Episcopal church in Highland Park.

CHARGE SCHEME TO SILENCE N. Y. RACKET WITNESS

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Henchmen of James J. [Jimmy] Hines, veteran Tammany district leader and the Roosevelt administration's favored patronage dispenser here, have been trying to effect the release of a key witness from jail so they could intimidate him into a refusal to testify, aids of Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey charged today.

Hines and several others, including J. Richard [Dixie] Davis, former lawyer for Dutch Schultz, slain gang leader, are under indictment in connection with Dewey's war on the policy numbers game racket.

Assistant District Attorney Sol Gelb asked a $25,000 increase in the bail for Leo Rosenthal, the key witness, whom he described as a go-between for Hines and others under indictment. Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora asked for additional evidence on the petition for higher bond and adjourned the hearing until tomorrow.

COUNSEL IN TVA QUIZ HANDPICKED BY ROOSEVELT

Radical Lawyer Former Head of NLRB.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—[Special.]—Francis Biddle, a radical, handpicked for the job by President Roosevelt, took charge of the joint congressional investigation of the Tennessee Valley authority today in his capacity of counsel for the committee. There was little encouragement in this circumstance for the friends of Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, former TVA chairman who was ousted by Mr. Roosevelt after he charged his fellow directors, David E. Lilienthal and Harcourt A. Morgan, with a lack of honesty and decency in the administration of the half billion dollar experiment in socialism.

In taking charge, Biddle conferred with the ten man committee in executive session regarding the employment of an engineer and an accountant, still to be selected. The new counsel, a Philadelphia lawyer, said he expected to establish headquarters at Knoxville, Tenn., within a week or so. Public hearings will be begun there late in July, he said.

Suggested by Roosevelt.

Biddle was appointed a week ago, but the details of his selection became known for the first time today. He was suggested by President Roosevelt and sponsored by Senator Fred H. Brown [D., N. H.], the chief utility baiter on the joint committee.

Although descended from the family of Nicholas Biddle, who was president of the Bank of the United States and a foe of President Andrew Jackson, the TVA investigating counsel is a 100 per cent supporter of President Roosevelt and a registered Democrat of somewhat pink inclinations.

Elizabeth Dilling, author of "The Red Network," gives him a paragraph in her book, "The Roosevelt Red Record and Its Background." She asserts that he represented the radical American Civil Liberties union in labor injunction litigation in 1934; was active in Sacco-Vanzetti agitation, and formerly contributed verse to the magazine Liberator, of which the well known Trotskyite communist, Max Eastman, was editor.

Former NLRB Chairman.

Biddle was chairman of President Roosevelt's National Labor Relations board in 1934 and 1935, before passage of the Wagner act and the creation of the present board.

Biddle was born in Paris in 1886. He was educated at Groton and Harvard and admitted to the Pennsylvania bar in 1911. As an honor graduate of the Harvard law school, he served as private secretary to Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes in 1911 and 1912, later to become a member of the Philadelphia law firm of Barnes, Biddle & Myers.

One of the most essential things connected with the TVA investigation, Biddle said, is the determination of a proper allocation of TVA costs as to power, flood control, and navigation. TVA opponents agree with him that a true allocation would be valuable.

WARNING TO JAPAN:
Britain's Mightiest War Base—Singapore—Is Ready for Action

AT SINGAPORE, where ships turn northward to China and Japan, Britain has built one of the most formidable war bases ever put together anywhere. Mightier by far than Gibraltar, and defended by the most powerful guns in the world, Singapore Base tells Japan that Britain—by land, sea and air—still means business in the East. What is the strategy behind Singapore Base? How is it equipped to meet war? Why did the visit of three American cruisers cause a world flurry? Read the story on page 10 in your Post, today.

OUR MUDDLED NEUTRALITY.

Secretary Hull discloses that the state department has expressed its disapproval of export sales of American bombing planes or planes that can be converted for military use by Japan. The department expects that the American manufacturers will be guided by the government's wishes. The fiction that there is no war in China has been used as an excuse for not applying the neutrality laws, neither of the combatants having declared hostilities.

So long as free commerce with both China and Japan was supposed to be of greater aid than injury to China many Americans who are militantly for peace supported the trade, but now it is apparent from the export figures that Japan is the larger buyer and has been a heavy purchaser of airplanes and airplane parts. Our state department has been preaching against the use of the airplane and protesting in almost evangelical terms in support of the British anti-airplane policy.

Our new neutrality laws and their application have not been a very bright page of American diplomacy, although they are interesting enough as evidence of a great deal of confused thought mixed up with emotion and with practical profit seeking. They are supposed to keep the United States from being involved in alien quarrels, one theory being that if profit seeking Americans in industry and finance could be made to keep their hands out of other people's wars the American people would not be dragged into them. The international financier and munition maker have been condemned as unpatriotic money grabbers who would sacrifice anybody's sons rather than keep out of a profitable market. No one has ever so stigmatized the growers of cotton and wheat, although the political difficulty of keeping them out of it is the toughest assignment a neutral diplomacy could have.

Although one of the chief purposes of the neutrality law was to isolate the United States and compel it to mind its own business so that it would not get its nose caught in somebody else's door, the state department has been busy intervening morally all over the place where no possible national interest could suggest that it issue its pronouncements or officially condemn any nation, however grave the charges brought against the offender might be. The inconsistency of trying to refrain from giving offense in one direction and gratuitously scattering it about in another seems not to have bothered Mr. Hull or his assistants and has properly suggested that they were finding a reason for their conduct in the desire of the British government to throw the weight of moral opprobrium on air warfare in order to protect Great Britain itself from air raids.

State department officials apparently became uneasy when the American friends of China began to clamor about the further inconsistency of making protests to Japan and at the same time permitting the sale of airplanes for the very purposes which gave rise to the complaints. This situation could not have arisen if the department had contained itself within its unemotional duties of protecting American interests to the best of its ability and permitting general questions of international morality to be settled elsewhere, if at all. The upshot of this confusion is that in the imperfect application of real neutrality we do not recognize a state of war in China but we select one particular in which to apply an embargo against Japan, thereby giving it a cause to point to a discrimination, and we do the very thing that a preconceived system of neutrality tries to avoid. Its essence is impartial treatment of all alike. And for all practical purposes if a war is going on it's a war, no matter what legal fictions are adopted concerning it.

The government has made a grand muddle of its neutrality program and Spain is included in that muddle. There we have established the doctrin that a recognized government trying to put down a rebellion hasn't the right to buy material in our markets. That shocks every American precedent and it gives our policy the further inconsistency of not recognizing that there is a war of aggression in China while denying that a recognized government in Spain may retain the privilege of buying from us to support itself.

PEDESTRIANS IN THE PARKS.

The new drives in the Lincoln park area are nearing completion. In a relatively short time the new system will be operating. When that day comes it is to be hoped that the engineers and landscape experts will be free to turn their attention to the needs and desires of the citizen who wants to take a walk in the park. He has been pretty generally neglected. He can hardly free himself from the sound, sight, and smell of whizzing cars. He's lucky if he can walk for more than a couple of blocks in the park before having to cross a high speed trafic lane.

The growth of the city and the increased use of automobiles have worked a profound change in the nature of the city's parks. They used to be places for quiet and relaxation. Today they are primarily arteries for trafic, separated by more or less wide bands of green. Probably that change was inevitable, but further encroachments upon the parks should be avoided and increased attention should be given the needs of the men, women, and children who want to enjoy the parks, not use them to get some place else.

PERKINS VS. McGRADY.

When Miss Secretary Perkins comes back from Europe she had better spend half an hour or so with her former assistant, Edward F. McGrady. The figures they use seem to be in substantial agreement but not their interpretation of them. Something must be wrong somewhere.

At almost the same moment on June 13 Miss Perkins addressed the International Labor conference in Geneva and Mr. McGrady, in his new capacity as director of labor relations for the Radio Corporation of America, spoke at an advertising convention in Detroit. Oddly enough, the two speakers happened to be talking about precisely the same thing.

Said Miss Perkins: "Industrial relations in the United States are now on a more stable basis than for 20 years. The number of strikes has, from any real point of view, diminished. There were 4,700 strikes out of a working population of 38 million in 1937."

Said Mr. McGrady: "In 1937 alone we had a total of 4,600 strikes with the consequent loss of 28,300,000 man-days of labor to 1,875,000 workers. This was by far the greatest number of strikes that has ever occurred in any single year of American history."

At another point Miss Perkins said the United States "has much to learn from other countries regarding the improvement of working conditions and maintenance of good relations between labor and employers." Possibly she felt humble in the presence of so many distinguished European authorities; still, if the people of our country have so much to learn about labor relations from Europe it is curious that European workers have flocked to our shores by millions and the reverse flow has been relatively insignificant.

Mr. McGrady had something to say on that point, too. He observed: "American industry has made a great contribution to humanity. It pays more money in wages to the workers than is received by all workers in all the European nations. It has created for our people a purchasing power that is greater than that of a billion and a half persons in the combined countries of Europe and Asia."

Mr. McGrady was a successful mediator in difficult strike situations precisely because he could see both sides. Miss Perkins is the first secretary of labor to have promoted labor unrest. Naturally she is more eager than he to conceal the shortcomings of her administration. Hence her curious interpretation of the appalling strike figures; and hence, too, her attempt to create the impression abroad that she has done nothing to make matters worse. The fault, if she is to be believed, lies wholly on other shoulders.

THE WEEK-END AND THE EMPIRE.

When it became known that Mr. Chamberlain was not present at an important debate in the house of commons because he had to be at home nursing the gout, there was a feeling that in spite of the alleged derelictions of the air ministry and the unsatisfactory course of diplomacy in dealing with Hitler and Mussolini, in spite of the precariousness of British holdings in China, and in spite of what was going on in Spain, the British empire was to be regarded as reasonably safe. Gout means the reaffirmation of the best English principles of government, based upon personal habits which discourage haste, even if they do not always promote clear thinking. British statesmanship has been nourished on good bottles of port and the dominating position of England on the valuable Portuguese seacoast has been, if not cemented, at least sanctioned by this generous wine.

Now further indication that all is not despair and need not be in Downing street is given in the recurring reports that such and such a minister has been forced by some crisis to hurry back to London from his week-end in the country.

It is traditional in British statecraft that when a minister is needed he shall be found in the country at some pleasant gathering of friends, presumably discussing anything except what is filling the world press, probably looking over the pigs of the 9th earl of Blessington or pursuing his own ornithological studies.

Although history can do Lord George Germaine little injustice, that little is no doubt to be found in the accepted story that Burgoyne was lost at Saratoga because Lord George was in such a hurry to get out in the country that he wouldn't look over the papers a secretary laid before him, and that, consequently, a ship departed without the instructions to Gen. Howe to go up the river to join Burgoyne coming down Lake Champlain from the north. Howe did take himself and his army off in the opposite direction to capture Philadelphia, but it was not the fault of Germaine's week-end party. Howe knew that luckless Gentleman Johnny was on his way, but thought that with the aid of Sir Henry Clinton he very well could take care of himself and probably could do so better if Gen. George Washington was drawn south rather than be permitted to go north.

That's the only week-end that could be regarded as disastrous even by a fanciful construction of its consequence. Otherwise these delightful occasions, the enjoyment of which the English statesman regards as his inalienable right, are not only beneficial to his health, if that be of any importance, but they also get him out of the way and permit the undersecretaries to do the work. Therefore Great Britain has only part time muddlin' and probably will survive as an empire.

THE AIRPORT.

Now that legislation for the enlargement of the Chicago airport has been obtained, it is to be hoped and expected that no further time will be lost in getting ahead with the work. The tests on the first of the great new airliners which are to carry 42 passengers are now being conducted in the west. Other ships in the same series are under construction. To handle planes of this size the area of the present field must be expanded. If Chicago is not to be made a way-station on the nation's air routes the field must be completed to the new specifications within the next few months. No more excuses can be accepted.

A note from Gene Raymond in yesterday's mail brought to mind a story told at the breakfast he gave at the Tavern club during his recent engagement in Chicago. An argument took place as to whether Goldwyn really makes the zany remarks credited to him. William Crouch of the Motion Picture Daily vouched for the verity of the stories. He said he met Goldwyn at the station a short time ago when he passed through Chicago. As soon as the movie magnate recognized him he said, "No, I haven't anything to say . . . and I'm going to wait till I get to New York to say it!"

We mention the lapel adornment because it is a perfect example of Miss Joyce's idea that jewelry be becoming and whimsical, instead of just expensive. Miss Joyce does designing for Chicago's most fashionable jewelry store. It was the first time we knew any Chicago woman was designing jewelry. One of her pet creations is a clip of moonstones, with a cabochon ruby in the center; another a wrist watch with a cover that opens with a spring, with a ruby set in the face of the watch. "It makes something private and precious of time," explains Miss Joyce, a young woman with imagination.

CAPTAIN COURAGEOUS.

The captain of the Acadia kept the bow of his ship rammed into the gaping hole in the excursion boat Mandalay. This prevented her from sinking until the passengers were removed. It reminded Fred B. Duncan, the man whose hobby is collecting life histories of old lake craft, of an incident in Chicago waters twenty-four years ago. The captain of a burning sidewheeler deliberately rammed the breakwater at the spot where help was waiting, and rammed it hard enough so that the ship was held fast in the wound she cut.

The ship was the City of Chicago. On the last evening of October, 1914, she left St. Joseph for Chicago with a heavy passenger list and loaded to the guards with peaches. Early in the morning fire was discovered. It was burning fiercely and Capt. Bjork was face to face with one of those crises that test shipmasters' souls. . . . He could abandon the ship in boats—a dangerous maneuver with a crew untrained to small boat handling and with panicky women to get over the side. Or he could hold his course and challenge the flames to a race. We'll let Mr. Duncan finish his tale.

"The fire was well aft and the vessel's steady progress into the wind retarded it. Stopping to launch boats undoubtedly would cause the fire to sweep through the ship at once. He gave orders to hold the men at the engines and fire doors no matter what happened and to wring every last knot out of her. His plan apparently was to run into the Chicago river mouth and make fast to the jetty, with his passengers ready to pour over the side to safety.

"But it was too close a finish for that. The coast guard lookout atop the station on the breakwater that hems in Grant park harbor saw a cloud of fire and smoke coming out of the hazy dawn full speed ahead straight for him. All ablaze aft, with all but the resolute engine crew crowded forward, the ship seemed bent on piling herself against the porch of the keeper's dwelling. The watchman gave the alarm; boats were lowered and crews with scaling ladders organized, standing by on the piling waiting for her to strike.

"And strike she did—so hard that she cut fifteen or twenty feet into the breakwater, which was of stout timber in those days. Capt. Bjork had been forced to revise his plan. There was so much fire he dared not approach a dock. But he could and did ram the breakwater at the spot where help was waiting and hold the ship fast. It was good seamanship and bravely done."

The City of Chicago rebuilt, became the City of St. Joseph. A year or two ago she was cut down to make a barge. The bow which so dauntlessly crashed into the seawall now meekly follows a puffing tug.

THE POWER OF THE X-RAY.

EVER since our first knowledge of that unique form of invisible light which we know as the X-ray the public has looked on it as possessing well nigh supernatural powers. No matter what one complains of, a friend may ask, "Have you been X-rayed?"

Unfortunately, there are many ailments the existence of which cannot be disclosed by shadow pictures. All they can do is to supply us with a silhouette record on a photographic film of the presence of substances which cannot be penetrated completely. Bones, and hence fractures, are easily discernible and concretions such as those which form occasionally in the bladder, kidneys, and elsewhere may be seen. By means of special dyes the gall bladder and the kidneys may be visualized. In addition, we can determine much that is wrong with the digestive tract through feeding barium and studying the plates.

But the force is not omnipotent either in identifying disease or in cure. Nevertheless, the more we understand its properties, the more we are astounded at its value as a healing agent quite apart from its worth in locating trouble.

What is the X-ray? Is it made up of waves which are shorter than those which give us visible light? What are its effects upon the cells? Enough is now known to state that small doses may stimulate cells; medium doses slow growth, sometimes retarding it altogether; while large amounts destroy tissue equivalent to coagulation or burning.

Some parts of the body are more susceptible than others. For example, lymph tissue is highly sensitive and may be affected by an exposure which is quite harmless to most organs. In some measure we may liken the influence to that of sunlight, where a minimal proportion will be stimulating and will enhance health. Too much, on the other hand, may cause irritation of such severity as to result in an illness.

For the most part X-ray is given for the purpose of destroying cell elements which have become too active. The function of an ovary can be inhibited through very light exposures because this organ is both delicate and sensitive. But a tumor of the bone will require a powerful application. And herein lies a serious handicap. In order to destroy the enlargement the strength may need to be so great that sloughing of the overlying skin will follow. Because physicians are not willing to risk the formation of deep ulceration they are not able to apply—at one sitting—the force at their command. It has been learned that the fairly frequent use of smaller quantities will not injure the cuticle but will bring about the desired effect.

With skin growths uniform improvement has been observed. But we must recall that early attack is essential. In involvement of the breast with tumors supposed to be malignant, the ideal treatment consists of preliminary X-ray followed by surgery. After recovery, radiation is again advised.

But we must not consider Roentgen's notable discovery as applicable only to cancer. Abdominal adhesions may be combated, lesions of the epidermis caused to vanish, the skin stimulated, pain relieved, and—in many instances—the virulence of bacterial infections reduced. But because it is so potent it cannot be employed with impunity and never should be administered except by one highly trained in its administration. We would not think of subjecting ourselves to an important surgical procedure except at the hands of an expert. The necessity for long study and experience before one may judiciously use the X-ray is acknowledged.

CAN TELL WHO IS NOT.

Mrs. M. writes:

1. How many types of blood are there?
2. Can a test determine positively the parents of a child?

REPLY.

1. Four.
2. The test can determine who is not the parent of the child, but cannot say for sure who is. If an adult's blood matches that of a child he or she might be a parent.

TREATING DRY CATARRH.

A. B. writes: What can be done for dry catarrh?

REPLY.

Some atrophy of the nasal mucous membrane probably has occurred. The employment of a nonirritating fluid for irrigation purposes is suggested and a bit of white vaseline may be placed within each nostril both morning and evening. If relief is not obtained, a nose and throat specialist should be consulted.

PROBABLY SINUS INFECTION.

J. B. writes: Whenever there is a change in the weather my nose becomes clogged and I develop a headache. What disorder would explain these symptoms?

REPLY.

Probably you have a sinus infection which increases in severity at times. The mucous membrane may swell, due to some infection or to sensitivity to some protein.

SEND FOR LEAFLET.

E. C. writes: Is there a cure for athlete's foot? Each year I am bothered with this disorder.

REPLY.

Yes. Some cases respond to one form of treatment and some to another. We have a leaflet describing various plans which you can secure by sending a stamped, addressed envelope with request.

WHY NOT TAX PUBLIC JOB HOLDERS?

Chicago, June 12.—So they are scratching their heads as to where to get additional money for relief?

In view of the fact that most of us have already been taxed to the point where our savings are dwindling to the vanishing point in the endeavor to keep off the relief roll, I wonder why it has never occurred to the officials that this might be a good time to start in taxing all employés of city, county, and federal [and not exempting school teachers] governments?

They have all got STEADY jobs, STEADY pay, and are well able to pay their share.

At End of My Rope.

LOCATING THE SHADOW.

Chicago, June 10.—A long time ago some one observed that coming events cast their shadows before. Well, this country was deep in a great shadow back in 1931, '32, and '33. What great event did it portend? Was it prohibition? That was not a shadow, it was here. Was it the Old Guard Republicans? They were defeated in the election of November, 1930. Was it the Hoover administration? That also was blamed for our misery, but that was not coming; it was on the way out. Looking back from the vantage point of five years of lapsed time we can now see what that big event was. It was what happened on March 4, 1933. On that date the country got Roosevelt.

W. D. BINGIM.

SHE QUOTES CARLYLE.

Chicago, June 11.—What with people cheating on relief and others raising Cain to get something for nothing, we can see whither we are drifting. I see so many people without a purpose that I am prompted to quote Thomas Carlyle, who said:

"From the lowest depths there is a path to the loftiest heights. The tendency to persevere, to persist despite hindrances, discouragements, and impossibilities, distinguishes the strong from the weak. The people without a purpose can be likened to ships without rudders."

MRS. ISABEL CAMPBELL.

HE HAS A SOLUTION.

Chicago, June 8.—Instead of knocking the New Deal why don't you suggest something? We will never get anywhere until we start taxing labor-saving machinery because stubborn business will not pass on the savings when they install these machines but stick the extra profits in their pockets. I say: Tax the labor replacing machines on what they save.

UNBIASED BROADCASTS?

Chicago, June 9.—I love baseball for what it has given the sporting public and I manage to take in every game that I can, but there are certain days when business compels me to do otherwise, so I try to listen to an impartial play-by-play description via radio, but this season there seems to be an epidemic of Cub-er-itis on the part of every sports announcer on the Chicago radio stations.

The sportscasters who broadcast the games from Wrigley field seem to think that every listener wants the Cubs to win. They don't seem to realize that there are thousands of listeners all over the country who want the opposition to win. We want sportsmanship, not favoritism.

I often wonder if the sponsors of the baseball broadcasts ever listen to some of the games, and if they do how can they stand by and see such descriptions pushed down the throats of prospective purchasers of their products.

HARRY N. STROUSS.

WHO ARE ON THE COMMITTEE?

Chicago, June 9.—I recently read an item headed "Citizens Ask New Schools Chief." It went on to say that the citizens referred to were the "citizens' school committee."

I demand that this committee which is attempting to speak for "citizens" publish a list of its members and their positions.

The list will probably reveal that the principal supports of this request are a small group of agitating and discontented school teachers. As a general rule efficient individuals lead happy lives. Is the tempo of our efficient school system too fast? If this is so then why not retire them to some less efficient organization instead of trying to reduce the overall high efficiency of our schools in order to accommodate them.

There are thousands of competent and qualified teachers anxious to get into the Chicago schools. We will have no trouble in replacing this discontented group.

A CITIZEN.

TAXING THE FISHERMAN.

Chicago, June 12. — The great taxing bodies of our state have now increased the cost of obtaining a license to fish. Heretofore the cost was 50 cents. Now it is 75 cents.

Even grafting on the little fellow who spends a few week-ends in summer fishing on an Illinois inland lake and who often returns with but a few of the finny tribe after sitting in a leaky boat all day.

Recently I was visiting in Wisconsin. I was surprised to discover that in that state, where numerous fish are to be had at most any time, the fisherman who fishes without a reel on his pole pays no license at all. Those who do use such a device are compelled to pay one dollar.

The taxing bodies of that state, I believe, are using common sense. They realize that the fisherman who can afford to buy a reel for his pole surely can pay a license fee. Then, too, game fish are easier to hook when using a reel.

I have an idea for these politicians. Why not tax the fisherman of Illinois who returns home with more than six crappies and two three-inch perch after fishing from dawn to dusk?

MAT J. ARENS.

SUGGESTS MASSMEETINGS.

Chicago, June 6.—The account in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE of the massmeeting held in the Salt Lake City tabernacle was about the first indication that the American people are beginning to realize what is being done to them by the government at Washington. It might awaken all of the country to a realization of what is transpiring against them to call massmeetings of the same kind in every large city.

The amphitheater here in Chicago should be too small to accommodate all those interested if they only knew it. An umbrella over the whole city would cover all those interested.

I wonder whether such a meeting could not be brought about here in Chicago the same as it was at Salt Lake City.

BUILDINGS ORDERED WRECKED.

Chicago, June 10.—[Friend of the People.]—Why does the city not do something about the dangerous old wreck at Nos. 215 to 21 on our street? These buildings have been falling to pieces for years. Some day there will be a tragedy. The children seem to love to play about it and although I punish mine for doing so the older children dare them and they go anyway. The place is not only an eye-sore but a public menace. Please see what you can do to get some action. M. S.

Our inspector reports that these are vacant buildings of frame construction, veneered with four inches of brick. The buildings are badly gutted and some of the bricks are loose. The owner has been notified to have these buildings wrecked by a licensed house wrecker and if the work is not done at the expiration of time allotted in our notice, we will proceed according to law. In the meantime the police department has been requested to watch the premises.

RICHARD E. SCHMIDT,
Commissioner of Buildings.

INSURANCE POLICIES.

Chicago, June 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am skeptical of certain life insurance policies I hold. Will you please advise me [1] if I could take them to a lawyer to read over and explain to me? Also [2] is there a very large charge for this? J. L.

1. Obviously, you could take them to him. It seems possible that an insurance broker would already be familiar with the wording and could explain it to you more readily than the lawyers, unless actual difficulties are involved.

2. Depends on the lawyer, and on the difficulties of the problems that you raise.

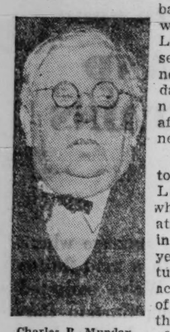
CHAS. B. MUNDAY DIES; FIGURE IN LORIMER CRASH

Brief Illness Is Fatal to Fallen Financier.

Charles B. Munday, 76 years old, who was once an associate in the banking business with William Lorimer, ousted senator from Illinois, died yesterday in St. Bernard's hospital after a short illness.



Charles B. Munday.

Munday came to Chicago from Litchfield, Ill., where he operated a flour mill in the early years of the century. He was an active lieutenant of Lorimer, then the "blond boss" of Illinois politics, and aided greatly in his election as senator in 1909.

Organize Savings Bank.

The following year the La Salle Trust and Savings bank was organized, with Lorimer as president and Munday as first vice president. It was still apparently a stanch institution in 1912, when Lorimer was removed from his senate seat. In 1914 it failed with losses of about $2,000,000 to depositors.

Lorimer and Munday were indicted for their share in wrecking the bank. The ex-senator was acquitted, but Munday was found guilty in 1915 of accepting deposits after the bank was known to be insolvent. He won a retrial and was again convicted in 1918 on the same charge. He was sentenced to three years in Joliet penitentiary, but served only eleven months before he was paroled in 1921.

At the time of his release the banker, who once was supposed to have a fortune of $3,000,000, said that he was poor, but that he intended to make a new fortune and pay all losses of the depositors.

Indicted for Embezzlement.

He later became a commission merchant in flour. In 1931 a North Dakota elevator company obtained an indictment charging Munday with embezzling $23,000 of its funds. He was convicted and sentenced to one to ten years in prison. The Illinois Supreme court, however, reversed the verdict, holding there was nothing in the testimony to show Munday converted the money to his own use.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning from St. Ambrose church, 47th street and Ellis avenue. Munday's home was at 4502 Woodlawn avenue.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Hot Tongue and Cold Shoulder

WILLIAM I. LYON, WAUKEGAN BIRD EXPERT, IS DEAD

William I. Lyon, internationally known ornithologist and president of the Inland Bird Banding association, died yesterday of a heart attack while attending a meeting of the Waukegan-North Chicago Real Estate board, of which he was vice president.

William I. Lyon.

Mr. Lyon was 63 years old and was born in Waukegan into a pioneer family. Twenty-five years ago he became one of the first ornithologists to attempt to learn the habits of migratory birds by banding them. Since then he had banded 100,000 birds, which he caught on his estate at 811 North Sheridan road, Waukegan.

In 1933 he began racing cowbirds, a small blackbird, believing them better than pigeons for carrying messages in wartime. One of his birds flew from Chicago to Waukegan, 33 miles, in 50 minutes, and beat a racing pigeon.

Surviving are Mr. Lyon's widow, Mary, a son, George, and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the home, with burial in Pine View cemetery at Waukegan.

FLIGHT TO SAVE YOUTH WITH RARE DISEASE IN VAIN

After a vain attempt to save the life of a Brooklyn youth afflicted with the same rare streptococcus infection from which she recovered, Mrs. Eugene Koehl of Joliet was reported on her way home yesterday.

Mrs. Koehl.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

Mrs. Koehl, a housewife and the mother of five children, answered a broadcast appeal for blood from a person who had recovered from the streptococcic disease. She telephoned a Joliet hospital, which provided fast transportation to Chicago, where she boarded an American Airlines plane.

On her arrival in Newark she was rushed to Kings County hospital, accompanied by a police escort, and there provided blood for a transfusion. The youth who received the blood, Hyman Linderman, 16 years old, died a short time later nevertheless, of a streptococcic infection of the heart. She learned of his death as she rested in his parents' home.

FATHER WEEPS AS SON'S DEATH IN SCUFFLE IS TOLD

Morris Reiff wept yesterday when witnesses told what they knew of the playful scuffle in the Bennett elementary school which preceded the death of his son, David, 8 years old. But when Deputy Coroner Lawrence Rasmussen asked if the father wished any punishment for the boy who struck David, Reiff said:

"It's not his fault. Let him go home."

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death after hearing the story of David's teacher and John Wittorp, 7 years old, of 9953 State street, the boy who struck David. The scuffle occurred last Thursday.

DUNCAN STARTS TERM IN PRISON FOR AUTO DEATH

Milwaukee, Wis., June 13.—[Special.]—Thomas M. Duncan, the little boss, who has helped steer both Mayor Dan Hoan of Milwaukee and Gov. Phil La Follette through the intricacies of radical politics, is a prisoner in the Milwaukee county workhouse tonight. He surrendered to Sherif Edward J. Mitten this afternoon and began serving one to two years imprisonment for causing the death of Henry F. Schuette whom he ran down in his automobile.

Duncan rode from the sherif's office the half a dozen miles to the House of Correction with twenty-two others, mostly drunks, vagrants, and other short termers. Otto Hauser, Socialist secretary to Mayor Hoan, went with him to the sherif's office. Elmer Krahn, business manager of the Milwaukee Leader, of which Duncan was the former publisher, met them and waited for the Black Maria that carried him to the workhouse.

Burial will be in Ridgewood cemetery. Mr. Lockhart died Sunday in St. Luke's hospital. He lived at the Atlantic hotel. He is survived by a son, Gene Lockhart, actor and song writer, now in Hollywood, and a daughter.

Julius Neumann.

Julius Neumann, for thirty years a designer of wind musical instruments, died yesterday in the Edgewater hospital at the age of 79. He lived at 2807 Harrison street, Evanston. Mr. Neumann came to the United States as a small boy from Russia and learned his trade from his father. A son and two daughters survive him. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from 5501 North Ashland avenue. Burial will be in Rosehill mausoleum.

Ellis Ames Ballard.

Ellis Ames Ballard, father of Ernest S. Ballard of Chicago, died yesterday at the family home in Philadelphia. Mr. Ballard, who was 77 years old, was general counsel for the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company. He leaves another son and daughter, Frederick L. Ballard of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Samuel S. Duryee of New York.

Arthur Prentice Rugg.

Sterling, Mass., June 13. — (AP) — Arthur Prentice Rugg, 76 years old, chief justice of the Massachusetts Supreme court, died of bronchial pneumonia yesterday.

William M. Holloway.

Funeral services for William M. Holloway will be held at St. Catherine's church at 9:30 a. m. today. Mr. Holloway, a retired employé of the American Can company, died Friday in New Orleans, where he has made his home for two years. Company officials said he had contributed several important inventions to the can industry. Mr. Holloway was 65 years old. He leaves a widow, Helen, and a son and two daughters, John W. Holloway of Toledo, Mrs. Grace Heinrichs of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Hazel Buck of St. Louis.

M. B. McPartland.

Funeral services for M. B. McPartland, general superintendent of motive power for the Rock Island railroad, will be held at 10 a. m. today in All Saints' cemetery. Mr. McPartland, who lived at 1125 Lunt avenue, died Friday in St. Louis, Mo.

Edward J. Sherwin.

The funeral of Edward J. Sherwin, former resident of Glencoe, was held yesterday in Santa Barbara, Cal. He died last Friday in his home there. His widow, Mrs. May Sherwin, survives.

Mrs. Laura Shedd Schweppe, daughter of the late John G. Shedd, head of Marshall Field & Co., left a tax free fortune of nearly $6,000,000, the bulk of which will be shared by her husband, Charles H. Schweppe, their children, Mrs. A. Watson Armour III., and John S. Schweppe, and nephew, John Bent Jr.

This was disclosed in the report of Attorney Charles A. Hummer, appointed by the Lake county court to appraise the estate. The report will be turned over to Judge Perry L. Persons today.

Two years before her death on April 20, 1937, Mrs. Schweppe placed $3,000,000 in irrevocable trusts for Mr. Schweppe and the children. The appraiser found this is not subject to gift or inheritance taxes. By her will Mrs. Schweppe disposed of property which the appraiser found is worth $5,002,417. This is subject to federal and state inheritance, income, personal property and real estate taxes amounting to $1,973,572. Other debts and expenses of administration left a net estate of $2,997,347. After specific bequests the estate goes to Mr. Schweppe, the children, and Mr. Bent.

GEN. POLZIKOV, ONCE CZAR'S AID, DIES IN FRANCE

METZ, France, June 13.—(AP)—Gen. Michael Polzikov, former aide-de-camp of Czar Nicholas of Russia and commander of a Russian artillery division during the world war, died Saturday in the small frontier village of Wasserbillig. He was 71 years old.

The general, who lived in extreme poverty on a tiny plot of land which he worked himself, died dressed in his old uniform and with his sword by his side and an imperial Russian flag nailed on the bare board wall of his room.

A group of former imperial Russian officers, most of whom are working as miners and day laborers in the frontier region, carried Polzikov to his grave. He had lived in Turkey and Bulgaria before coming to France.

Add to Parties for Gay Week of Horse Show

BY JUDITH CASS.

LAKE FOREST residents, be they of the "horsy" set or just hospitable, are preparing for a festive time on June 22, 23, 24 and 25, for the Lake Forest horse show on those days will attract numerous guests. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bredin of Detroit are coming over for the show and during the time they are in Lake Forest they will be with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Connors. Mrs. William Cox of Cohasset, Mass., who is to be a judge, will be the house guest of the junior William B. McIlvaines.

Hart Vance of St. Louis will stay with the Joseph T. Bowens, and the Carl Bakewells and Lewis Waring of the same Missouri city will be with the Albert B. Dicks. Albert B. Dick III. is bringing three young men from Yale to be his guests during the show. The Dicks expected the Adrian Van Sinderens of New York to be their guests, too, but he is a judge in the Olympic horse show in London, England, so he and Mrs. Van Sinderen will not be in Lake Forest. His horses will be here, however.

Fort Sheridan to Have Guests.

Capt. and Mrs. Earl Thomson of Fort Leavenworth will be with Capt. and Mrs. Edwin C. Greiner at Fort Sheridan. The Greiners are leaving shortly after the show to take up their residence at Fort Leavenworth much to the regret of their many friends on the north shore. Col. and Mrs. Wilfrid Blunt will have with them at Fort Sheridan Capt. and Mrs. John Wofford. The Donald Ordways, who are coming to show their string of horses, will stay at the Deerpath Inn.

In addition to the social affairs already announced the John F. Jelkes will have a dinner party Thursday night, June 23, for the visiting military teams and the judges. Gen. Karl Truesdell, in behalf of the Fort Sheridan Horse Show association, has extended an invitation to the Lake Forest Horse Show association, of which Mr. Dick is president, for luncheon at the Officers' club at Fort Sheridan on Friday, June 24.

Gregory-Fogarty Nuptials Today.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Evanston home of her father, Eugene H. Garnett, Gloria Garnett Gregory will be married to Gerard A. Fogarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fogarty of Evanston. The Rev. Arthur T. Clark of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston, will read the service in the presence of relatives, and a small reception will follow.

Today marks the thirty-eighth wedding anniversary of Mr. Garnett and the late Louise Ayres Garnett. Miss Isabel Fiske will be Mrs. Gregory's only attendant and Auwell Fogarty will be his brother's best man. Another brother, Clifford Fogarty, and his bride have come from New York for the wedding.

Mrs. Louis B. Beardslee Jr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Wickersham, who with Mr. Wickersham has come from Owensboro, Ky., for the wedding, will be honorary bridesmaids. After a short wedding trip Mr. Fogarty and his bride will return to Evanston to make their home with her father.

Miss Dorothy West to Be Bride Saturday.

A romance that began while both were living at International house at the University of Chicago will be climaxed with the marriage Saturday of Miss Dorothy Juliet West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Henry West of Evanston, to Alfred Frank Whiting, son of Mrs. Alfred Lewis Whiting of Burlington, Vt.

Miss West, who has just returned from a year in Honolulu, where she was director of occupational therapy in the Leahi hospital, is a graduate in social service of the University of Chicago and of the Philadelphia School of Occupational Therapy. Mr. Whiting is a graduate of the University of Vermont and received his M. A. in anthropology at the University of Chicago.

The wedding will take place in the chapel of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Evanston at noon, followed by a reception in Glenna hall, and a breakfast in the dining room of the church. Mr. Whiting and his bride will live in Flagstaff, Ariz., where he is curator of botany at the Museum of Northern Arizona.

Miss Jeanette Nelson Leaves for East.

Miss Jeanette Nelson, daughter of Mrs. Edward W. Boehm, has gone east to be a bridesmaid at the wedding on Saturday in Wilmington, Del., of Miss Mary Kaye Phelps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zach Phelps, to Robert Roloff Morgan Carpenter Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. M. Carpenter of Wilmington, and a nephew of Pierre and Lammot du Pont. Miss Nelson and Miss Phelps were classmates at Northwestern university.

From Wilmington Miss Nelson will go to Princeton university for the prom and commencement exercises, to be the guest of James Culver McCormick Shields II. of Washington, D. C., and Miami Beach, Fla., who is

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

A new cleansing cream is just what most of us want for summer—it's of medium weight, cleanses efficiently and lubricates enough to do away with flakiness. Since in warm weather one must cleanse more frequently this texture is perfect.

When the weather begins to warm up even the most dry skinned beauty seeker casts about for a cleansing cream that is at least medium weight. The heavier creams seem almost too much of a burden.

One of the beauty houses has just brought out a medium weight cleanser that strikes us as being about right. It cleanses well; we think this is extremely important in summer, when you are out of doors more, when the dust flies blithely, and when you yourself are inclined to perspire more than at any other season.

It's imperative to use a cream that leaves the skin radiantly fresh. But also, for comfort's sake, it's important to use a cream that isn't too heavy. Who want's any trace of oiliness on her skin in summer? It's hard enough to look fresh as a flower, Lord knows, without that!

This cream is white, has a nice smooth texture that feels good against the skin, and is scented very delicately. It's the sort of cleanser you'll particularly enjoy in warm weather when freshness is what you must strive for.

The fact that it is medium weight doesn't mean that it doesn't do some efficient undercover oiling, though. Experiments have shown that this is a good cleansing cream choice for the kind of skin that flakes. There is just enough of a lubricating element to keep the flaking and peeling subdued.

You'll find this cream quite right in price and you can buy one of three sizes, ranging from a four ounce jar to a big, money saving jar containing sixteen ounces. ELEANOR NANGLE.

[For information about this cleansing cream telephone Eleanor Nangle, Superior 0100.]

Castel's Brush Is Dated, but It Creates Humor

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

An exhibition of typical French paintings is current in the Tudor gallery, Chicago Woman's club. Castel is the artist and he is a young man [thirty-one says the foreword in the catalog], so it is the more odd that his work is distinctly dated. These paintings are similar to canvases by Utrillo which were first shown us some twenty years ago.

They are curiously dark in tone, an orange yellow and a dull red seeming to predominate. The deeper red, for which Castel is known to have a flair, flickers unexpectedly in picture after picture but never to more amusing effect than in "Luxembourg Gardens in Fall." Here we see a Charlie Chaplinish street cleaner pushing an intriguing small vehicle; the scattered other members of the public present are costumed in red blouses to such an incongruous extent that the result is highly diverting.

"After School" is amusingly naïve, "cute" is the fitting adjective. "Side Street—Paris" is also on the funny side. The "Persian Tapestry" is the most modern canvas present; it is quaint, stiff, naïve and the all over pattern of its design puts it into the Lauren Ford class, much to its advantage. "Yvette-Portrait" shows a young woman wearing a hat perched so high on her head it is practially floating above it. This boasts an 1890 flavor.

The exhibition will continue through June 30. The humor which darts in and out of the paintings is a great attraction.

On these days a reminder that cold and snow are possibilities to be reckoned with does not come amiss. The exhibit of skiing paintings by A. Sheldon Pennoyer in the Ackermann galleries, 408 South Michigan avenue, tells a jolly tale of long days on snowy slopes.

The paintings are well done; snow, figures, and shadows are well handled. The different mountain scenes, each holding swift figures on long runners, are decorative in effect and fairly thrilling.

Linne School to Receive Bust of Famed Botanist

A bronze bust of Carl Linne, eighteenth century Swedish botanist, will be presented to the Linne Elementary school, 3221 North Sacramento avenue, today by Nels Olson, member of the board of education. The bust is the work of Carl J. Nilsson, a Chicago sculptor. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, will accept the bust and it will be unveiled by Gosta Oldenburg, Swedish consul at Chicago.

Dark Dresses Are Bases for Many Outfits

BY RHEA SEEGER.

No summer wardrobe is complete without one slim super-fitting black or dark toned "basic" dress. Even though the name belies their sleek distinction, these dresses have been well named. For with such a dress, any imaginative clothes hound can accomplish much with colored accessories. Jewelry, hats, long, luxurious gloves, boleros, belts, and similar dramatics dress this costume up or down, depending upon the occasion.

There's a superior new showing of such basic dresses, ready as the season opens. They're exquisitely sheer and clinging, miracles of simplicity, with fine workmanship and details that make them look far more expensive than they are. Under the $25 limit, they are finds.

No reason at all why they can't be worn the year round either, but as hot weather black beauties they can't be beaten. One has delicate insets of sheer black net, another has shirring and dressmaker details. All of them boast high, rib hugging bodices with narrow band tie sashes to accent the thin waistlines.

Sleeves are extremely short and the skirts simple in streamline with a plait for action in the front. Such are the dresses with which you play the effective game of contrast. Cool, dead-white clips, clips of rosy coral, or chunky pins of pale blue or green are worn with big summer hats to match. White turbans or burnt toast colored hats with a matching belt or gloves are other possibilities.

The newest fashion wave is stunning slip-on gloves of thin soft lether in kidskin or exceedingly soft suede. They are worn with dramatic high crowned hats with eye flattering wide brims, also fashioned of thin lether a couple of shades lighter than the gloves.

Arden Shore Board Gives Tea Party to Welcome Members

The tea that the Chicago board of the Arden Shore association gave yesterday at the Arts club to welcome new members was a gay party. Miss Anna Belle Ferrier, head of the Arden Shore camp, gave an amusing yet appealing talk about camp life. Mrs. Harold Moore introduced the new members, who will be active all summer selling tickets to the board's fall benefit, a dance Oct. 8 at the Drake hotel.

Miss Julianna Holmes is chairman of the board, of which Mrs. Thomas J. Fleming is the honorary chairman.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Behind the Scenes.

Hollywood, Cal., June 13. — In August of 1919 Freeman Gosden introduced himself to Charlie Correll in the Elks' club at Durham, N. C., where Correll was staging a semi-pro show for the Joe Bren Productions, a Chicago producing firm that since has folded. "I'm busy now arranging this show," Correll said. "What's on your mind?" That's really how Amos 'n' Andy were born, and I suppose if you took a cross section of America you'd find that more people have listened to them than any other radio act. In twelve years they have broadcast about 6,300 times. No other radio act is even close to that record. Burns and Allen, in seven years, have broadcast about 430 times, which will establish the proportion.

Gosden and Correll broadcast as a team for the first time as long ago as 1920 in New Orleans, where they were staging a show for the Joe Bren Productions. They were not then a talking act, but a singing duo. A lady, tuning in on her crystal headpiece set [remember them?] rushed to the broadcast room and told them that she had heard them. "How far away do you live from here?" Correll asked suspiciously. She told them that she lived seven blocks away from the hall. Gosden and Correll believed that the promoter of the broadcast had hired the lady to aver she had heard them; were convinced she was a "shill" or plant. They didn't believe radio was on the level, and were convinced it didn't have a future.

Instead of concentrating on radio, they made singing records. The sixth platter they made was a song called "Georgianna." Notified of the release date, they went to a Chicago store to buy it. "All sold out," said the clerk. Flattered, they went to another music shop. "Sorry, that platter is all sold out," the clerk told them. Gosden and Correll left the shop elated. "At last, we've clicked," said Correll. They went to the Congress and celebrated with a drink. They learned, a few hours later, why their record was selling out. The reverse side of the platter offered Gene Austin [the Crosby of his day] singing "Blue Heaven."

Their uneasiness at this ego-puncturing discovery was to reach a climax a few months later. The record people summoned them to the main office to listen to a disc. They rushed over, thinking that it was one of their records. Instead it was Paul Whiteman's Rhythm boys singing "Mississippi Mud." Correll and Gosden listened to the rhythm trickeration effects attentively. "What do you think?" asked the official who had invited them over. "I think," said Gosden, "that you will never hear us sing another song. Those guys are doing the things we should like to do, but can't." They never made another record or sang another song. The Rhythm boys put the silencer on them for all time. One of the Rhythm boys was a pretty fair singer tagged Bing Crosby.

Looking back at twelve years of broadcasting, from the time in Chicago that they started out as Sam 'n' Henry, owners of a mythical taxicab, Amos 'n' Andy will tell you that the broadcasting processes have changed largely. "In the early days," Gosden pointed out, "because of the hazards of broadcasting and reception, we never permitted a lull in the program. If Amos were to ask Andy a question, the question would be answered immediately, because if there was even a second's pause, people listening in would think we were off the air or that something had gone wrong with their sets. So dialog in the old days was unnatural and stilted because there was no 'break' in it. We read some of our old scripts the other night—it's unbelievable how bad they were, judged from 1938 standards. The same scripts, mind you, that were hot stuff in the old days.

"Today, we can pause for two seconds between a question and answer. Radio has developed and listeners are smarter. Along with this has come another change. The audiences demand characters that are more sophisticated. Amos, who started out as a dopey fellow, now has become wise to the ways of the world. The people resented his doing things that were stupid, so we smartened him up."

George Burns chimed in, "Audiences certainly are smarter, and as they've become smarter, the radio stations have relaxed a lot of restrictions that once handicapped all of us. For instance, in the old days, if we took a taxicab, on the program, we had to make the people believe that actually we were traveling in a cab. The other night, the script called for us to take a taxi. As we climbed out, I said: 'The only place you can travel fast in a taxicab is on the radio.' In the old days, that would have been taboo, because radio was young and took itself with dead-panned seriousness. The old thought was to fool the listeners; today the idea is to bring the listeners in behind the scenes, and let them have some fun. Radio, in other words, has grown big enough to spoof itself, and that permits a wider comedy scope."

How much money Amos 'n' Andy have made from radio I don't know. It runs into seven figures, and the entertainment they have provided is cheap at that price. Amos, who is Gosden, comes from Richmond, Va. Andy, who is Correll, comes from Peoria, Ill. Amos was unmarried when they started as a team. Today he has a 10 year old son who serves as their severest critic.

Good Morning!

Thirty thousand dollars seems a lot of money, BUT—

When 10 men set out to STEAL it, they're just plain dumb. BECAUSE—

After overhead for protection, necessary paraphernalia, etc., has been subtracted, why, the remainder per man doesn't even amount to good wages.

This startling fact Miss Sidney proves by mathematical deduction in the Chicago's current feature film—a drama concerned with ex-convicts and directed by the man who so powerfully guided the destinies of "Fury" and "You Only Live Once."

"You and Me"—interesting, but neither as arrestingly storied nor brilliantly directed as were the aforementioned photoplays—sings in minor key of parolees male and female, and their difficulties in adjusting themselves to post-prison environment.

It is a tragic tale, characterized by some originality in the manner of depiction. For instance, as preface, a behind scenes voice is used to state the theme. Then, right about in the middle of the film the story fades into a demonstration of the tap system employed in penal institutions as a means of communication between cells. This last you may find faintly confusing.

The acting is all most commendable and suspense runs high at times.

One thing's certain, "You and Me" DOES have an intelligent thought behind it.

See you tomorrow.

The Housewife

College girls started the storage-box-under-the-bed idea years ago. It was because, somehow, their clothes closets were always filled to bursting. Now apartment dwellers and small home owners can make use of the capacious box that can be parked under a bed.

We saw such a chest the other day and, although it was made of steel, it was easy to move about on swivel casters. It was finished in a nice brown tone and its price was certainly not expensive. It measured 30 by 19 by 15¼ inches.

Mrs. Simpkins Is "Woman I Love" in Play

The Barnum Players, an amateur group with a record for winning prizes in little theater contests, appeared last night in a light comedy called "The Woman I Love," at the Chicago Woman's club theater. This performance will be followed by a tour through the summer resort colonies of Wisconsin.

The play is of concealed authorship, but the company's announcements state that it is an adaptation of an European original. Royalty in exile and its quest for true love is the theme; the penchant of King Alfred of "Labania" for a young American widow coyly named Mrs. Walter Simpkins is placed in contract with Princess Maria's distaste for a marriage of convenience with a certain Prince Carol.

The acting is acceptable amateurism.

The Federal Theater project will stage a ballet program at the Great Northern theater next Sunday night for a limited engagement. Three ballet numbers of modern type will be presented—"Frankie and Johnny" and "An American Pattern," directed by Ruth Page; and "Behind This Mask," directed by Grace and Kurt Graff.

"Golden Boy," a drama by Clifford Odets, will come to Chicago for an engagement at the Harris theater, opening Sept. 12. This production by the Group Theater will be offered under the auspices of the Theater guild and the American Theater society. The cast will be headed by Luther Adler and Frances Farmer.

HENRY FORD BESTOWS KISS ON HIS NIECE AS SHE RECEIVES DEGREE

Granville, O., June 13.—(AP)—Betty Bryant got a surprise reward today in addition to her diploma at Denison university's commencement—a kiss from her uncle, Henry Ford.

The Detroit motor magnate, who has been too busy on many occasions to receive honors conferred on him, took time off to pay an unexpected visit here to see Miss Bryant graduated. As she emerged from the chapel, diploma in hand, Ford kissed her on the lips. Admiring students gathered around them.

Ford came here with the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Bryant of Dearborn, Mich.

Announcement is made of the marriage Saturday of Miss Clarice Anderson, daughter of Mrs. Clarence Mason Anderson of Des Moines, Ia., to John H. Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Halbert Frank Riley of Wilmette. The wedding took place in the library of the First Baptist church, Evanston. Mr. Riley and his bride, both graduates of Northwestern university, will make their home in Winnetka.

Heiress to Marry Horseman Despite Father's Protests

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Andrea Luckenbach, 18 years old, daughter of Edgar F. Luckenbach, shipping magnate, and William Dobbs, 23 years old, gentleman rider and saddle salesman, will be married tomorrow at Great Neck, N. Y., despite Mr. Luckenbach's disapproval of the match.

The father, it was learned, has told friends: "Never mention my daughter's name to me again."

For the first time since it was organized Miss Luckenbach was not present yesterday at the big horse show given by her father on his Sands Point estate. It was at one of these shows she met Dobbs.

When she is 21 Miss Luckenbach will inherit $1,000,000 from the estate of her mother, the late Andrea Marie Fenwick Luckenbach, who died last year.

SYNOPSIS.

Elizabeth Sandal is shocked to find her children, Dorothea and Oliver, resent their father's will that unexpectedly left a fortune to her and did not mention them. She goes off to Switzerland for a change and rest, and meets Andrew Leicester, who was a groom at her wedding. Andrew, a widower, is returning after years of absence in the east to meet his children. William, his son, lives with a bachelor relative. His daughter Shirley with his wife's relatives. Shirley was in an airplane accident with a young pilot, Tony Voisin, after which Tony's engagement to another girl was broken. Her mother's people blame Shirley. Andrew hopes to have it out with Shirley before seeing his in-laws. Shirley believes he is aligned with her hated relatives and treats him coolly. Andrew turns to Elizabeth for sympathy. She tries to make friends with the boy and girl. Oliver visits his mother and lingers to fall in love with Shirley. After William flies back to school, Shirley enlists Oliver's aid and summons Tony Voisin, who explains to her father that he—not Shirley's actions—broke his engagement. Even though the scandal is cleared up, Andrew and Shirley quarrel fiercely. Shirley taunts him with marrying "that old woman," meaning her hated aunt. Andrew thinks she means Elizabeth.

INSTALMENT XXXVIII.

UNSPOKEN FAREWELL.

Andrew controlling himself with a supreme effort, moved away from the door.

"That's quite enough, Shirley. I've finished. You can do what you please . . . go where you like. . . . Just be good enough to let me know as soon as possible what you wish to do and I'll endeavor to arrange it," he said. "If you will also give me a list of these people to whom you say you have been painted in such unedifying colors, I will see them. . . . I shall also deal with your grandmother, even though you have chosen to confide these stories to Voisin and young Sandal and kept them from me. . . . As to your last speech——about a lady from whom you have received nothing but kindness and generosity——that I shall never forgive. . . . Let us by all means not brawl in public however . . . oblige me at least by going down to dinner and behaving with what civility you can. It is the last thing I shall ever ask of you."

He opened the door.

"There is no occasion to run away either. You can tell me your wishes as early as you choose in the morning. Is that clear?"

"Quite, thanks."

Head high, she marched past him and out of the room.

Andrew sat down on the bed and covered his face with his hands. He was utterly wretched and broken. So this was the end of his years of work and exile, was it? He remembered with bitter wonder the little creature who had seemed long ago the almost incredible fulfilment of his love for Helen. The child friendly, but a little strange on his two short visits home at intervals of years. The exquisite young beauty who had met him in Paris and never since, it seemed to him, given him a gentle glance or word.

The unexpectedness of the attack about Elizabeth Sandal, as he believed —"that old woman who hasn't even seen you for years and years,"—had sent the whole of the disastrous interview finally awry.

Shirley on an upright chair in her room tried to still the shaking of her arms and legs. She dared not lie down or even seek the comfort of an easy chair, for that would have meant collapse. She knew the worst now. Her doubts were gone or become certainties and she would cast them away, despising them for what they were. These last months and their trivial miseries were not worth her anger or her hate and them too she would fling off.

Quickly she began to dress. Her thoughts were in the English countryside very far from Sussex where at this time only a year ago and for many years before she had looked out at the lovely spring. Tomorrow night, perhaps, she would see a hundred lighted windows in the dusk and the wide doors flung open to welcome her again.

She had foreseen the issue and planned her retreat. Over the telephone she had spoken to one in England who had for ten years watched her with cool dispassionate eyes.

There was a trust between this elderly ruler of the young and Shirley Leicester, once of that kingdom, a trust without the chains of intimacy or affection. Against such an unimpeachable sanctuary no voice could be raised. Her ways were known there and her story would be safely told.

There remained only this evening of unspoken farewell to the friends Shirley had made and might hope before long to see again.

To Mrs. Sandal as usual Shirley could say little for Andrew engaged her in talk and besides, what was there that she could say?

"Would you care to go out?" Oliver asked, leading her away as soon as dinner was over.

"I suppose we couldn't just sit, could we?" she said. "I want to go to bed early."

"War tired you out?" he suggested. "I've always heard they are a bit hard on the feet. But you won, of course. All the old cats on the run?"

Oliver found two deep chairs in a quiet corner. He had not been blind through dinner to a new atmosphere of strain between the combatants, and he longed to comfort and protect her against every mischance.

"Comfortable?" he asked, giving her a cigaret and wondering why he was such a fool that he could not snatch her up in his arms.

"Yes, thanks. I couldn't really have walked a yard. This is lovely."

"You're worried," said Oliver gently. "You don't mean to tell me he has been beastly to you."

"O no," she rallied quickly at this question, for there was nothing here that Oliver could do. "But we just don't speak the same language, my father and I. . . . It's all right though. He's going to let me earn my living."

"Let you? What a favor!" exclaimed Oliver indignantly. "Is the man mad? . . . Shirley, I simply can't stick the idea. I love you so . . . more than the whole world, my sweet. . . . Please, marry me and let me be good to you. . . . Even if you can't love me—and why should you . . . ."

"No, no, you don't mean it," she stammered incredulously. "It's only because you think I'm worried but I'm not really . . . it's only because. . . . I don't love any one in that way. . . . I've had no chance . . . and you don't know what I'm like, Oliver . . ."

"From the first minute when you looked up," said Oliver, "I was bowled over. I'm serious, my darling."

"You are my best friend . . . but no one can love and hate at the same time and I've been hating hard for months . . . idiotic I know," she assured him eagerly. "Please don't imagine you really love me . . . you may feel quite different when you get home. . . . I do like you terribly, but that's not enough. . . . I've been rather put off love by all this . . . I want to get away from it."

"You come home with mother and me for a bit," pleaded Oliver, "until you have time to look around at least. You shan't hear a word of love, I swear it, and we'll just have a jolly time. That's what you need. . . . I know I'm a precipitate ass, and I didn't mean to spring it on you."

"Later on it would be marvelous to come," she said gratefully, and moved back in her chair, seeing someone pass the door.

She thought if her father looked in he might think she was talking to Oliver about him, and then remembered this was unimportant. They had, in fact, parted for good when she left his room and nothing now could alter the views he held about her or hers of him. He had always been somewhere in the background of her life and now he had gone. That was all the difference it made when you looked at it clearly.

Mrs. Sandal was his friend. How then could she possibly go there, even if she had not already made a different arrangement, until he was in Sussex and out of the way?

"I can't come yet, Oliver, really," she said, "but please ask me to come some time again. . . . It isn't because of what you said . . . I have things to do."

"Yes, but . . . punch my head if you don't like the question . . . you haven't quarreled with your father? You don't mean to say he isn't going to scrag those people?"

"That's all right," she assured him. "He wants to go into that with me in the morning. He wants me to give him a complete list."

Bitterness had crept into her voice as she saw the absurd hypocrisy of the request from a man who was going to live and make his friends among her enemies. "We are strangers, so why should we get on? He doesn't like anything about me and I can't talk to him. . . . I won't go back to Sussex, I am old enough to choose and he has agreed to let me do as I like."

"Go back to that place?" he cried.

"I'm not going, don't worry," she smiled at him. "Smoke another cigaret, and at ten if you don't mind awfully I shall go up."

The mango isn't a new fruit or a hybrid. It's centuries old and came to us from India and the orient. Like the avocado, it now is grown in this country, in Florida, and in California. Perhaps you have seen some of the beautiful, smooth skinned red and yellow fruit in grocers' windows and have wondered about it.

Mangoes are large, oval fruit with a thin, tough skin and a single, rather flat seed. They weigh from one-half pound to two pounds, and their golden flesh tastes like food for the gods. It reminds you of peaches and apricots and plums and pineapple, and even a little bit of cantaloupe. There is a delicious aroma about the mango which is a part of the delight of eating it.

Since there are hundreds of varieties of mangoes, it isn't to be supposed that all of them are as good as this. Some of them are quite fibrous, but in our markets we seldom find any but the kind I've described.

Mangoes are best eaten fresh, I think, although they may be made into preserves and pies, too. They're rather expensive—I paid 19 cents apiece for mangoes I purchased recently—so I'm sure that there aren't many women who will want to put them in pies and preserves.

One mango will serve two as a dessert. Cut the fruit in halves, remove the seed, and provide a spoon with each serving. Some hostesses fill the seed cavity with cracked ice or with ice cream, although I think the simpler way is as good.

Mangoes may be peeled and sliced into salad combinations with other fruits. The flesh may be crushed and added to ice cream mixtures, just as other fruit is used. Crushed mango pulp makes a good topping for ice cream, too.

Connoisseurs of this rich fleshed fruit are particular about preserving the aroma. For that reason they do not peel mangoes until they are ready to serve them, or they serve them with the peeling left on and let the guest strip his own fruit or spoon it from the shell.

The mango season has just begun. The fruit will be coming to Chicago markets all summer, although it will not be seen in all large markets by any means.

Bogart Wishes Illini Graduates Plenty of Jobs

Urbana, Ill., June 13.—[Special.]—A total of 2,039 degrees were conferred at the sixty-seventh annual commencement at the University of Illinois this morning. President Arthur Cutts Willard presented the diplomas. There were 293 advanced degrees.

Prof. Ernest L. Bogart, retiring head of the department of economics, was the speaker. He predicted a future economy of plenty for America, instead of an economy of scarcity, "to solve the problem of unemployment and to raise the standard of living by maximizing the production of commodities and services." Thousands of parents and other relatives of graduates filled George Huff Memorial gymnasium for the ceremonies.

For the graduates, Prof. Bogart wished "what all men desire—enough work to do and strength enough to do your work. Life means progress, but progress involves constant readjustment and the suffering of some," he declared.

He urged "the road of prosperity along the path of work and production, not of idleness, scarcity, and waste. Positive needs and unsatisfied desires provide illimitable scope for service. It is only necessary to direct the energies and skills of those willing to work into appropriate channels."

The speaker predicted future prosperity through "every encouragement to invention and the use of power driven machinery which turns out quantity goods at low prices."

a grandson of the late John Griffiths of Chicago.

McWhinney Wedding Will Be on June 25.

Invitations are out for the wedding on June 25 of Miss Jane McWhinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis A. McWhinney of Highland Park, to David Henry Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zachary Taylor Davis of Chicago. Only relatives and close friends will witness the ceremony, which will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening at Trinity Episcopal church, the Rev. Christoph Keller officiating. A larger reception will follow at the McWhinney home.

Mrs. Edgar Lindley Hoag Jr. of Philadelphia, at whose wedding on June 4 Miss McWhinney was the only attendant, will be the matron of honor. Miss Helen Frances Daniels and Miss Elizabeth Copelin, cousins of the bride, and Miss Mary Louise Taylor, sister of the bridegroom, will be the bridesmaids.

Walter Dillman Monroe Jr. will be the best man. Ushering will be Lawrence C. Davis, brother of the bridegroom; William McCarthy, Arthur B. Horton, Robert B. Godfrey, John F. Norcott, Robert W. Barker, and William C. L. Barker.

Because the date of the wedding was advanced a month most of the parties that were planned for Miss McWhinney and her fiancé will not be given until after they return from their wedding trip. Mr. Davis and his bride will make their home on the near north side.

Mrs. Richard T. Crane Goes to Summer Home.

Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr. left Sunday for her summer home, Castle Hill, at Ipswich, Mass. Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Robinson, already were at Castle Hill and will be there with Mrs. Crane for the summer. Her son Cornelius and his wife are sailing on June 22 for Denmark.

The Clark Lawrence family has started a delightful vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, their 4½ year old daughter, Audrey, Mrs. Lawrence's daughter, Miss Nancy Blaine, and her friend, Miss Emily Harmon [they were debutantes last season], sailed in the Nieuw Amsterdam from New York Saturday. They will be in London for about two weeks and then will motor to Scotland for ten days. Then by boat to Bergen. They will be in Norway, Sweden, and Denmark until the end of July when they will go to Ireland for the famous Dublin Horse show, which starts on Aug. 3.

Mr. Lawrence and Miss Blaine, both expert horsemen, hope to get some stag hunting on Exmoor after the horse show. The party will go to Paris for ten days before sailing on the Columbus, Aug. 28, for home.

Col. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne have taken a house in Montecito, Cal., for the summer and already are occupying it.

Relatives Guests of Theodore Shaws.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Worthington II. of Middletown, Conn., are visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Shaw Jr. of 1130 Lake Shore drive.

Barbara Hixon, daughter of the Robert Hixons of Lake Forest, has returned from school at Farmington, Conn.

Mrs. Sheldon Wardwell of Brookline, Mass., arrived yesterday for a brief visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Keep Hutchins, in Lake Forest.

Mrs. Joy Morton has arrived at home from a trip to Italy and Germany upon which she embarked last September.

Laurence O. Wilson leaves this week to motor east to attend a class reunion at Williams and the graduation of his daughter, Mary Faith, from the Putney school in Vermont.

John E. Baker and his son, John Jr., have left for the Bakers' summer home at Desbarats, Ont. Mrs. Baker will go north this week.

Two Piece Sports Dress

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

True, college days are over until the autumn, but that doesn't mean we can't have "college swing" and collegiate charm in our summertime dresses. For instance, there is the frock illustrated today. It's a two piece affair which may be worn for sports events, informal daytime use, and work.

You can combine artfully any combination of colors, and one of the smartest combinations is a blouse of plain fabric and a skirt of plaid, or vice versa. The original of this frock, however, uses only one color, aqua. The fabric selected was a linen-like cotton, sturdy and crease resistant.

This tubbable model with its snugly fitted little blouse and its "swing" skirt will see you through many a busy day this summer. You can't go wrong if you make it, and you will find that it effects economy, too. The nicest summer frocks always seem to cost more than we care to spend, but by using this pattern you can fashion just the frock you want at minimum expenditure.

Would you like an embroidered motif on the breast pocket? There's a pattern for it, No. E-11012, and it is available for 10 cents extra.

Style No. 2591 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, and 38 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, with one-half yard of 39 inch contrasting.

CLOTILDE PATTERNS ARE 10 CENTS EACH

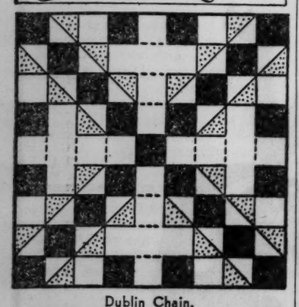
TODAY'S QUILT



Dublin Chain.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Dublin Chain" is one of those large, fascinating pieced blocks which were designed to serve in coverlets as an all-over pattern. It has been variously called "Dublin Square" and "Rocky Road to Dublin," as well as its present name. When it first was made "Dublin Chain" was regarded as an "everyday" quilt, because its purpose was purely utilitarian. Since the variety of pastels is available this block is set together to be used as a coverlet. Thirty pieced blocks are set together and bound with a one-half inch bias binding for border.

Constant 'No' Is Habit with Many Mothers

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Perhaps it was your little boy or girl who told me yesterday that his mother had the "No" habit, and what could he or I possibly do about it. Or at least he would have told me all those things we printed yesterday if he'd been articulate enough to express himself. Perhaps you have the "No" habit without realizing it. At any rate, I promised him I'd take it up with his mother today and see what I could do for him.

One day last week the small child with the "No" habit appeared in the column. But sometimes it's mothers who get the "No" habit themselves and don't realize it. If your baby or your little child seems to be presenting difficulties you can't quite fathom, look at yourself hard and see whether you have gotten into the way of saying "No" to almost everything your small Joan or John wants to do.

These are the few years when your children are constantly with you. They are also constantly in need of watching, for their own physical protection, and more or less, for the preservation of home furnishings in general! In addition, they need much help in learning to live, to form habits, and so forth.

All this leads to our talking a lot, giving directions often when we could let even the small children work things out for themselves, and at the same time interfering with many things they want to do and which are really perfectly legitimate desires. And we find ourselves saying no, no, no, a dozen times a day. When our small son or daughter simply has to be doing something every minute, the effect of these constant no's is very bad.

Try keeping tabs on yourself for a few days, or only one. Have you the "No" habit?

And now keep tabs on yourself in another way. How many of these no's were called for?

I think you'll be surprised, yourself, at the answer. Now, cut them down, these denials. I think you'll be surprised at the result of that, too.

BLAKE ANSWERS

Disinterested Boy Is Hopeless.

"Dear Miss Blake: I like a fellow who, my friends say, doesn't care for girls. I invited him to a party, but he said he couldn't come.

"GIGGLES."

You failed to arouse his interest, so there is nothing more for you to do. Evidently your friend knows the boy better than you think.

Be Companion to Daughter Except on Date

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Mother, mother, give that little girl of yours a chance! Don't tag along every time she is invited out by a boy. You may be as young and gay in spirit as your girl and the boy who invites her out, but in their eyes you belong to an older generation.

Sue reports having such a mother. Sue says her mother is young enough looking and acting to be her sister. She adores her mother, but her boy friends obviously aren't so affected by the older woman. She says she manages to wangle mother in on the movie invitation by telling the boy at the other end of the telephone that she and her mother were going anyway. That leaves no course open but for him to say: "Well, can't we all go?"

Recently, however, the youth whom the 19 year old girl is falling for sent her a note asking if she would take a walk with him. She showed her mother the note and mamma agreed that a walk would be fine if she could go along. Which is where we throw up our hands! Said youth is not a stranger. He is an old school acquaintance, in fact. So why shouldn't the young miss and her man be allowed the harmless form of entertainment of walking together without benefit of eagle-eyed mamma?

We feel that a good many of these leech-parents become so because of their own isolated position. Divorced or widowed, they have closed all doors to the folk of their own generation. They adopt the ridiculous claim that they live only for their girl or girls.

True, we are not urging that you release all disciplinary interest, that you let the girl take everything in her own hands regarding associates and places to go. But you are not on a companionship level with the younger ones. You do not see eye to eye with them, so have a heart and let them learn the only way they will learn, by association with their own generation.

Easy Reducing Exercise: Back Chair Away from Dinner Table

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Do you know what is the best, the surest of results reducing exercise known? Nope—not the bending. Not the kicking or vigorous stretching, good as these are. There's still a better one, one that calls not so much for muscular activity as mental discipline. Can't guess it? Well, it is simply shoving your chair back, getting up and walking briskly away from the table before you feel sated with food. That's all the exercise amounts to.

Takes courage, true, when the chair pushing back operation confronts you at a moment at which a rich peach pie, cream topped, arrives. Aw, that calls for will power, me lassies! But it is adding to what you've already piled up on your plate and not the well chosen plate, that spreads the waist and hipline.

This year you simply must be an outdoor person. To be a correct one, you must get rid of avoirdupois so that you can go corsetless; at least, be stone ribbed foundation free. There's no fun if you've got to be tied down and in securely, with your corset laces pulled in tightly. You want to get that glorious feeling of freedom in slacks or shorts, coupled with the knowledge that you are not a spectacle in them.

So, begin at diner today and don't eat until the waistband feels tight. Eat enough only to give you the feeling of not being imprisoned inside the foundation garment. It's a grand feeling in itself. Gosh, how we women hate that stuffed pigeon bulge, with weight cropping out under arms against which one rubs irritatingly, conscious every moment that it's there and something should be done about it.

Don't cut out all starchy and fattening foods. You need some sugar and fat to keep going even in summertime. But cut down at every meal—one piece of toast at breakfast in place of two or three. One spoonful of sugar in place of two in tea or coffee.

Begin the day with an early glass of water and lemon juice. It helps elimination and lemon juice acts as a stomach astringent. You will not want so much food. Don't drink alcohol at all. Eat bulky vegetables in quantity. Avoid pork products, rich desserts and fried foods. But take some butter. You need it. Never take a second helping of anything. Don't order abundantly or allow an overloaded plate to be put before you. The modest serving will mean slower eating and more pounds gone soon.

Don't nibble! Don't nibble between meals or at end of meals. You can nibble that waistline of yours all out of shape, honest! Don't fill up on breads and rolls before the meal begins. Pounds and pounds have been put on this way. And do your chair pushing exercise conscientiously, determinedly and, who knows, before the beach season is over, you'll be snapped for a rotogravure section!

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

The average bridge player, sitting as spectator behind an expert, often is horrified by the "rash plays" said expert makes. Indeed, it is not unusual for the average player to mutter under his breath: "Expert, my eye!"

Yet, the very plays that cause the horror are apt to be the best plays possible under the circumstances. Consider East's apparent brutality toward his own queen of trumps in the following hand:

East, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

NORTH
♥ K J 5
♦ Q 8 7 4
♣ J 9 6 5 2

WEST
♠ 10 9 5
♥ 10 8 7
♦ J 9 6 3 2
♣ 10 7

EAST

♥ A Q 9 4
♦ K 5
♣ A Q 4 3

SOUTH
♠ A K 8 6 4 2
♥ 6 3 2
♦ A 10
♣ K 8

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 club	2 spades	Pass	2 no trump
Pass	3 spades	Pass	Pass
Pass

East may have had his own reason for bidding a club first, instead of a heart, the more normal bid. South's jump overcall was stretched. He had the requisite three and one-half honor tricks but not the eight sure winners that a jump overcall indicates. North held the bidding open once with two no trump but, when South failed to jump to game, North decided that his own singleton spade was a very bad feature and discreetly retired.

West opened the club ten. Dummy ducked, East won with the ace and returned a low club. Declarer won and laid down the ace and king of trumps. East, after careful thought and with an eye on his partner's nine spot, deliberately played the spade queen underneath the king! He had come to the conclusion that this unblocking play could not cost anything and might be highly profitable. If the jettisoning of the queen cost a trick it would surely be compensated for by the fact that East would avoid being thrown on lead with the queen and forced to make a ruinous return.

As may be seen, East's reasoning was 100 per cent correct. After the unblock of the queen, declarer was helpless. A third spade lead was won by West, who returned the ten of hearts. The jack covered, and East won with the queen. East laid down the club queen, as a safe exit card. Declarer ruffed but eventually had to concede two more tricks, and with them the loss of his contract.

Now let us see what the result would have been if East had hung on to his spade queen. The third round of spades would have thrown East on lead. Then, when East laid down the club queen as an attempted exit, declarer could make him a gracious present, discarding a heart. East then would be forced to a fatal lead. A club would go into dummy's established suit; a diamond would give declarer a free finesse and, finally, a heart lead would confine the defenders to one heart trick. Thus, in all, declarer would have held his loss to two club tricks, a spade and a heart, and fulfilled his contract.

LINDBLOM WINS HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL TITLE

REPORTER FINDS LOUIS IS MAN OF TWO WORDS

Joe Tells All with 'Yes' and 'No.'

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pompton Lakes, N. J., June 13.—Interviewing Joe Louis, heavyweight champion of the world, is a laborious task. Louis is not obstinate; he never has objected to interrogation and examination. Nor, to our knowledge, has he ever criticized the columns of free translation of his statements.

Interviewing Louis is perplexing, because his replies are almost entirely monosyllabic. No matter what conversational bait is used or how carefully and thoroughly the question is phrased to induce thought, Louis invariably disposes of his reply with yes or no.

He's Just a Clam.

Louis always has been reticent; his uncommunicativeness is as natural as the lightning movement of the pliant muscles in his shoulder when he throws a left hook. Many celebrities of sport will respond to a leading question. Others have learned from repeated interviews to say from rote the set expressions indicated by the questioning.

Not so Louis. He always has been the poker faced, retiring young man whose reputation as a cold, ruthless killer was enhanced by his quiet demeanor. We have seen Joe in those moments of disappointment when others would have railed against luck. But he accepted the decision that he was overweight and could not fight Poland's light heavyweight champion in the International Golden Gloves matches of 1934 without a murmur. Others were profane. Louis said nothing.

Nothing Worries Joe.

When Louis fought Carnera, Baer, and Schmeling he approached these engagements calmly. His reserve is so unusual in pugilism, some claim Louis is incapable of emotion. Certainly he offered no excuses after Schmeling had knocked him out, nor has he discussed that defeat to this day.

Now, the sports world would like to know what Joe thinks of his chances against Max Schmeling in the Yankee stadium on June 22. Is he fearful of the German's right hand punch, which hammered him into submission two year ago? Will he falter when he is shut off alone with Schmeling under the blazing lights?

The obvious answer to all these queries is Joe's laconic "No." From that reporters have built their stories. One group, which believes Louis is in character only when distinctly southern in expression and quite ungrammatical, has written:

"Ah ain't afraid of Smellin'. When Ah gets ready this time, Ah'm goin' to punch him right in de mouf and see how he likes that."

Both Styles Will Do.

The other group with the same interview as working base, are prone to expand:

"I am not afraid of Max Schmeling. It is true he whipped me two years ago but this time the German will not face an inexperienced youngster. I will wait for my chance and then I will shoot my right to his chin. There will be another ending to this fight."

Either version of Louis' answer is satisfactory. At no time in this training period has he given the slightest indication he fears Schmeling; nor has he described how he expects to elude the German's right hand.

He is training faithfully, following instructions, and he'll fight Schmeling instinctively and win unless Max slugs him on the chin and befuddles him as completely as he did two years ago.

This fight, more than any other in the modern era of pugilism, will be determined in the ring. It will not follow any prearranged pattern, at least as far as Louis is concerned. The Brown Bomber no longer is an ogre. His vulnerability has been proved, but Louis commands respect of his foes and admiration of his many friends.

Joe Goes to Church.

He is not profane. He attends church, and he reads the Bible. At earlier training camps he frequently posed with his violin, proof of his love for music and the cultural things of life. Louis is happily married.

Here is evidence, carefully nurtured, that Joe is exemplary in habit. Louis has been a worthy counterbalance to Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion who still is persona non grata in Louis' camp.

Louis has no love for fighting. He is not the calculating killer described these several years. He began fighting because he found he could earn sums of which he never dreamed when he drudged in a Detroit automobile plant. He has achieved a fortune.

MAX TAKES IT EASY

Speculator, N. Y., June 13.—(AP)—Max Schmeling took a ten mile workout on the road today but did no boxing in preparation for his attempt to regain the heavyweight title from Joe Louis a week from Wednesday.

BEATS CALUMET NINE, 5 TO 3, ON RALLY IN EIGHTH

Five Runs Score in Big Inning.

Lindblom High school yesterday added the 1938 Chicago Public High school league baseball title to championships won in 1923 and 1928 when its team, runnerup in the central section race, defeated Calumet, which finished second in the south district, 5 to 3, on Shewbridge field.

Held scoreless for seven innings and trailing 1 to 0 going into the eighth, Lindblom combined four singles, a double, and a pair of errors by Broennecke, Calumet shortstop, for five runs and victory.

Pitchers Go Route.

Both starting pitchers, Warren Harder of Lindblom and Jim McGreal of Calumet, went the full nine innings, the former pitching seven scoreless innings after yielding a run in the first, and McGreal being in serious trouble only in Lindblom's big inning. Calumet, which picked up two more runs in the ninth, was held to a total of six hits by Harder.

Calumet's run in the first inning was the result of a single to left by Walsh, his theft of second, and another single to left by Diggins. McGreal protected this lead through seven innings, five of which Lindblom had runners on the bases.

Schumann opened Lindblom's five run eighth with a single. Ksiasczyak beat out a bunt in front of the plate, then Harder singled over second and Schumann came across with the tying run. McGreal struck out Tannaro, but Kuzel shot a long single into left. Ksiasczyak, trying to score on the drive, was out at the plate.

Errors Prove Costly.

The bases were loaded when Broennecke fumbled Esposito's grounder. Higgins doubled to center scoring Harder and Kuzel. Another error by Broennecke let in Esposito and Higgins with the fourth and fifth runs. Broennecke threw out Berent to end the inning.

After Lindblom had gone down in order in the ninth, Calumet filled the bases on two errors and a single by Walsh. Friend struck out and Broennecke forced Frank at home, but McGreal singled to left to score Seidt and Walsh. With the tying runs on the bases, Diggings forced McGreal, Ksiasczyak to Higgins. Score:

Title Timber

Sam Snead, who carded a 67 in practice yesterday, is expected to be a serious contender in the Western open golf tournament opening in St. Louis today.

Ralph Guldahl. Horton Smith.

Two other headliners in the Western open are Ralph Guldahl, bidding for his third consecutive title, and Horton Smith of Oak Park, one of the most consistent of the pros.

Guldahl and 149 Rivals in Western Open

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—Thirty-nine years ago this summer a golf tournament was held on a Chicago course then known as the Glen View Golf and Polo club. It was a thirty-six hole medal play event, winding up in a tie between two gents with the good golfing names of Willie Smith and Laurie Auchterlonie, Willie winning the playoff.

That was the first open championship tournament of the Western Golf association. Tomorrow a field of 150 of the game's leading stars will tee off on a seventy-two hole search for the title in the thirty-eighth renewal of that first show at Glen View. Since then the Western has grown to be the second largest organization in American golf. Its nine charter members, all Chicago clubs, formed the nucleus of a group whose territory now reaches from Buffalo, N. Y., and Memphis, Tenn., to the Pacific coast.

Guldahl Is There.

Heading the regiment of starters at the Westwood Country club tomorrow morning will be a young man who must enjoy playing golf. He is Ralph Guldahl of Madison, N. J., who won the National open crown for the second straight year in Denver Saturday. One reason for the big Texan's toiling 144 holes in the space of a week, as he will have done come the end of Thursday's thirty-six holes, is that he is in a position to bring off a triple in the Western on top of his double in the National.

Arguing the matter out with Guldahl will be a right smart field. Included in it are 1938 Runner-up Horton Smith, Harry Cooper, Jimmy Thomson, Jimmy Hines, Lawson Little, Tony Penna, and Sam Snead. Last year Samuel started out as if he were going to run away with it. Guldahl and Smith eventually overtook him.

Snead Cards a 67.

Snead turned in a 67, four under par, today in a practice round over the Westwood course. Sam collected threes on seven holes. His playing partner was Johnny Bulla of Chicago, who was long off the tees.

Guldahl arrived by train in time for one practice round on the course he helped break in a few years ago as pro at the St. Louis Country club.

DEAN'S DELTOID HEALED, BUT HE NEEDS MORE REST

Cub Star Undergoes New Series of Tests.

Physicians emerged from a conference yesterday with a statement that they could find no evidence of a tear in the pitching muscles of Dizzy Dean, who was forced into idleness with a sore arm soon after the Cubs purchased him from the St. Louis Cardinals for $185,000. Another week of rest was advised.

Dean's trouble originally was diagnosed as a tear in the right deltoid [shoulder] muscle, but Dr. John F. Davis, club physician, recently reported that he believed this injury to be healed.

Yesterday Dean was examined by another physician who asked that his name be withheld. Club officials announced this doctor agreed with Dr. Davis that there was now no muscle injury. Continued rest, massage and heat treatments were prescribed.

May Be an Infection.

Meanwhile Dean is being subjected to a complete examination on the theory that there may be some infection in his system that is causing the arm ailment. His teeth were found to be healthy, but his sinuses are now under suspicion. He reported that he had experienced a nine day attack of sinus trouble at the end of last season. The doctors resorted to sinus draining several days ago and Dean stated that he noticed an improvement following this treatment.

Club officials stated that Dean probably could go in and pitch now. They feel, however, that this would jeopardize his usefullness over a period of years. Dizzy is restless to get back in the game, but the management, with $185,000 tied up in him, is thinking of the 1939 and 1940 seasons.

CUBS OPEN WITH BEES

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., June 13.—The Cubs arrived in Boston tonight, but the arrival didn't include a display of pennant hilarity. For the time being the boys have abandoned all thoughts of how they'll split a world series pot. Losing three in a row to the Champion Giants was enough to make Charley Grimm's troupers appreciate the fact that they won't get their hands on any post-season money unless they remedy some of their present defects. And where is the remedy to be found?

The Giants recently went into a tail spin and lost six straight. They were still floundering when they came to Chicago and dropped the first of a four game series. This put them one and one-half games behind the Cubs. But did it discourage them? Not in the least. They bounced up with victories in the next three games and went away in first place leading by one and one-half games. That's how pennants are won.

Cripple List Heavy.

Along with their grief the Cubs arrived in Boston with quite an assortment of cripples. Gabby Hartnett's left wrist, which was a target for a pitched ball more than a week ago, will keep him idle for several more days. Augie Galan's knee has loosened up only slightly. Frank Demaree, who twisted an ankle in the second game Sunday, probably will not be available for the opener of the four game series with the Bees tomorrow.

For tomorrow's affair the Cubs will use Tex Carleton—who each year adopts them as his cousins. The Cubs probably will draw as an opponent Milburn Shoffner, who beat them here last month but didn't do as well when he attempted to repeat later in Chicago. After finishing in Boston with a scheduled double header on Friday the Cubs will visit Brooklyn, Philadelphia, and New York before returning to their home fire side.

Moline Pitcher Turns In 7 Inning No-Hit Shutout

WHITE SOX FACE THOSE YANKEES WITHOUT A FEAR

Count on Lee Today to Stop Champions.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Yankees, those powerful New York boys who looked so much like discouraged and venerable bloomer girls in competition with the White Sox last week, are in town for a three game series which will open in Comisky park this afternoon. It may be added that they have thrown off the bloomer girl disguise since the Sox left New York, as any Cleveland Indian can attest.

The Yanks were four and one-half games behind the Indians while the Sox were kicking the New Yorkers around in three straight thumpings in two days—8 to 5, 11 to 10, and 10 to 6. But they reached Chicago only a game and a half out of the lead.

Joe's Threat Is Effective.

The New Yorkers started their topward rush in the final game of the White Sox series last Thursday. After the first three Chicago batsmen had scored in the opening inning, Manager Joe McCarthy addressed his protégés, saying: "You'd better start playing some baseball or I'm going to let you see what this place looks like at 10 o'clock every morning."

It seems that the idea Mr. McCarthy wanted to convey was that there would be morning practice if the Yankees didn't improve in zeal and polish. Mr. McCarthy long has known that ball players innately are lazy souls and he knew that a threat of morning practice would horrify the world champions. The Yankees have won continuously since their ever astute boss made that crack.

They Respect Our Sox Now.

By winning three out of four from the Yankees last week the Sox evened the season series with the champions, who previously had won one game in New York and the only one played thus far in Comiskey park. This state of affairs has made the Yankees respectful of the Sox, even though the Chicagoans are entrapped in seventh place in the American league standings. The Sox expect to look at the very best McCarthy has to offer in the way of pitching, starting with Monte Pearson or Spud Chandler this afternoon.

Manager Jimmy Dykes has decided on his pitching assignments for the entire series. Thornton Lee, who won the opener in New York a week ago today, will pitch this afternoon. John Whitehead, possibly with instructions to walk Bill Dickey, will pitch tomorrow. Monty Stratton, the Sox's leading pitcher despite his eight weeks of incapacity, is slated to face the Yanks Thursday.

Knott to Arrive Today.

Jack Knott, right hand pitcher formerly of the Browns, for whom Vice President Harry Grabiner traded Pitcher Bill Cox last Saturday, is due to report to the Sox today and may get a relief assignment in the Yankee series if the Yanks prove to be in a destructive mood anent starting pitchers.

FELLER THINKS HEMSLEY WILL SET HIM RIGHT

Cleveland, O., June 13.—[Special.]—Bob Feller, who lost to the Yankees in the final game of the Indians' eastern trip, was back home today with a sore side and a possible strain of a muscle in his back. Feller has not looked any too good in his last four appearances on the mound.

Feller thinks he will work out of his trouble with the return of Rollie Hemsley as his catcher. Hemsley has been out with a broken finger.

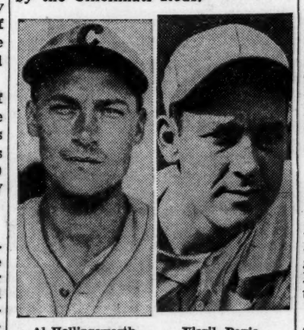
Players in Deal

Bucky Walters, Philadelphia pitcher who was acquired yesterday by the Cincinnati Reds.



Al Hollingsworth. Virgil Davis.

Reds Acquire Bucky Walters from Phils

Cincinnati, O., June 13.—[Special.]—The Cincinnati Reds obtained Pitcher Bucky Walters from the Philadelphia Phillies today in exchange for Pitcher Al Hollingsworth, Catcher Virgil Davis, and a cash payment.

Up to this time, Manager Bill McKechnie has been forced to depend on only three starting pitchers—Paul Derringer, Jim Weaver, and Johnny Vander Meer. These three have been credited with 17 of the Reds' 25 victories this season. One of these victories was the no hit game Vander Meer pitched against the Bees last Saturday.

Walters 28 Years Old.

Walters, who is 28 years old, has been with the Phillies since 1934. He won nine and lost nine in 1935, in 1936 he won 11 and lost 21, and in 1937 he won 14 and lost 15.

Walters got his first chance in the majors as an infielder with the Boston Bees in 1931 after he had spent two years in the minors. The Bees sent him to the Pacific Coast league in 1933 but he was back in the big leagues the next season as an infielder with the Boston Red Sox. The Phillies took him the same year and made a pitcher out of him.

Wins Two Games.

Hollingsworth has won two games for the Reds this season, though he went the full route in only one of these. Last year he won nine and lost fifteen. He came up from Toronto of the International league in 1934.

The release of the veteran Davis will leave Willard Hershberger to do most of the relief catching. Davis was with the Phils from 1928 to 1933, and came to the Reds from the Cardinals in December, 1936.

The Reds and Phillies opened negotiations for the deal last week and completed it only 36 hours before the deadline for trading.

KING AND QUEEN OPEN ASCOT RACE MEETING TODAY,

ASCOT, England, June 13.—(AP)—One of the richest race meetings in the world opens tomorrow when King George and Queen Elizabeth drive through Ascot's golden gates.

In four days of competition before the royal family, the outstanding thoroughbreds in this part of the world will run 28 races with a value of more than $400,000.

The king and queen arrived at Windsor castle from the royal lodge today to greet guests. Each day at 12:30 p. m. they'll leave the castle for the race track. In Windsor forest they'll change to open landaus, each drawn by four gray horses and preceded by outriders dressed in scarlet. If the weather is favorable, there'll be a royal procession along the track daily.

The most valuable race of the week is the Gold Cup on Thursday. The winner will get over $37,500 with $7,500 going to second and $3,750 to third. The $25,000 Coronation stakes, Wednesday, is the second richest race on the program.

TRAINER KEARNS BROADCASTS BIG RACE DAY AHEAD

Doubt Not Makes Seer of Master.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Frank Kearns, trainer of Warren Wright's racing stable, was interviewed on W-G-N Sunday night by Bob Elson. Elson asked:

"Mr. Kearns, are you running any horses at Lincoln Fields tomorrow?"

"Yes," Kearns replied. "A 2 year old by the name of Doubt Not; and there is no doubt about him winning the race, either."

Yesterday the gray son of Burgoo King-Doubtful Hours ran the fastest five furlongs of the Chicago season, even though the track was slightly off, and won by five lengths.

Doubt Not was making his third start. He won the first by eight lengths on a muddy track. He came back a few days later and ran second to Yale o' Nine. Had Jocky Irving Anderson given him a little more encouragement yesterday Doubt Not would have run away and hidden from his seven rivals.

Viragin Falls Back.

Viragin, a fast running son of Ariel-Aquittal, but not nearly as speedy as Doubt Not, finished second. He made the pace for a time, but when Doubt Not turned it on around the last bend, Viragin was soundly spanked. Naadja, stablemate of the Kentucky Derby winner, Lawrin, showed some speed in the late stages to finish third. The others were always beaten.

The radio tip must have had wide circulation, because there was $13,977 wagered on Doubt Not to win, place and show. The total betting on the race was $21,950. Doubt Not, while paying dividends, did not make anybody independently wealthy. He returned $2.80 to win, $2.20 to place, and $2.20 to show. At one time he was 1 to 9.

Those Tony Pelleteri silks of New Orleans, so prominent in Chicago racing for the last half dozen years, but almost forgotten this year because they have been absent so long from the winner's circle, finally came back into their own during the afternoon.

Startling and Molly Fly Win.

They were carried to victory in the first two races. Startling, owned by Pelleteri, and M. L. Emerick of Chicago, won the opening six furlongs race after encountering a lot of bad luck. He was the favorite in the betting. Molly Fly, carrying the turf banner of Mrs. Pelleteri, began her racing career by beating eleven other 2 year olds in the five furlong second race. She flew to the front at the start and stayed there until the finish.

The best race on the program was the mile dash, which came sixth. Millie M., from LeMar Stock farm in Kentucky, was the winner by a length and a half from Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Mars Shield. Bel Espoir, owned by Mrs. E. K. Weil of Lake Forest, was third.

Millie M.'s mile in 1:38 2-5 was an excellent performance. She turned back one challenger after another. The last bid for the lead was made by Mars Shield and it was a stout effort, but not quite good enough despite Jocky A. Robertson's fine riding. Mars Shield was the favorite. Millie M. paid $8.20.

Henry Knight of Chicago, who maintains the Almahurst Breeding farm near Lexington, Ky., returned from the Blue Grass country yesterday and was at Lincoln Fields during the afternoon.

Last year he leased the sire Sun Teddy from Warren Wright. He says the Sun Teddy colts are the finest in all of Kentucky.

Time, :23 3-5, :47 3-5, 1:13 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Startling, $5.20 straight, $3.60 place, $3.40 show; Chief Menteur, $6.80 place, $5.20 show; Just Arrived, $9.80 show. Winner trained by J. Hodgins. Went to post at 2:16. At post 3 minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same.

STARTLING, much the best and away fast, was taken under good restraint after a quarter, suffered sharp interference from JUST ARRIVED after having started to rally to pressure in the stretch; recovered quickly and going to the inside in the final eighth, closed boldly to win drawing out. CHIEF MENTEUR, rushed into command on the inside, continued to draw away on the turn and stood vigorous riding gamely the last eighth but was not good enough. JUST ARRIVED, racing improved, raced wide after the first quarter, improved his position gradually until the final eighth, where he faltered after having bumped STARTLING.

SECOND RACE—Five furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 3-5, :48 2-5, 1:01 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Molly Fly, $7.40 straight, $4.40 place, $4.60 show; Master Mort, $4.20 place, $3.40 show; Miss Shirley C, $27.40 show. Winner trained by J. Hodgins. Went to post at 2:48½. At post 3½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

MOLLY FLY, making her first start and away fast, opened up a clear advantage under brisk riding, was occasionally shaken up the last five-sixteenths, but had something left. MASTER MORT went prominently from the start, saved ground much of the way and, holding on well, stalled off MISS SHIRLEY C. Later, also a sharp factor from the start, raced wide but held on with determination.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $125; third, $50; fourth, $25. Daily double, 2d and 3d races, paid $33.20.

Time, :23 3-5, :47 3-5, 1:13 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Mohac $9.60 straight, $5.40 place, $4.60 show; Naderis, $4.40 place, $3.20 show; Evil Eye, $10.00 show. Winner trained by L. Copenhaver. Went to post at 3:21. At post 5½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

MOHAC, never far back and on the inside for a half mile, came with a rush after swinging to the outside in the stretch and won well in hand. MADERIS, taken under light restraint after failing to outrun EVIL EYE went resolutely under mild urging the final quarter. EVIL EYE had speed from the start, swerved in the stretch and weakened in the last eighth.

FOURTH RACE—Five furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 2-5, :47 3-5, 1:00 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Doubt Not, $2.80 straight, $2.20 place, $2.20 show; Viragin, $3.20 place, $2.60 show; Naadja, $7.20 show. Winner trained by F. J. Kearns. Went to post at 3:54. At post 3½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

DOUBT NOT forced the pace under a steadying hold, took command quickly with fine response to only mild pressure and was racing easily the entire final eighth. VIRAGIN was under energetic riding from the start, readily submitted to the winner's challenge but held on well to hold the others safe. NAADJA, slow to begin, worked her way up on the inside and withstood the rush of JAMES.

FIFTH RACE—Seven furlongs out of chute. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $300; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 2-5, :47 2-5, 1:13 1-5, 1:26 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Madison, $14.80 straight, $6.60 place, $5.00 show; Bustle, $3.00 place, $2.60 show; Sly Gal, $20.20 show. Winner trained by R. A. Kindred. Went to post at 4:23½. At post 3 minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

MADISON, raced to the lead gradually while securing room on the inside, came away when roused and won easily. BUSTLE, fractious at the post but away well, was inclined to bear out throughout, drifted beyond the middle of the track through the stretch, yet held on well to the last fifty yards, where she weakened. SLY GAL, away fast but unable to hold the advantage, was slow to respond but rallied in the final eighth and was rapidly wearing down BUSTLE.

SIXTH RACE—One mile. Allowances. Three year olds and up. Purse $1,300. Net value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 2-5, :47 2-5, 1:12 2-5, 1:38 2-5. Track good. Two dollar mutuels paid: Millie M, $8.20 straight, $3.40 place, $3.40 show; Mars Shield, $3.00 place, $3.00 show; Bel Espoir, $6.40 show. Winner trained by A. G. Woodman. Went to post at 4:51½. At post 1½ minutes. Start good. Won handily; place driving.

MILLIE M. rated along under steady reserve while making the early pace, swerved out slightly before responding after reaching the stretch and continuing in resolute fashion following another brisk rousing inside the final eighth, held MARS SHIELD safe to win handily. The latter, nicely in hand for three-quarters and saving ground where possible, responded to good pressure after coming out in the stretch and quickly disposed of BEL ESPOIR in the last eighth but was held safe by the winner. BEL ESPOIR, strongly restrained while racing on the outside the first five-eighths, made a bid when called upon but faltered after seven-eighths.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :24 2-5, :48 2-5, 1:14, 1:40, 1:46 4-5. Track good. Two dollar mutuels paid: Her Reigh, $51.20 straight $25.40 place, $6.80 show; Mark Me, $8.80 place, $5.40 show; Barbara A, $2.80 show. Winner trained by G. R. Allen. Went to post at 5:17½. Off at once. Start good. Won driving; place same.

HER REIGH in hand for about three-quarters, was placed to strong hand riding thereafter and holding on well while racing between horses, got up as MARK ME and BARBARA A weakened. MARK ME followed the pace under restraint, rallied when called upon but weakened in the closing stages. BARBARA A made the pace under good rating, was sharply roused entering the stretch and held on fairly well but was not good enough.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $900. Net value to winner, $675; second, $140; third, $60; fourth, $25.

Time, :24 2-5, :48 4-5, 1:14 3-5, 1:40 3-5, 1:47. Track good. Two dollar mutuels paid: Mama Lula, $10.60 straight, $5.40 place, $4.20 show; Zevar, $4.00 place, $3.00 show; Bar Play, $5.80 show. Winner trained by J. R. Burnett. Went to post at 5:44. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won driving; place same.

MAMA LULA, slow to settle into good stride, began to improve her position after reaching the back stretch, was on the outside in the drive and strongly handled, outstayed ZEVAR. The latter worked his way up between horses on the second turn, was on the inside in the stretch and held on with good courage to the end. BAR PLAY, in hand for three-quarters, went gamely to the last sixteenth before weakening.

PATTY BERG'S 79 WINS WESTERN WOMEN'S MEDAL

Loses Two Strokes on 9th Hole Penalty.

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 13.—[Special.]—Patty Berg, 20 years old Minneapolis golfer, found the Broadmoor course a comparatively easy one today as she won the medal in the ninth annual Women's Western Open tournament with an eighteen hole qualifying round of 79, two strokes over women's par.

Miss Berg, who won the Trans-Mississippi championship Saturday in Tulsa, Okla., was two strokes ahead of the field. She missed even par because of a two stroke penalty on the ninth hole when her ball struck the pin from within twenty yards of the cup. She had 41 going out and 38, one under par, coming back.

Helen Hofman Has 81.

In second place was Helen Hofman, Salt Lake City, twice winner of the Utah championship. She carded 43—38—81. Mrs. Helen Hicks Harb of Little Rock, Ark., defending champion, qualified for tomorrow's first round of match play with an 82. Mildred [Babe] Didrikson, Beaumont, Tex., posted 83. Mrs. Harb and Miss Didrikson are the only professionals in the tournament.

Shirley Ann Johnson of Sunset Ridge topped the Chicago contingent with 84. Mrs. Cpal S. Hill of Kansas City also had an 84, as did Mrs. Hayes Dansingburg ot Rochester, Minn., a former Minnesota champion. Phyllis Buchanan of Denver who has won the Colorado title three times, qualified with 86. Beatrice Barrett, of Minneapolis, who lost to Mrs. Harb at Beverly, Chicago, last year in the Western open finals, had 88.

Other Chicago Qualifiers.

Bernice Wall, Glen Oak; Marie Louise Gardner, Indian Hill; Mrs. Lillian Zech, Tam O'Shanter; Mrs. W. W. Haerther, Onwentsia; Mrs. Don Hamilton, Beverly; Mrs. John W. Taylor, Evanston; Louise Willard, Exmoor, and Elizabeth Paine, Evanston, were the other Chicago district players who qualified. Miss Paine won a place in a playoff. The qualifying limit was 108.

First round pairings in the championship flight tomorrow, with qualifying scores:

Patty Berg [79], Minneapolis, vs. Mrs. Lillian Zech [95], Chicago.
Beatrice Barrett [88], Minneapolis, vs. Francis G. Richie[104], Denver.
Shirley Ann Johnson [84], Chicago, vs. Mrs. Don Hamilton [101], Chicago.
Marie Louise Gardner [92], Chicago, vs. Mrs. W. J. Jennings [107], Salt Lake City.
Helen Hofman [81], Salt Lake City, vs. Mrs. W. W. Haerther [97], Chicago.
Mrs. B. A. Romadka [89], Rochester, Minn., vs. Mrs. John W. Taylor [104], Chicago.
Bernice Wall [92], Chicago, vs. Louise Willard [106], Chicago.
Babe Didrikson [83], Beaumont, Tex., vs. Mrs. Frederick B. Shaw [100], Denver.
Phyllis Buchanan [86], Denver, vs. Margaret J. Kinerk [101], South Bend, Ind.
Mrs. Tom Wallace [93], Sapulpa, Okla., vs. Elizabeth Paine [108], Chicago.
Mrs. Opal S. Hill [84], Kansas City, vs. Mrs. M. L. Gose [100], Colorado Springs.
Mrs. Helen Hicks Harb [82], Little Rock, Ark., vs. Mrs. C. M. Severns [99], Tulsa, Okla.
Mrs. Hayes Dansingburg [84], Rochester, Minn., vs. Iva Mae Pilcher [101], Mexico, Mo.
Mrs. Charles Newbold [86], Wichita, Kas., vs. Mrs. A. M. Morris [103], Denver.
Mrs. E. R. Hury [89], San Antonio, Tex., vs. Rhoda Bollinger [105], Littleton, Colo.
Betty Botterill [89], Salt Lake City, vs. Mrs. J. S. Brown Jr. [105], Denver.

Elmer Fumes, but Girls Have a Ball Game

Tarz Dangelo, a pudgy girl of 13, pushed the curls back from her sunburned face, gave a hitch to her faded long blue pants and side-armed a fast one. One of the Peppers hit it, but it was a popup, and Evelyn [The Ripper] Keneipp, 15, caught it, with two girls on base.

This was just a sample of the added zest with which the Olyve Oils played last night on their home lot at 7044 Indiana avenue. Almost 500 spectators, young and old, watched tensely. Judge Samuel B. Heller, standing behind the umpire, appeared judicial. He grinned broadly as Rene Hannah, shortstop, caught two line drives in succession.

Elmer Is Disgusted.

Two persons within earshot did not enjoy the game, however. Adjacent to the lot, at 7042 Indiana avenue, Elmer H. Stageman, owner of a two-flat building, and his wife, conferred mournfully with their lawyer. Complaining that both boys and girls broke his windows with home run balls, he had caused the arrest of the assistant manager of the Olyve Oils, Roger Gress, 28, of 115 East 70th street.

Judge Heller dismissed a disorderly conduct charge against Gress when Edward L. Burchard, executive secretary of the Chicago recreation commission, said there were few recreation spots in the neighborhood. He ordered that hereafter no boys over 15 years old use the lot, and that any team wishing to play there gain permission from the commission, which would arrange adequate supervision.

Judge Promises Supervision.

"But what about our game with the Peppers tonight?" wailed Rene Hannah, who was in court with her entire team.

"I'll supervise it myself," said the judge. "I'm for you if you win.

The Peppers wore the prettiest suits, snappy dark red shorts and blouses, but they lost, 9 to 5, to the grim Olyve Oils in their nondescript sweat shirts and old pants.

"I don't know what I'm going to do, but I'm going to talk to Chief Justice Sonsteby about it tomorrow. And for all his publicity Judge Heller won't get many votes from this neighborhood, I'll bet," Stageman, an accountant with a steel company, declared after the game as he stood in his immaculately kept house.

"Those boisterous girls are as bad as the boys, the way they hit balls," he said.

CLARK STOPPED BY ZALE IN 8TH; PALLATIN WINS

Fight Decisions

At Marigold Gardens—Tony Zale stopped Jimmy Clark [8]; Tommy Pallatin beat Tommy Howell [8]; Sammy Sferas beat Lou Laurie [4]; Eddie Lander beat Sonny Batson [4]; Martin O'Gradney beat Norman Roth [4].
At Pittsburgh, Pa.—Charley Burley beat Fritzie Zivic [10].
At Toronto, Ont.—Small Montana beat Pancho Villa [10].
At Des Moines, Ia.—Johnny Paychek beat Charlie Belanger [10].
At Miami, Fla.—Jack Moran and Percy Watson drew [9].
At Asheville, N. C.—Steve Dudas knocked out Young Jack Moran [4].
At Wheeling, W. Va.—Lloyd Pine beat Chief Baby Miller [10].

Tony Zale, Gary middleweight, stopped Jimmy Clark of Jamestown, N. Y., in the final round of a scheduled eight round contest in Marigold Gardens outdoor arena last night. The triumph avenged a previous knockout by Clark.

A crowd of 1,799 paid $2,067 to see the fight.

After flooring Clark twice in the first round, Zale was losing until the seventh, when he dropped his foe on the ropes. In the next round Zale floored his colored opponent twice more and Referee Norman McGarity stopped the bout. The time was 1 minute, 34 seconds.

Sferas, Lander Win.

Tommy Pallatin, South Bend, Ind., lightweight, defeated Tommy Howell of Danville, Ill., in the eight round semi final. It was Pallatin's twelfth straight victory.

Sammy Sferas, Chicago featherweight, dealt Lou Laurie of Cleveland his second loss in eleven bouts in a four round preliminary. Sferas, who at 127 pounds had a seven pound advantage, floored Laurie in the third round.

Eddie Lander, Franklin Park 125 pounder, conquered Sonny Batson and Martin O'Gradney whipped Norman Roth in other four round bouts.

Max Marek, 1933 Chicago Golden Gloves light heavyweight champion, yesterday ended training for his ten round bout with Buddy Knox in Sparta stadium tomorrow.

After the workout Marek was confident.

"How about this fellow Knox?" he was asked. "What do you expect to do with him."

"Knox? Who is he? I never heard of him," he replied.

Four matches of eight rounds each have been arranged by Co-Promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun for Marigold Gardens next Monday. Varias Milling meets William Miller, Tony Petroskey faces Verne Patterson, Harvey Woods battles Johnny Helstrom, and George Van Der Hayden opposes Willie Joyce. . . . The first of a series of wrestling shows will be held in Peg's arena in Round Lake Friday. . . . Davey Day has been ordered to go through with a contracted contest with Nick Camarata, New Orleans, La., lightweight, within three weeks in Marigold or face suspension in Illinois. . . .

Bull Curley II. meets King Kong in a supporting match to the wrestling headliner involving Jim Londos and Hans Schnable in Rainbo Fronton tomorrow. . . . Jimmy O'Malley, Golden Gloves and National A. A. U. welterweight titleholder, worked out yesterday in preparation for the international bouts between amateur boxers from the C. Y. O. and Ireland in Soldiers' field on July 13. . . . A team of Chicago amateurs will box in Dubuque, Ia., Thursday. The team includes Al Noto, Frank Basone, Joe O'Connell, Al Kainrath, Savior Canadeo, Mike Sanchez, Harry Henderson, and Ed O'Connell. . . . Charley Lucas, representing Sydney Stadium, Limited, in Australia, passed through Chicago yesterday en route to New York, where he will negotiate for the services of Glen Lee, Allen Matthews, and Gus Lesnevich, all middleweights. . . . Pat McGill will wrestle Abie Kaplan in Marigold Gardens Friday. . . . F. M.

Green's Giants Beat House of David Nine, 8-4

Eight Games on Tonight's Softball Card

Eight games are scheduled tonight in three leagues of the Grant Park Softball association, which is sponsored by the Chicago parks district.

The Mechanical Department team and Ruddy's District Office will play for second place in the Pullman Building league. Each has won three games and lost one to date. The undefeated Property Department team, which leads the league with four victories, meets the Superintendent of Car Service outfit, which has won only one game in four starts.

Others Play Thursday.

In the First National Bank league the In Mail team, in a percentage tie for first place with the unbeaten Coupons, meets the Office Boosters. The In Mails have won their only start. Coupons have three victories.

None of the leaders in the Commonwealth Edison company league will be in action tonight, although two games are scheduled. The remainder of the teams in the league will meet Thursday evening.

Four Teams Unbeaten.

Four teams, Treasury No. 1, Engineering, Customer Accounts, and Meter Clerical, are unbeaten in this league, the Treasury No. 1 team having won three games and the remainder two.

Tonight's schedule:

First National Bank League.

Tellers Transfer vs. Trust Safekeeping.
Officers Boosters vs. In Mail.
Out Clearing vs. Trust Securities.

CARDINALS WIN, 6-4.

Scranton, Pa., June 13.—(AP)—A homer by Johnny Mize with two on in the seventh gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 6 to 4 victory today over the Scranton Miners.

Senators Recall Wasdell; Bonura Will Be Benched

Washington, D. C., June 13.—(AP)—Baseball's outstanding spring deal—Zeke Bonura for Joe Kuhel—today appeared as one of the biggest busts of the year.

Bonura—traded by the Chicago White Sox to the Senators—is hitting .229. Last year his percentage was .345.

Kuhel—traded by the Senators to the White Sox—is batting .205. Last season his record was .283.

Zeke—batting in the cleanup rôle—has driven in but 39 runs. And Kuhel has knocked in but four.

But now look what's happened:

Rip Radcliff, an outfielder, is playing first base for Chicago and Kuhel's out of the lineup.

Washington has recalled rookie Jimmy Wasdell from Indianapolis to play first base when right handers are hurling against the Senators. Zeke will sit on the bench.

Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, knew he was sacrificing fielding for hitting when he traded Kuhel for Bonura. If Bonura had hit he would have been satisfied.

"It's the best deal I've made in 50 years of baseball," he said in the spring when he made the trade.

Today he looked out of his office window when Zeke's name was mentioned and changed the subject to Rookie Wasdell.

"He can field," said Griffith pointedly, "and he'll hit—extra base hits too. And—he can run."

The recall of Wasdell has raised the eyebrows of the Washington fans. They're asking one another:

Bears, Cards Open Race in Soldiers' Field

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

The Bears and Cardinals, who closed their regular season last fall in the light of bonfires kindled in the bleachers in Wrigley field, will open the season with a resumption of their nineteen year old rivalry under lights in Soldiers' field on the night of Sunday, Sept. 11.

Decision to move the opening game from Wrigley field, the home gridiron of both teams, enables the Bears and Cardinals to open Chicago's professional season earlier than ever before. It will be the first time the old rivals have begun the championship race against each other.

Use Tribune Lighting System.

The game will be played under the same lighting system which THE TRIBUNE will install in Soldiers' field for the fifth annual All-Star game between the College All-Americans and the Washington Redskins, champions of the National Football league, on Aug. 31.

Previously the possibility that the Cubs might qualify for the world series or meet the White Sox in the city series has prevented the Bears and Cardinals from moving into Wrigley field until late in October. Consequently the opening of the professional season in Chicago has been four and five weeks later than anywhere else in the league.

Start Training Early in August.

Under this arrangement it was necessary for the two Chicago teams to play several games on the road, quite often bringing them down to their home town debut beaten or tied.

Both teams will begin training early in August, the Bears returning to St. Johns Military academy in Delavan, Wis., where they have trained for the last four years, and the Cardinals going to St. Viator college in Bourbonnais, Ill.

Coach Milan Creghton returned to the city last week from the University of Arkansas, where he has been doing graduate work, and immediately began signing players.

Uncle's War Has No Interest for Golfer Franco

St. Louis, Mo., June 13.—(AP)—While his uncle concentrates on a military argument over control of Spain, Joe Franco of Winnetka, Ill., is worrying about his tee shots and putting. Joe, American-born freshman at Northwestern university in Evanston, is here to play in the western open starting tomorrow.

Joe and his pal, Sid Richardson of Creston, Ia., twice Big Ten conference golf champion, promised the pros a battle.

Joe's never seen Gen. Francisco Franco, the insurgent leader, and has never been to Spain. What's more, he'd "rather be over here than over there."

PROBABLE MAJOR LEAGUE PITCHERS IN TODAY'S GAME

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Probable pitchers for tomorrow's major league games and their won and lost records:

Cincinnati at Brooklyn—Davis [2-3] vs. Pressnell [4-5].
St. Louis at Philadelphia—Henshaw [2-1] vs. Sivess [1-1].

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

New York at Chicago—Pearson [3-3] or Chandler [4-1] vs. Lee [2-3].
Boston at St. Louis—Grove [10-1] vs. Newsom [7-2].
Philadelphia at Detroit—Nelson [5-1] vs. Kennedy [9-1].
Washington at Cleveland—Chase [2-3] vs. Humphries [2-0].

J. P. I. DANCE TOMORROW.

The physical education department of the J. P. I., will conduct its annual summer dance on the roof garden of the Jewish People's institute, 3500 Douglas boulevard, tomorrow night.

Murphy Boys Reach Chicago Tennis Final

The Murphy family made sure of retaining the men's city singles tennis championship when Bill and Chester defeated the Shostrom boys, John and Charlie, in the semi-finals of the annual tournament yesterday at the Beverly Hills tennis club.

Chester Murphy, the defending champion, defeated Charles Shostrom, 3-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0, 6-0, and Bill Murphy beat John Shostrom, 3-6, 6-8, 6-0, 6-1.

Play For Title Today.

The Murphys will play for the championship this afternoon. They were finalists last year.

Catherine Wolf won the women's singles title by turning back Catherine Malcolm without the loss of a game. Jimmy Evert won the boy's championship by beating Gardner Larned, 5-7, 6-1, 6-3, and John Jergensen took the junior title by defeating Larned, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Murphys Win Doubles.

The Murphys won the doubles championship when they defeated Max Davidson and Seymour Greenberg in a five sets. The scores were, 6-1, 2-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Athletics Beat Dodgers, 14-7, in Exhibition Game

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 13.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics scored a 14 to 7 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in an exhibition game today. Brooklyn landed on Edgar Smith for three runs in the first. A five run outburst in the fourth and six runs in the ninth clinched the game for the A's. Score:

Philadelphia	000	500	216	14	15	0
Brooklyn	300	102	001	7	11	2

SMELT HOOKED OFF WAUKEGAN BY LAKE ANGLERS

Move Into Shallow Water After Spawning.

BY BOB BECKER.

The Lake Michigan smelt have arrived along the Illinois shoreline north of Chicago. When we visited the Waukegan harbor last week to get a boat for our lake trout trolling trip we found scores of cane pole fishermen sitting on the pier fishing for both perch and smelt.

Talking with Joe Eustace, one of the rod and line fisherman, and Henry W. Smith, a commercial fisherman who brings in lake trout, chubs, perch and other fish, we learned that the smelt came in some weeks ago following their spawning season. They now are staying close to the shoreline, making it possible for some of the boys to get them with hook and line.

Food Probably Holds Them.

How long the fish will remain along the shore is not known and on what the smelt are feeding so close to shore and why they are staying in shallow water are two more questions that the boys couldn't answer. Apparently there is some source of food [possibly lots of tiny minnows] on the sandy beaches that keeps the smelt from going back into deeper water. Ordinarily they return to deep water after spawning in April.

The silvery little smelt that we saw in Waukegan the other day were the first that we have noticed this far down on the west shore of Lake Michigan. Apparently they are extending their range southward just as they have kept running farther north to streams flowing into Lake Michigan. The boys fishing from the pier at Waukegan with hook and line were using a small, number 10 herring hook. Small minnows seemed to be the best bait.

Chubs, Not Smelt.

For two successive springs we have checked up on reported smelt runs up little streams near our home in Lake Bluff.

Just a few weeks ago a report reached us that one of the boys in the village had pulled out a bucketful of the fish. We immediately hunted up both the boy and the fish. Instead of smelt, the fish proved to be lake chubs from five to seven inches long. These fish come out of Lake Michigan, work their way over a shallow bar at the mouth of a narrow creek, and then ascend the stream to spawn.

SIX BROWN SWISS DAIRY SHOWS TO BE HELD IN STATE

List Parish Competitions for Next Week.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Brown Swiss dairy cattle breeders will start the parish type of show in Illinois this year, beginning with six different competitions next week. A one day show will be held in each place with competition open only to breeders within the district. All are open to the public.

The first will be held at H. H. Mooberry's farm near Peoria Monday, June 20. The others will be held as follows: Tuscola CCC camp, June 21; Kankakee, June 22; Freeport, June 23; Pontiac, June 24, and Sycamore, June 25. Ribbons will be awarded to the best exhibits.

Sponsored by Two Groups.

The parish shows are sponsored by the Illinois Brown Swiss Breeders' association, and the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' association, Beloit, Wis. Fred S. Idtse, field man for the national organization, says that their purpose is to aid breeders in improving herds, to encourage the development of the breed, to give breeders an understanding of the best types of Brown Swiss cattle, and to create community and district interest.

Ulrich Beusch, Swiss consul with offices in Chicago, will be guest of honor at the Sycamore show, the last of the Brown Swiss parish exhibitions. This was announced by Porter Fox, secretary of the district association covering the north counties.

Dr. J. W. Ovitz of Sycamore is president of the association and general manager of the Sycamore show, which will be open to Brown Swiss breeders in Boone, McHenry, Lake, Cook, Kane, De Kalb, and Du Page counties.

U. of I. Professors Are Judges.

The six shows will be judged by Prof. C. S. Rhode and Prof. G. E. Cash of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois. Dairy cattle judging contests for members of farm boys' clubs and for adults will be features of all the shows.

Animals receiving the highest awards in the district shows will be taken to the Illinois State fair at Springfield this fall. Upon entering the district shows breeders agree to exhibit their winning animals in the state Brown Swiss competition.

INDUSTRY URGED TO TELL HOW IT BENEFITS PUBLIC

Advertisers Advised to Aid Movement.

Detroit, Mich., June 13.—[Special.]—American industry should tell the people of this nation how much it is contributing to their welfare, Edward F. McGrady, former assistant secretary of labor, said here today at the annual convention of the Advertising Federation of America. McGrady resigned from the labor department to become director of labor relations for the Radio Corporation of America.

Edward F. McGrady.

His speech was one of the highlights of the convention, which included a message from President Roosevelt telling the advertising men that he recognized the importance of their service, and remarks by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, who said that the Bible contains evidence that religion recognizes advertising.

Makes Big Contribution.

McGrady declared that American industry has made a great contribution to humanity and that it should adopt the methods of labor unions to acquaint the public with its position.

"Industry in this country pays more wages to the workers than is received by all the workers in all the European countries," said McGrady, who was known as a "trouble shooter" for the department of labor. "It has created for our people a purchasing power that is greater than that of a billion and a half persons in all the countries of Europe and Asia.

"Every one of our industries has a great story of achievement to tell. It involves such things as the number of workers employed by those who supply raw materials. One industry may employ 100,000 workers, yet the production of raw materials and their transportation may provide work for twice that number.

"Another, and very important, part of the story is that American industry is not owned by a few reactionaries. The actual ownership is widely distributed.

Securities Held by 10 Million.

"It is estimated that in 1934 more than ten million Americans owned stocks and bonds of industry and, through the insurance companies, between 30 and 40 millions were the indirect owners of corporate business securities. Moreover, the principal income of endowment funds of colleges, churches, hospitals, and foundations comes from the same source."

McGrady told the advertising men they should sell to industry the idea of letting advertising help in spreading these facts.

In his message to the convention President Roosevelt said that he recognized the important position the service of advertising occupies in the nation's national economy, "a strategic relationship that carries responsibility for the endeavor to maintain production through wider and more efficient distribution of the goods produced."

Asks Spread of Buying Power.

"To this end," he continued, "your convention theme, 'advertising makes work,' is of great significance. Recovery will be accelerated and human happiness promoted in proportion to the spread of purchasing power through the employment of the greatest possible number of our workers in gainful pursuits.

"Certainly, if advertising is to render the maximum of constructive service, it is fundamental that truth be the watchword and that every claim be supported by the highest standard of business ethics. I believe that the leaders in this field sense their opportunity for promoting social and economic progress through trustworthy service."

Father Coughlin told the delegates that publicity, motivated by true religious principles, can save this country "from the storms of revolution, destruction, and chaos."

William A. Thomson, director of the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, told the Newspaper Advertising Executives' association, meeting in conjunction with the federation, that "we have nothing of greater value to offer reader and advertiser than that four letter word—news."

Abitibi Bond Group Loses Appeal in Canadian Court

TORONTO, Ont., June 13.—[Special.]—The appeal of the Abitibi Power and Paper company bondholders' representative committee against the decision of Justice McTague in the Ontario Supreme court dismissing the trustees' motion for approval of a reorganization plan today was dismissed by the Court of Appeals. The decision dismissed the motion of the trustees for the bonds of the company seeking approval of a plan of reorganization under the Ontario judicature act as propounded by the Ripley committee.

Industrial Opening

DeKalb, Illinois, an industrial city 60 miles from Chicago, offers to industries seeking a midwestern location an excellent opportunity to secure experienced factory workers of the contented, home owning type, perfect shipping facilities, ideal factory sites, and desirable quarters. DeKalb Chamber of Commerce will furnish complete information.

Federal Laws on Investment Trusts Sought

Washington, D. C., June 13.—(AP)—The Securities and Exchange commission began today a campaign for federal regulation of investment trusts and companies.

Sending to congress the first part of its report on a three year investigation of investment trusts, the commission said the formation of such companies had been "materially facilitated by the virtual absence of statutory restraint or governmental regulation or supervision."

Commissioner Robert E. Healy, in charge of the investigation, said the specific recommendations of the commission would not be disclosed until the next session of congress. Today's report was confined to stating the purposes and methods of the investigation and giving a brief history of investment trusts.

Investment Trusts Defined.

Investment trusts or companies were defined as firms in which more than one-half of the assets, except cash and governmental securities, consisted of securities of other companies.

The report stated that only about forty investment companies were formed in the United States prior to 1921, and that the investment trust movement got under way with formation of about 120 more companies from 1921 to 1927.

By 1936 a total of 1,272 companies had been formed, but only 559 survived bankruptcy, consolidations, and other causes of dissolution. A selected group of twenty-two companies which failed after the 1929 crash was said by the commission to have lost 510 million dollars of the 560 million dollars invested in them.

Wide Fluctuations Told.

In 1929, the report said, the market value of assets in investment companies totaled about 7 billion dollars, which shrank to 2 billion 800 million dollars in 1932, rose to 3 billion 700 million dollars in 1935, jumped to 4½ billion in 1936, and fell back to about 3 billion 700 million dollars in 1937. About 1,500,000 investors were estimated to hold securities of investment companies.

Detailed statistics will be made available by the commission in about two weeks. Public hearings will be concluded about July 15.

U. S. OWNS 80,000 HOMES AS RESULT OF HOLC LOANS

Washington, D. C., June 13.—(AP)—After five years as a home mortgage lender, the government owns nearly 80,000 dwellings. About half of these were acquired through foreclosure in the last year.

The Home Owners' Loan corporation, which entered the real estate business in 1933 to save homes threatened with foreclosure in the depression, is five years old today. It loaned more than 3 billion dollars to 1,000,000 home owners from June, 1933, through June, 1936.

HOLC attachés said fewer foreclosures have occurred recently.

About 30,000 borrowers have repaid loans in full; about 750,000 are making "satisfactory" payments; 115,000 are still making payments "that cause us to have hope"; and about 33,000 have repayment records indicating a "doubtful outcome."

CLOTHING UNION HEAD ASKS WPA TO BUY SURPLUS

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, said today he had asked the Works Progress administration to buy about 10 million dollars worth of clothing to rid the market of a huge surplus.

"With the present surplus gone the manufacturers would gain confidence, buy new stocks, and put people to work," he asserted.

Schiff Company Reports May Sales Under Year Ago

The Schiff company, Cleveland, O., reported that May sales were $1,080,543, or 18.3 per cent less than the $1,323,167 for May, 1937. April business showed a gain of 21 per cent from last year, because of Easter trade that came in March last year, but its five month total of $4,460,157 sales was 9.6 per cent less than the aggregate of $4,935,047 in the first five months of 1937.

New Car Sales in 14 States Below Month and Year Ago

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—New passenger car registrations for fourteen states in May totaled 32,988, a decrease of 9.85 per cent from April, R. L. Polk & Co. reported today. The same states had 68,068 registrations in May, 1937. On basis of figure for the fourteen states Polk estimates total May sales for the United States at 177,000.

United Air Lines Reports Trafic Gain Over Year Ago

An 8 per cent increase in trafic during May over its coast-to-coast and Seattle-San Diego airways, compared with the same month a year ago, was reported yesterday by the United Air Lines. The company has established new summer schedules to accommodate vacationers.

ROOSEVELT GETS BILL FOR 55 MILLION ACRE WHEAT CROP IN 1939

Washington, D. C., June 13.—(AP)—Congress sent to the White House tonight a bill to relax restrictions on the planting of the 1939 wheat crop.

The bill fixes the maximum amount of wheat which could be planted under the crop control act at 55,000,000 acres. Agricultural adjustment administration experts said that without the amendment the crop control law would hold the total acreage down to betweeen 44,000,000 and 50,000,000.

The senate approved the measure without discussion but Representatives Case [R., S. D.] and Lamneck [D., O.] delayed house approval.

Case blocked on Friday a similar bill pegging the 1939 acreage at 52,000,000. He contended that the legislation should differentiate between soft and hard wheat. He withdrew his objections today.

Lamneck, who originally objected to the measure later withdrew his objection, but told the house:

"This proves our farm program hasn't worked in practice. I still think the agricultural program is a cockeyed proposition, but I'm going to withdraw my opposition."

MENGEL COMPANY ORDERS DECLINE FROM YEAR AGO

The Mengel company, Louisville, Ky., container and lumber manufacturer, booked only $402,160 worth of business last month, 39.9 per cent less than in May, 1937, bringing its total for the first five months this year to $2,648,916, or 44.2 per cent less than the $4,746,047 aggregate for the first five months last year.

Billings amounted to $494,149 in May, or 46.9 per cent less than the $930,039 in the corresponding month last year. Total billings for the first five months this year were $2,526,330, a decline of 47.2 per cent from the $4,785,897 total a year ago.

Mountain States Power company reported higher gross operating revenues and net income in the 12 months to April 30 than in the preceding 12 months. With gross rising to $4,165,500 from $3,781,406, net income increased to $424,710 from $284,261.

APPROVE POWER FIRM'S SALE TO KNOXVILLE, TVA

Knoxville, Tenn., June 13.—(AP)—Directors of the Tennessee Public Service company today approved the purchase of its lines by the city of Knoxville and the TVA. The Knoxville city council will meet tomorrow to vote authorization of signature.

Under the contract, the city and TVA will pay $8,035,000 for the properties instead of the previously announced price of $7,900,000. The city will pay $5,483,500 and the TVA $2,551,500. The city's part of the price is $108,500 higher than that originally given.

Stockholders of Tennessee Public Service company and National Power and Light, its parent company, still must vote their approval.

Growing Losses Reported by More Roads for April

2 Roads Begin Fast Eastern Run Tomorrow

Streamlined passenger train service between Chicago and New York on a sixteen hour schedule—half an hour faster than at present—will be started tomorrow by the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads with their Twentieth Century and Broadway Limited. This will be the fastest regular train service in history between America's two largest cities.

H. E. Newcomet receives plaque for service.

Under the sixteen hour schedule a Chicago business man will be able to spend the larger part of his day in his own office, board a train in the late afternoon, be in New York for the start of the next business day, board a train early in the evening and be back in Chicago on the morning of the second day.

New Schedules Explained.

The Twentieth Century will leave Chicago at 4 p. m., Chicago daylight saving time, and arrive in New York at 9 a. m. New York daylight saving time. Westbound it will leave New York at 6 p. m. and arrive in Chicago at 9 a. m. The Broadway will leave Chicago at 4:30 p. m. and arrive in New York at 9:30 a. m. Westbound it will leave New York at 6 p. m. and reach Chicago at 9 a. m.

Because the distance traversed by the New York Central is longer than that traveled by the Pennsylvania, the Twentieth Century will make the run at a higher average speed. The Century will do its 960 miles at an average speed of 60 miles an hour and the Broadway will do its 910 miles at an average of 56⅞ miles an hour.

Sleepers of 3ed Room Type.

These new trains will have sleepers of the all bedroom type. There will be no open sections in the Pullmans. Both trains are products of the Chicago shops of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company.

Mayor Kelly yesterday congratulated the builders of the trains and the two railroads over which they will run at a ceremony in his office. Plaques commemorating the sixteen hour service were presented by the mayor to H. E. Newcomet, vice president of the Pennsylvania; W. F. Schaff, vice president of the New York Central; Charles A. Liddle, president of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, and to David A. Crawford, president of the Pullman company.

Pennsylvania Crude Oil Price Cut to 5 Year Low

Oil City, Pa., June 13.—(AP)—Prices of all grades of Pennsylvania crude oil were reduced 25 cents a barrel today to the lowest level since July 17, 1933. The new prices: Bradford, $1.80; Penzoil B grade, $1.73; Southwest, $1.46; Eureka, $1.40; Buckeye, $1.30.

Bankers' Acceptances Dip to Lowest Level in Years

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Bankers' dollar acceptances dropped to $268,096,573 in May, the lowest level in recent years and $10,609,367 less than at the end of April, the Federal Reserve bank reported today. The decrease for the year was $117,697,394.

TRADE IN STOCKS SO DULL THAT NOT EVEN A BEAR WAS STIRRING

New York, June 13.—(AP)—There may have been bears in the stock exchange today, but for the first time in memory of veteran traders none turned up to borrow stock to complete "short" sales.

When a bear sells stock he doesn't own, in the hope of buying it back at a lower price, he or his broker borrows the amount of stock he sells, in the "loan crowd" which meets on the floor at the end of the day. This borrowed stock is then delivered to the buyer to whom the bear sold. When the bear buys stock to cover his short sale later on, he repays the loan of stock.

But today there was no new business when the loan crowd met. Under the latest rule regarding short selling, no short sale may be made in any stock unless it is at a price at least ⅛ higher than the preceding transaction. Brokers said that in a dull, sagging market, such as today's, short sales would have been difficult.

CHECKS CASHED SHOW INCREASE; TREND REVERSED

Reversing the recent trend, the use of checks showed an increase in the week ended June 8, according to the weekly report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago on debits to individual deposit accounts of banks in the 7th federal reserve district. The report, which usually is made on Saturdays, will be made on Mondays during the summer.

The total reported by the Chicago reserve bank was $1,124,154,000, an increase of 21.3 per cent from the preceding week and a gain of 1.8 per cent compared with the corresponding week of last year. The gain was attributed mainly to recent large financing operations, including the federal treasury's June 15 refunding.

Chicago debits for the week ended June 8 totaled $710,121,000, compared with $619,418,000 in the week ended June 9, 1937.

BROKERAGE FIRM PARTNER ADMITS BLUE SKY CHARGE

Morton Weil, accused along with six other partners and former partners of the brokerage firm of Marks, Laser & Co., 231 South La Salle street, of violating the blue sky laws, yesterday appeared in County court to change his not guilty plea to guilty.

Judge Albert Isley of Newton, sitting here, deferred action on the plea until June 29.

Assistant State's Attorney Nathan Kinnally also appeared to dismiss charges against thirteen employés of the company against whom similar charges have been brought. He explained out of court that this action was taken because Weil, in changing his plea, had accepted responsibility for any illegal acts.

Investment Trust "Loot" Quiz Adjourned by SEC

New York, June 13.—(AP)—The Securities and Exchange commission's investigation of seven investment trusts was adjourned indefinitly today because of the illness of C. K. Reynolds, president of the Reynolds Investing company. The Reynolds firm is one of seven taken over by a group of promoters, six of whom have been indicted in New York county. District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey charged the men looted the trusts' portfolios of marketable securities, substituting worthless ones.

DELAY EXPECTED IN REORGANIZING 2 EASTERN RAILS

Doubt on Earnings Balks Plans.

Postponement of reorganization plans of two large eastern railroads was indicated yesterday, because of the impossibility of estimating future earnings.

In Washington, D. C., Harvey H. Wilkinson, an examiner for the interstate commerce commission, refused to approve any of the five proposed plans to reorganize the New York, New Haven, and Hartford railroad, and in New York, reliable sources in financial circles reported that the Erie railroad, whose new plan is due July 17, would ask for an extension of several months.

Tells New Haven's Plight.

Examiner Wilkinson, in commenting on the New Haven's plight, said: "The present chaotic condition of the principal debtor's revenues are such that it is impossible at this time to estimate reasonably the future level of its earnings, and without this it is impracticable to formulate a plan of reorganization which would be fair to all parties."

Each of the five plans, the examiner said, is based on the assumption that there will be available at least $13,485,274 annually for payment of fixed charges. He said such a prediction was not waranted on the basis of past earnings.

"It is true," he added, "that the commission may approve a plan different from any which has been proposed."

Banks Offer One Plan.

The five plans submitted so far were those by the road itself, an independent bondholders' committee, a group of insurance companies, a group of savings banks, and other interests with investments in the road.

The New Haven filed a petition for reorganization under section 77B of the federal bankruptcy act Oct. 23, 1935. The petition was approved by a federal court, which gave the road permission to operate its properties pending decision on a revamped plan of capitalization.

The examiner's report showed that the number of passengers carried on the road declined from a record high of 107,505,000 in 1920 to a low of 29,029,000 in 1933, and recovered to 34,551,000 in 1936. Passenger revenues in 1936 totaled $24,996,101, against $52,590,628 in 1920. Freight revenues slumped from $75,002,396 in 1927 to $44,880,649 in 1936.

Extension Is Expected.

An extension of time for presentation of a new Erie plan is expected because the present business outlook is too clouded to permit accurate estimates for future earnings, which would be used in reaching a recapitalization agreement acceptable to all classes of security holders. It was reported there are not enough reliable earnings data to permit determination as to how much of a reduction should be made in annual fixed charges which total about $14,500,000. The road went into bankruptcy last February, when, with the recession bringing falling revenues the parent road, Chesapeake and Ohio, refused to guarantee a proposed $6,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and the RFC would not lend without the guarantee.

WAGE-HOUR BILL HIT BY ILLINOIS MANUFACTURERS

The Illinois Manufacturers' association, in a letter to Illinois senators and representatives in Washington, asserted yesterday that the proposed wage and hour bill would further depress and discourage manufacturing enterprise.

The statement said the minimum wage and maximum hour bill was a "program which contemplates the entrance by the government upon a road which will necessarily and inevitably involve efforts to control production and prices."

"There are few, if any, manufacturing industries in this state which will immediately be affected by this bill insofar as the wage and hour features are concerned," it added.

Britain Will Offer New Loan for Defense Today

LONDON, June 13.—(AP)—The British treasury today announced that the government would advertise an £80,000,000 [$400,000,000] 3 per cent national defense loan tomorrow. The issue, part of a borrowing program announced last year to finance rearmament, will be redeemable in 1958, or four years earlier at the treasury's option. The issue price will be 98.

Grain Futures Trading Limit Asked by CEA

Washington, D. C., June 13.—(AP)—The commodity exchange administration proposed today to limit speculative trading in grain futures.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said the limitations would not become effective until approved by the commodity exchange commission and this would not be until after July 10, when the time for filing exceptions expires.

Limits would be fixed both on the net amount of futures which might be held by any one person and on the amount of trading any individual may do in a business day. There are no limits at present.

Plan 2 Million Bushel Limit.

A 2,000,000 bushel limit was proposed for net long, or short, positions, except during the delivery month, when the limit would be 1,000,000 bushels. A spread position between markets or between futures of the same grain would be permitted up to 3,000,000 bushels.

Daily trading limits would correspond to those on net holdings, except that a person whose net position did not change more than 200,000 bushels during a business day could make daily purchases or sales up to 3,000,000 bushels.

Wallace said the proposed order would apply to wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley and flaxseed. It would not apply to bona fide hedging transactions.

SEE LITTLE EFFECT IN CHICAGO.

Chicago grain men last night said that the limitations on speculative grain trading proposed by Secretary Wallace will have practically no effect on grain trading here under present restricted market conditions. Few speculative accounts, they said, approach the limitations.

Hearings in regard to the proposed limitations were held before representatives of the Commodity Exchange administration here last December and a decision had been expected throughout the spring months. Those who would be affected by the restrictions have had ample time to prepare, grain men said.

Government witnesses at the hearings here had proposed limitations similar to those asked by Secretary Wallace. Chicago Board of Trade men suggested that the limitation be made 5,000,000 bushels so that liquidity of the market would not be hampered during heavy trading.

PLEA FOR HUPP RECEIVERSHIP IS DENIED BY COURT

Detroit, Mich., June 13.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Allan Campbell today dismissed a suit for appointment of a receiver for the Hupp Motor Car company. The suit was filed by a stockholder whose name was not disclosed.

James E. Frazer, attorney for the petitioner, said he would file an amended bill of complaint, alleging improper actions by directors of the company. He said his client owns 3,900 shares of Hupp stock.

A. W. Sempliner, attorney for the company, told Judge Campbell that creditors of the firm had agreed to take no action to force payment of claims providing the management made reasonable efforts to raise funds.

PLANT TO MAKE SMOKELESS FUEL FROM SOFT COAL

East St. Louis, Ill., June 13.—(AP)—Plans for the erection of a $1,000,000 fuel plant here to convert southern Illinois soft coal into a smokeless fuel resembling coke were announced today by a St. Louis investment house representing the incorporators.

Names of officers of the new company, to be known as the Midwest Smokeless Fuel corporation, were not made public.

Board of Education Calls Tax Warants for Payment

James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, yesterday called for payment 1937 school tax warants totaling $1,782,000. The warants are numbered, E-7202 to E-7601; B-4766 to B-5138, and P-195 to P-211. Interest on the warants will cease June 17.

Lawyer Resigns SEC Post to Resume Private Practice

New York, June 13.—[Special.]—Jacob Gruber, assistant general counsel to the Securities and Exchange commission, announced today that he has resigned, effective Aug. 1, when he will resume the private practice of law.

TREASURY CHIEF DENIES RUMORS OF DEVALUATION

Says He and Envoy Discussed No Pact.

Washington, D. C., une 13.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau denied today that he has had any "contact" with Joseph P. Kennedy, American ambassador to Great Britain, concerning a devaluation agreement about which rumors have spread in New York and London.

Sec. Morgenthau.

Questioned about the recent antics of the dollar, which declined in foreign exchange transactions last week amid persistent reports that President Roosevelt was planning steps toward inflation, Morgenthau deprecated devaluation talk.

Morgenthau View on Rumors.

"There are so many people who can start these rumors and make money on them that I guess they will just go on," the secretary said at a press conference. "Last year it took the President and myself a month to convince people that we weren't going to drop the price of gold. Finally we convinced them that we meant what we said."

"But things have changed," a questioner protested, to which the secretary replied:

"Yes, but the price of the gold hasn't."

Morgenthau said he had not had time to investigate the source of the current rumors. Pressed for a more detailed statement concerning the gossip about a devaluation agreement, he would say only:

"Having had no contact with Mr. Kennedy on that subject, I can't go beyond that statement."

Viewed as Blow at Speculators.

Observers interpreted his remarks about people who make money out of rumors as a statement aimed at speculators in currencies whose profits from the drop in the dollar admittedly have been the target of the secret stabilization fund operations. Use of this government fund to stabilize the dollar acts as a curb on the profits of the speculators. The dollar rallied somewhat yesterday.

Morgenthau discussed other matters at the conference, and the day brought these treasury developments:

1. The secretary made the enigmatic remark that Undersecretary Roswell Magill will have a formal statement on his future position in the treasury when he returns from his vacation July 5.

Record Low Rate on Bills.

2. It was announced tonight that the lowest interest rate on record for a treasury bill offering of $100,000,000 was received on the issue sold today, the average rate being 0.027 per cent, compared with 0.040 per cent on the first of the new series sold last week. The treasury accepted $100,701,000 of the $415,110,000 applied for, taking 30 per cent of the amount bid at the low price.

3. The treasury said holders of treasury notes maturing in June and September, for which an exchange offer was made last week, will receive in exchange $918,849,600 of new 2¾ per cent 20 to 25 year bonds and $267,781,600 of new 1⅛ per cent five year treasury notes. All but $27,841,700 of the $1,214,472,900 of notes for which the treasury offered to swap the new issues were submitted for exchange by holders. The notes maturing June 15 bear 2⅞ per cent and those maturing Sept. 15 bear 2½ per cent.

Dollar Rallies Against Most European Moneys

The United States dollar yesterday regained some of its losses of last week against major European currencies. The British pound was forced down ¼ cent to close at $4.97, and French francs were off 0.00 1-16 cent at 2.78 11-16 cents. The Belgium belga lost 0.02 cent and the Swiss franc 0.01 cent. There were no engagements abroad for shipment of gold to New York yesterday.

"Convenient" Bond Buying

We have set up special facilities for those who prefer to come in and buy bonds on their own initiative. Also, for local and out-of-town bond investors, we provide a service by mail, quite as satisfactory as dealing in person. Either way, the investor's needs are studied and experienced counsel given without extra service charge.

These facilities are especially suited to occasional bond buyers who may be without dependable sources of investment information—and for those who buy bonds in moderate amounts as funds accrue. Full information will be sent with Security Record book mentioned below.

THIS CONVENIENT SECURITY RECORD will often save trips to your safe deposit vault. Quickly provides essential information concerning your investment holdings—amount, maturity, interest or dividend dates, prices, when and where purchased or sold, taxable status, etc.—in handy loose leaf form. A copy will be sent without obligation, upon request, together with details of above plan for convenient bond buying. Write for Security Record book CT-6.

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 13.—Stock market prices continued to seek lower levels today with volume of trading again on a par with the slow sessions of 1922. An easier tone developed soon after the opening and prices moved narrowly but progressively lower to close generally at the day's lows. Sporadic rallying attempts in the afternoon proved futile.

Losses in the favorites ranged from fractions to around 2 points, with volatile issues declining 3 and 4 points in thin markets. The total turnover was 326,890 shares.

Many traders maintained their sideline positions, according to brokers, inasmuch as there were few new developments to lure them. The Washington picture was considered virtually unchanged, although the likelihood of adjournment of congress on Wednesday was held to be a favorable implication.

Although losses were distributed throughout the list, pivotal industrial stocks were the chief losers. Steels were paced by United States Steel and Bethlehem, off ¾ and 1¾ points, respectively.

In the motors, Chrysler was the most actively traded issue of the day and slumped 1½ points. General Motors, also active, lost 1 point.

Aviation issues were moderately active and registered losses running to 2 points. This appeared against Douglas, which was most active in the group. Boeing was off 1¼ points.

Washington reports dashing hopes that there would be carrier aid legislation at this session of congress depressed the carrier group, although losses were mostly of a fractional nature.

Volatile issues, such as Allied Chemical and du Pont in the chemicals and International Harvester in the farm equipments, incurred losses running to 3 points.

New York Bonds.

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Although trading was desultory, scattered offerings, especially in medium and lower grade rails, were enough to depress the bond market today. Utilities held steady. Industrials and foreign dollar liens were down slightly. United States governments were uneven, with longer maturity treasuries lower and shorter term obligations gaining as a sequel to last week's financing operation. Changes ranged from 4-32d point decline to 3-32 increase.

Although higher grade rail issues held fairly steady, medium and secondary groups lost ground. New York Central convertible 4s dropped 3⅞, Burlington 4½s and Atlanta and Chattanooga Air Line 5s each dipped 4 points. Northern Pacific 4s lost 3⅜.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks slumped yesterday as trading in most issues except Commonwealth Edison rights continued at a listless pace. The rights, which made up 94,000 of the day's volume of 105,000 shares, sold in a range of 23 to 20 cents, closing at the low, off 4 cents. Friday's volume was 59,000 shares, of which 49,100 were Edison rights.

THE TRIBUNE average of twenty stocks finished yesterday at 8.05, off 0.07 from Saturday. Thirty-five of the sixty issues traded declined, eleven advanced, and fourteen were unchanged.

Rollins Hosiery, the most actively traded stock, finished unchanged at 1⅛ on sales of 1,150 shares. Middle West dropped ⅛ to 5½ on a turnover of 1,000 shares. Cities Service closed at 8, down ⅝, and Armour slipped ¼ to finish at 4⅞.

Bank Stocks.

Quotations on Chicago bank stocks declined 50 cents to $5 a share yesterday. Continental Illinois eased 50 cents to $54 bid, $55.50 asked. First National declined $2 a share to $162 bid, $165 asked. Harris Trust and Savings was off $3 at $260 bid, $275 asked. Northern Trust shares slipped to $490 bid, $505 asked. City National stock declined $2 to $123 bid, 127 asked. American National and Chicago Title and Trust also were steady.

VICTOR CHEMICAL CUTS DIVIDEND TO 15 CENTS SHARE

Columbia Pictures Will Pay in Stock.

Victor Chemical Works, a leading manufacturer of phosphoric acid and phosphates, with offices in Chicago, reduced its dividend yesterday for the second time this year. The company will pay 15 cents a share on June 30, compared with 20 cents March 31, and 30 cents last Dec. 22. A total of $1.12½ was paid on the stock during 1937.

Columbia Pictures corporation directors declared a 2½ per cent stock dividend payable Sept. 16, but omitted the cash dividend normally payable July 1. The company paid $1 regular and 50 cents extra in cash as well as 5 per cent in stock during 1937. This year's cash payments were 25 cents each in January and April. Cash instead of stock will be paid on fractional shares Sept. 16, the amount being based on the bid price on the New York Stock exchange on Sept. 12.

Votes 25 Cents Special.

A special dividend of 25 cents a share will be paid along with the 12½ cent quarterly disbursement of Automatic Voting Machine corporation on July 1. A special for the same amount was paid a year ago. The company paid a total of $1 during 1937, including another 25 cent extra Oct. 1.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting company declared a 50 cent extra and the 50 cent semi-annual dividend payable July 15. The company paid $1 extra a year ago and brought total disbursements for 1937 to $3.50 with an extra of $1.50 Dec. 31.

Among the companies declaring usual dividends were United Fruit company, Endicott Johnson corporation, and Lerner Stores corporation.

Steel Production to Show Slight Increase This Week

Operations in the steel industry are scheduled at 27.1 per cent of capacity this week, according to estimates made yesterday by the American Iron and Steel institute. This represents a gain of 0.9 of 1 point from the institute's figure a week earlier, and compares with estimates of Iron Age last Wednesday that mills were running at only 25 per cent, the same as its estimate a week earlier.

The slight gain scheduled this week after mill activity reached its low for the year during and after the Memorial day week-end leaves operations still below the operating rate of 30.7 per cent a month ago.

Rate 76.6 Pct. a Year Ago.

A year ago the industry was running at 76.6 per cent of capacity despite the strike at leading independent producers. This was one-half point better than in the preceding week. The rate was 70 per cent in the corresponding week of 1936.

The Bethlehem Steel corporation has taken orders for almost 15,000 tons of structural steel in the last ten days, including 8,800 tons for the government printing office. U. S. Steel subsidiaries have taken orders for about 6,000 tons recently, including 2,425 tons for Union Pacific railroad bridges.

Big Scrap Sale to Europe.

More than 350,000 tons of steel making scrap have been sold to the European scrap cartel by a group of American brokers. This is the largest deal of its kind in months, although the price was only $10 a ton for No. 1 heavy melting steel and $8.50 for No. 2. This is about $5 a ton less than was paid by foreign interests last fall and contrasts with prices of $18.50 to $19 for No. 1 a year ago, when foreigners had difficulty in obtaining scrap in America.

Although there are few signs of improvement in steel or scrap demand, some large scrap dealers said supplies are small, both in mill yards and in dealers hands, so that any reversal in business trends would bring a quick recovery in scrap prices.

Wheat Consumption.

By contrast with the wide fluctuations in production the consumption of wheat in the United States has been fairly constant over the last twenty years. Per capita consumption [including grain used for seed and fed to animals] has ranged from 4.3 to 5.4 bushels over the period.

The following table shows total domestic consumption and per capita consumption by year [July 1 to June 30] since 1919:

†Latest official figures.

Between 80 and 95 million bushels a year is used for seed. Normally, 50 to 60 million bushels are used for animal feed. In years of bumper crops and low prices the amount fed to animals is greater, the total reaching a record figure of 157 million bushels in 1931-'32. The variations in use for feed account largely for the fluctuations in total domestic consumption.

BUSINESS IN U. S. SHRINKS FASTER THAN IN CANADA

Dominion Bank Cites Indices in April.

TORONTO, June 13.—[Special.]—Business in the United States continued in April to slump at a faster rate than in Canada, according to today's monthly report by the bank of Nova Scotia on the trend of business in the two countries.

Based on changes in industrial production, revenue car loadings and employment in manufactures during April, the report said, "conditions in the United States showed a further definite recession, while business in Canada experienced a slight net decline." The indices also indicated a much larger drop in the United States than in Canada during the year from April, 1937, to April, 1938.

Business Indices Compared.

The following table compares the three indices for April and March this year, and April, 1937. [Seasonally adjusted, the indices are those of the federal reserve board for this country, and of the Dominion bureau of statistics for Canada, with the 1925-'29 average equal to 100]:

Employment in Manufactures.

	Apr., 1938.	Mar., 1938.	Apr., 1937.
United States	78.7	81.1	101.1
Canada	107.4	108.6	108.9
Industrial Production.
United States	70.3	72.1	107.7
Canada	107.9	102.0	119.2
Revenue Carloadings.
United States	54.6	57.5	80.5
Canada	72.6	74.4	81.2

The bank pointed out that the United States loss in April, compared with March, was considerably larger than Canada's in employment and car loadings.

Industrial Production Rises.

In Canada, industrial production increased sharply because gains in mineral output and constructional activity more than offset falling activity in textile and newsprint industries, according to the report.

April, this year marked the first time "in several years," the summary pointed out, that each of the three indices in Canada was lower than in the corresponding month of the preceding year. Employment, however, was down only 1.5 per cent from a year before, against a drop of 22 per cent for the United States.

WHEAT SLUMPS; CROP ESTIMATES MORE CHEERFUL

Recent Sharp Rise Causes Profit Taking.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

Closing prices on the July delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .78	$ .79¼	$1.07⅝
Corn	.57⅛	.58½	1.13⅛
Oats	.26½	.26⅞	.38⅜
Rye	.53¾	.55⅛	.70⅝
Soy beans	.87½	.88	1.38

Wheat prices slumped 1¼ to 2 cents a bushel in moderate trading on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday as professional traders and others took profits made during the sharp advance last week. Other grains also closed lower.

The desire to take profits was stimulated by the fact that crop reports from the winter wheat belt generally were not as pessimistic as late last week. More favorable harvesting weather prevailed in some sections and receipts of grain at southwestern terminal points were larger. Crop experts, however, continued to assert that April frosts and also rust in certain areas had sharply reduced the excellent yields expected a few weeks ago.

Offerings Check Rallies.

After opening about a cent lower, wheat contracts recovered somewhat on buying by millers, exporters and a few outside speculators. That advance and subsequent rallies were checked, however, by ample offerings. July contracts at their best reached the Saturday close.

Moderate strength was imparted to Chicago dealings at times by the relatively better showing made by outside markets.

Continued good shipping business was reported in the cash wheat market. Sales by shippers totaled 150,000 bushels, including some carryover business from Saturday.

Corn Futures Decline.

Hedging pressure resulting from liberal bookings of corn in the country for shipment to Chicago forced corn futures down 1¼ to 1½ cents a bushel. Bookings of corn to arrive totaled approximately 417,000 bushels, bringing the total for the last two market days to more than 700,000 bushels.

Oats dipped ⅜ to ⅞ cent a bushel, extreme losses being reduced partly by a sharp upturn at the close. Rye, following the lead of wheat, dipped 1⅞ to 2¼ cents a bushel.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Another rise in the market for hogs yesterday carried the top price to $8.30, the highest point since March 25. The new peak was paid during the early part of the session on a 5 to 20 cents bulge of the market. There was a reaction later, and most of the gains were rubbed out, with the average for the day only 5 cents higher, at $8.25.

Light receipts and a recovery in wholesale markets for fresh pork, which sold as much as 50 cents above last week's closing prices, stimulated early activity in the trade.

Some of the best-lungfed steers sold slightly higher, and the limited supply of common steers also maintained a steady basis. [All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

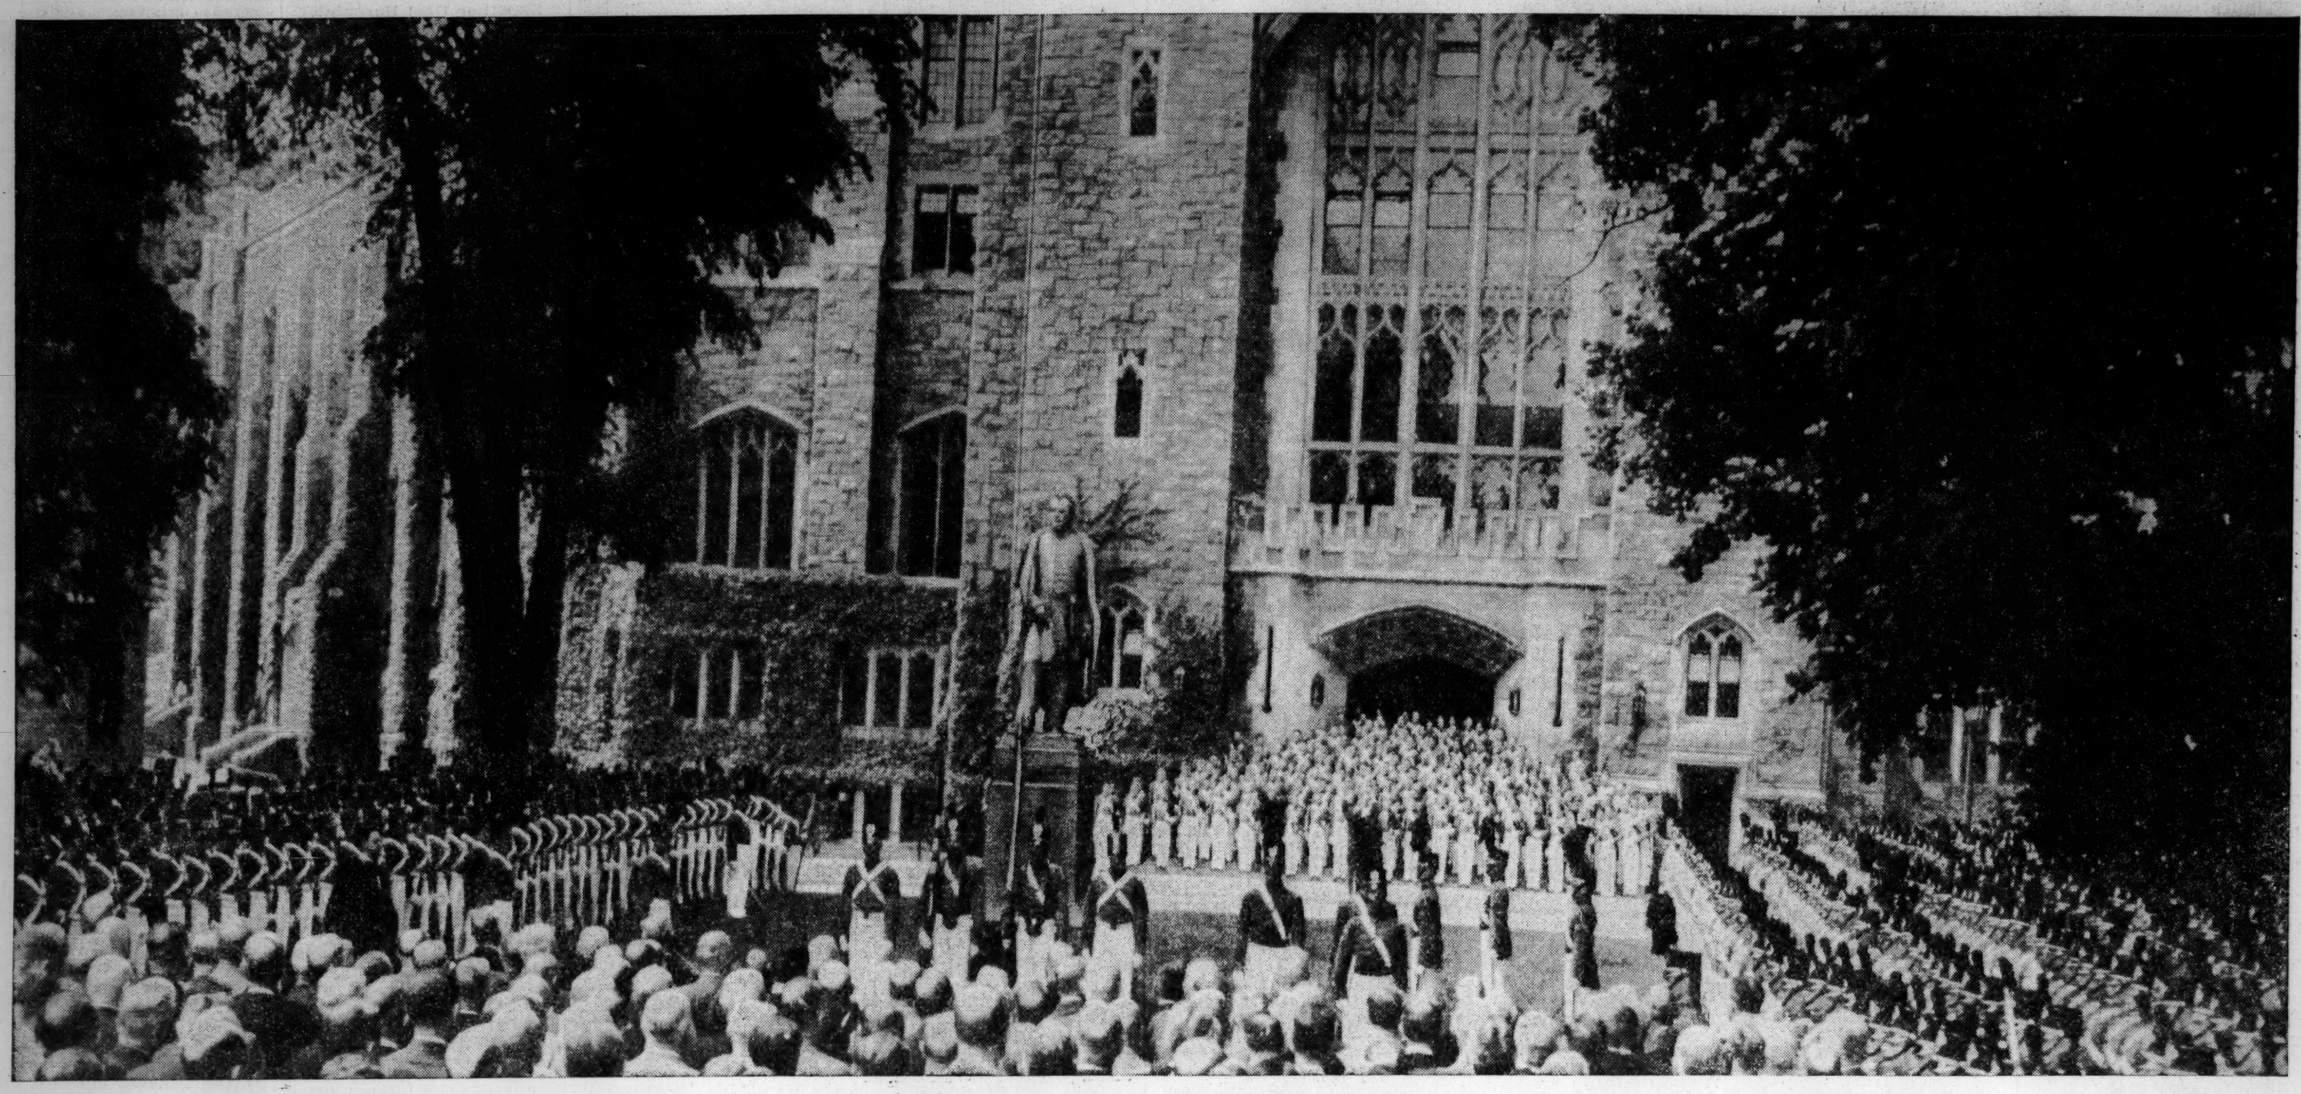
United States Builds Giant Gun for Coastal Defense—New Fortress for Government Silver Completed



The cadet corps of the United States Military academy on review at Thayer monument, West Point, N. Y., for alumni yesterday. This is part of the colorful ceremonies of "June week," which will be concluded with graduation exercises this morning. Part of the alumni are in the foreground. Recognition of the plebe class followed this review. The graduation ball was held last night, and today 301 members of the graduating class will bid farewell to the school.
